

LEGION COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES PLANS

Employment Bureau Drive for Membership and Finances Under Consideration

OPEN NEW HEADQUARTERS

Appointment of standing committees of the American Legion under Franklin D'Olier, the newly elected county chairman, will be made with the consent and assistance of the executive committee. In announcing this policy, Mr. D'Olier declared it was his purpose to obtain the benefit of the judgment of the members of the executive committee, and also to give them an opportunity to express their wishes as to personnel of these committees. Three important questions will be undertaken by the county committee—the work of locating positions for ex-servicemen through the welfare committee, the financing of the county committee and a drive for membership. It is anticipated that, with the advent of a new county organization here, a number of applications for charters for posts will be received. The new committee may be willing to grant additional charters, whereas the policy of the former committee was against the granting of too many charters in this city. County headquarters were opened yesterday at Tenth and Chestnut streets in connection with the department headquarters. This union of the two offices makes it possible for headquarters to transact all Legion business in one office.

They are Israel Sagel, fourteen years old, of 528 Bainbridge street, a broken left arm, and Beatrice Goldberg, eleven years old, of 5548 Larchwood avenue, fractured shoulder blade and dislocated collarbone.

ONLY ONE TORNADO A YEAR

Mr. Bliss Explains State's Quota is Very Low
One tornado is due in Pennsylvania each year. The time of its arrival can be forecast by many hours, but the weather bureau refrains from doing so because more nervous people are frightened to death by the prospect of the thing than are actually killed in the tornado.

Producer to Consumer

Every "Asco" Store Is the Link that Connects the Producer with Your Market Basket

The market basket pictured, with the list of groceries it contains shows conclusively that the purchasing power of your dollar is greater today than it has been for years, when spent in an "Asco" Store.

This fact in itself is the clearest kind of proof of what our Producer-to-Consumer Plan is doing to cut living costs. Talk is cheap—one can buy theories and fancies for a song—but they all fade into insignificance when brought face to face with facts.

The real things, the issues of life that count for something, are those inspired by action. The merchandise and the prices at which it is advertised herewith speak eloquently of the important part we are filling in the great leveling process.

Contents of Basket

The list that follows, pictured in the basket above, is a concrete example, showing that you can buy as many groceries in an "Asco" store today for a Two-Dollar Bill as you could last year for Three.

(No obligation to buy the entire list; just pick out the things you need)
