

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of the Philadelphians in Palm Beach—She Speaks of the Anniversary Ball at Academy of Music Tonight

Do you know there are a great many Philadelphians down at Palm Beach already? I told you the other day that Mrs. Charles Munn was coming and was going down soon. She and little Pauline left yesterday, and Mrs. Harkley Henry and her daughter, Gertrude Conway, are there now. Mr. Henry and Dr. Charles Hart Barkley have come in a yacht, and will be staying down in a yacht, and will see Mrs. Henry next week.

The New Brownings have gone down with Mrs. Browning's father, Mr. Brown, to Palm Beach. I saw Mrs. Browning at Chestnut street the other day looking very well in a black frock trimmed with a seal coat, which had one of the best of backs which was belted in. Her hat was a sailor shape trimmed with stiff aigrettes laid flat about the crown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bell has also gone down to Palm Beach, and the Williams Warden and Elizabeth Brockie are due there this week. Mr. Warden has already started.

MRS. JOHN KING VAN RENSSLAER of New York, gave a reception yesterday afternoon at her home in New York for her grand-daughters, Sylvia Van Rensselaer, daughter and her second affair next Sunday afternoon. Sylvia, you remember, came out here as well as her sister, several seasons ago. Mrs. Van Rensselaer lived on Locust street near Seventh for a number of years, but some time after her husband's death she came to New York to live permanently.

She was famous for her attractive salons here and the talented and clever of the beau monde used to gather under her hospitable roof on many an occasion.

She founded that mysterious society, the "Rain Tuppani," the meaning of which I never quite got at, though I think I know it well as it still exists here. I do not know if it still exists here, but I rather think not. Mrs. Van Rensselaer usually comes to Philadelphia on a stay of several weeks each winter to renew contact with old friends and relatives.

WELL, the much-heralded Academy anniversary ball will be given tonight and it will start promptly at half past eight. I saw Mr. and Mrs. Van Rensselaer and Charlie Morgan and Alva Sergeant will dance the old "Caravan," which was a favorite in the fifties, we are told. And then there will be the grand quadrille, in which about two hundred dancers will take part. After that our own fun comes in and we dance ourselves tired into the next hours.

I am anxious to see the pretty old gowns, especially the really old ones, not the copies. There is also a display of the old gowns, dolls dressed in the styles of those days, jewelry and other heirlooms in one of the rooms at the academy, and the program will start at nine o'clock, which were sold for the original ball sixty-four years ago.

It is a subscription affair, of course, and the orchestra will be the committee. Miss Frances A. Wister and all the committee of women interested in the orchestra have done wonderful work in arranging the affair, which, I sincerely hope, will be a great success.

THE Charlotte Cushman Club is to have one of its delightful teas next Friday afternoon, the guests of honor being Miss Peggy Wood, Donald Brian and Ralph Morgan, and me. I'm going. I have wanted to meet Peggy Wood ever since I heard her call that Froelich was the best of the subject of the tea. She is a girl after my heart. I have known her in college at Spaulding and she does it. There's something about her that I never see in any other girl. When she is talking to me and I am thinking, I can't find one, that's all.

The members of the board of the Cushman Club will receive the guests this afternoon. Among them are Mrs. Samuel Chew, who is president; Mrs. James Lange, Mrs. Mortimer Brown, Mrs. James Emerson, Mrs. Mrs. Wayland Hoyt, Mrs. Walter Waring Long, Mrs. George E. Baker, Mrs. George H. Lorimer, Mrs. Pope Yeatman, Mrs. Edward Fink, Miss Francis McKeon, Miss Marian Wood and a number of others.
