Nancy Wynne Tells of the Birth of Wee Miss Tilghman. She Tells of a Real Chinese Supper Planned for Bryn Mawr Students

DID you hear that Mary and Dick Tilghman have a little daughter? She was born last Monday I understand. Mary Tilghman was Mary Bohlen, you remember, and is a daughter of Mrs. Woodville Bohlen. Her brother Frank married Sidney Franklin last spring. They live at Haverford and the Tilghmans have a house in Ardmore. Mary and Dick were married at the Cathedral during the war and later be went to France with the A.E. F. Mary Tilghman is one of the pretities of the younger matrons I think, they prove woodville, has dark for course will be entertained as the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Weston, over the week-end.

She looks very like her mother, who was Miss Peggy Woodville, has dark was Miss Peggy Woodville, has dark brown hair and very lovely coloring her elder sister, Priscilla Brooks, is fairer. She married a brother of Walter Brooks and lives in Baltimore. For the moment I can't recall her husband's first name.

HAVE you heard about the Chinese party that will be given in Bryn Mawr College gymnasium this Satur-day under the auspices of the students world citizenship committee day under the auspices of the students' world citizenship committee to aid the famine sufferers in Northern China? That's some long sentence, I know, but somehow I could not get a period in edgewise before that and then it could not be a period, because it had to be a question mark.

to be a question mark.

Well, any way, the supper is to be served from 5 until half-after 6 o'clock. Typical Chinese dishes planned by Fung Kei Liu, of the class of 1922, and Miss Dong, a graduate student, will make up the menu. There will be Chinese vegetable soup, fritters of shrimp and egg, "Chow Mean" (which from its ingredients will be no mean chow, and for that bromide and play upon words I beg your honorable pardons and ask that you overlook it) for it will have in it bean sprouts, mushrooms, pork in it bean sprouts, mushrooms, pork and noodles-and then there will be rice and real Chinese tea.

If you go, oh! student, take with you cushion on which to rest your honor-able self, as otherwise you will have but the floor for a chair, as no seats are to

The money raised at the supper is to be turned over to Mr. Alba Johnson, who as you know was named by President Wilson as treasurer for Philadeldent Wilson as treasurer for Philadelphia for the China Famine Fund. The other members of the President's committee include Mr. George Horace Lorimer, chairman; Miss M. Carey Thomas, secretary; Mrs. George Wharton Penper and Mrs. William Boyd. I told you about the wonderful affair that committee is arranging for February 11 in the Bellevue-Stratford. It's to be all native Chinese acting, tumbling. all native Chinese acting, tumbling, singing and playing of instruments. Me.

THE other night there was a crowd waiting for the cars at the corner, and the motorman, kindly opening both doors, as he is wont to do these days, remarked: "Both doors!" and a woman who had already mounted one stee, stopped short, turned and walked down that step and around and up the other step. I was standing by the trusty motornian and under his breath he said:
"That's right," and then with a little chuckle he added, "Ain't it wonderhackle he added, "Ain't it wones."
