Nancy Wynne Tells of the Cadwalader Dance for Mis: Da Costa—Wonderful Chinese Entertainment for February 11

ONE of the most brilliant balls of the season was given lust night at the Ritz Carlton by Dr. and Mrs. Williams Biddle Cadwalader of Raduor in honor of their debutante niece, Jessie F. Da Costa, daughter of Dr. Charles Da Costa. The ball was probably the last private one to be given for this season's debutantes, and more than 400 guests attended, many from out of town. Mrs. Cadwalader, Christine Cadwalader and Miss Da Costa received the guests.

Mrs. Cadwalader wore a gown of black velvet, cut V-shape at the neck in the front and back, made with a black velvet, cut V-shape at the neck in the front and back, made with a broad girdle of jet beads and a court train which fell from the shoulders.

Christine Cadwalader looked lovely in a frock of yellow brocade cut round at the neck and made with a girdle of tiny gold roses. Jessie Da Costa, who has been one of the most feted of the debutantes, looked charming in a gown of sequins made over white satin cut square at the neck and made with four panels, one forming the train which tell from the waist.

Christine Cadwalader is not yet out, you know, but she goes about a great deal, and is very popular with the rounger set. She is most attractive and she has very pretty red hair, which one might call "sun-kissed," and which corresponds with her attractive manner and delightful disposition. She has large brown eyes and is quite tall for her age and exceedingly graceful. She will make her debut next season and no doubt she will be very popular and be entertained a great deal.

TALKING of benefits, have you heard about the wonderful affair that is to be given in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford on the night of February 11? It's to be for the China famine fund, and it's all to be given by honest-togoodness Chinese themselves. For instance, Marguerite Wong, who is at present a student at the University of Pennsylvania fitting herself to teach in China, will do Oriental dancing in cost-songs by a Chinese quartet, and Chinese instrumental music, Chinese boxing, Chinese magic and best of all a Chinese play, and all to be done just exactly as it is in China.
