Letters to the Editor

Disciplining in Schools
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
We read so much complaint in the newspapers about the defective school system, and the teachers who come in for the blame. As a teacher I wish to defend my profession and say that I believe the reason why there is so much defect is because the powers of the teacher are so much curtailed.

Philadelphia's Quiet Sunday
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
About eight months ago several articles appeared in the Philadelphia papers relative to the quiet Sunday. It has since become a habit of the city to have a quiet Sunday. It is a habit that has been adopted by the city and is a habit that is well to be maintained.

One Language, One People
