

ICE BOATING AT PLEASURE BAY, N. J. Miss Adelaide and Marion Stevens, daughters of Senator William A. Stevens, of New Jersey, out with their boat Little Imp, on the Shrewsbury river.

ADOPTED RUSSIAN CHILDREN VISIT SECRETARY DANIELS. The seven orphans brought to this country by Rear Admiral Newton McCully, as his wards, make things lively for an hour at Navy headquarters in Washington.

IN MINSTREL SHOW. Members and friends of the American Legion Post, of Haddonfield, N. J., give excellent production. In the photograph are Miss Mary B. Alexander, Mrs. William B. Pickell, Robert Paul, Miss E. Marue Litley and Mrs. J. Noble Dickerson.

MISS GERTRUDE BLAKELEY did some dancing and much singing for the Haddonfield Post of the American Legion.

MEADOWBROOK WON DOWNTOWN STREET MARATHON. On Saturday afternoon the street cleaners sprinkled some of the streets over which the Southwestern Business Men's Association race team had a hard time to avoid falling. At the left, is W. K. Myers, of the Meadow Brook club, who finished first.

JEANNETTE KERR AS GRETEL. In that role she will appear when the opera "Hansel and Gretel" is given by the Philadelphia Music Club, on February 8, at the Bellevue-Stratford.

EXHIBITED POMERANIANS. Miss Irene Heinder and Rose Palsky were busy persons at the Kensington Kennel Club show, held on Saturday.

HER ENTRY IN THE SHOW. Miss Helen Hassert, with a German shepherd police dog at the Kensington Kennel Club show.

WYCKE POLO. The new game has been given a good start in the northern section of the city. An official ball is used, the mallets having a mesh rubber handle.

DOG THAT STOPPED RIVER TRAFFIC. A sailor on a New York ferryboat spied this dog floating on a cake of ice in the river. The dog was rescued and photographed with Quartermaster Gerard H. Barry.

THE BROOM COMPLETED. The jack-knife man, a well-known figure of the life in the mountains of North Carolina.

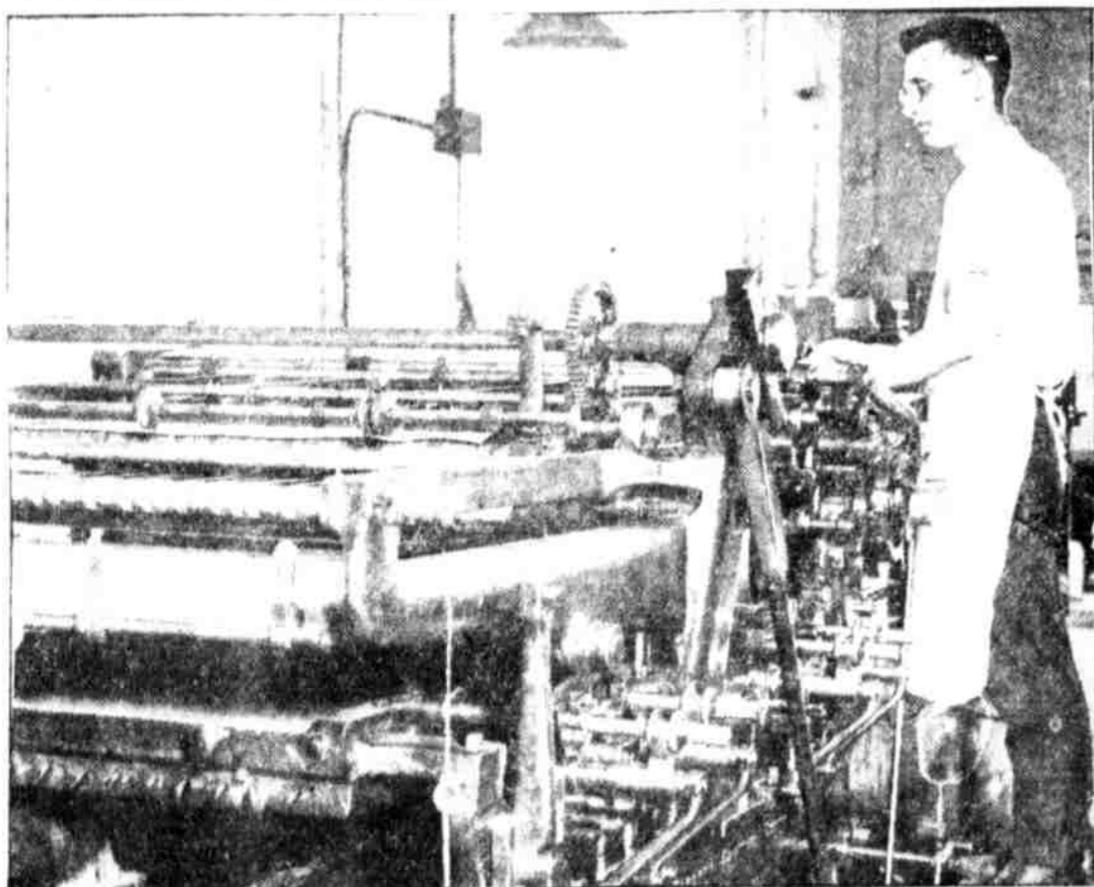

MISS JOHN M. GARDNER. Wife of the prominent business man, she is a member of the Eastern Yacht Club.

MISS MARY L. BOSTON. This musical comedy will be given tonight by the American Yacht Club at 8:15 p.m. at the Grand Opera House. Miss Mary L. Boston is the star.

LOGAN WOMEN ACT AS LIMERICK JURY. This group of women, who are prominent in the club and social life of the Logan section of the city, awarded the limping limerick prize announced on Page 2 today. In the picture, from left to right, are (front row) Mrs. W. H. S. Bateman, Mrs. Harry Kelley, Mrs. Eugene Spad, Miss Florence Stutz, Miss L. A. Hicks; (back row) Miss Marie P. McGarvey, Mrs. L. Rieger, Mrs. C. H. Elsborn, Mrs. Leo Demming, Mrs. A. Falsette, Mrs. W. A. Worthington, Mrs. Guida Ferrari, Mrs. John Stott.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

ROLAND HODGES, 321 Lee avenue, Collingwood, N. J., operating a cylinder printing press at the Art Printing and Embossing Co., 1726-1728 Locust street. Catalogues are being printed at the rate of 1000 an hour.

DR. J. F. ELWELL, one of the contestants at the clay target shoot staged by the Riverton Yacht Club.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

ONE YEAR AT ELEVENTH AND MARKET STS. Reserve Patrolman William E. Patton has been a patrolman for five years. Baseball is his hobby. He plays first base. Patton lives at 1766 North Howard st.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

DRAMATIZED LIFE OF LINCOLN. John Drinkwater, the English playwright, and Mrs. Drinkwater, as they arrived in New York.

MISS JULIA BUETTGER 1507 North Orkney Street Philadelphia