Former Comptroller Tells Congressional Committee of Accounting System

GRAVE ABUSES REVEALED

By the Associated Press New York, Jan. 19 .- Accounting methods for the fund of more than $3,000,000,000 handled by the shipping board were described here today by Colonel E. H. Abadie, former general comptroller of the board, in testimony comptroller of the board, in testimony before the Walsh committee investigating shipping board accounts.

The witness said $215,796,000 was due the board on November 1, 1916, in uncollected accounts and of this sum more than $2,000,000 was due from foreign governments. Difficulties in collection, he said, were enhanced by fallure to have proper supporting does. ure to have proper supporting docu-ments to substantiate claims. The first balance sheet of the shipping board. Colonel Abadie declared, was made early in December, 1919.

Certified public accountants he said, in reports to the chairman of the board, disclosed, among other items, that the New York office has charged on its books "material and supplies" valued at $497,000 with no inventory to reconstitute the charges on to show what the Pennsylvania Railroad forces of employes will be further cut to conform with the order of November last to "retrench in operating expenses."
