

CUPID'S DARTS FIND HEARTS OF KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS

"One's Eyes Dazzled Looking at Sparklers in Round of Schools," Says Assistant Director—Ranks Almost Depleted

War work and child labor have had their effect on the ranks of kindergarten teachers, according to Miss Virginia J. Cobb, assistant director of kindergarten in the city.

It is reported that all of them shall be able to play the piano and to sing. This is a very desirable feature in a kindergarten teacher.

Frank Hodges Butler, Author and Airman, Also Says "Goat Beards" Have Gone Since His Visit Here in Centennial

America and Americans have improved. Take the word of Frank Hodges Butler, sixty-five years of age, English author and airman, and founder of the Royal Flying Club.

hotels had a clientele of patrons—wearing goat beards—who dearly loved to sit in a hotel lobby facing a main street and rest their heels on a wide window ledge or a brass railing while they admired the longer skirts of the Centennial period and the unrounded and multi-sticked flappers of the period.

Broadway hostesses. And I guess the men were all engaged in the same pleasant occupation.

"pulpits" he refers to the modern traffic sign, with its red and green signal lamps, operated at the important street crossings.

But nowhere does he expect to find conditions more improved than right here in Philadelphia and New York. He says good things for England that she lost the United States somewhere about 1776.
