GEDDES TO PRESS

Teldo, Feb. 9.—Yukio Ozaki, a former leader of the Kenseikai or Opposition party, told the Associated Press yesterday that he would introduce independently before the diet a resolution proposing curtailment of naval stramment. His resolution, the said, would ask Japan to communicate with the United States and England, and to take the open the best way to restrict naval. decide on the best way to restrict naval programs in conjunction with those naons. M. Ozaki was expelled from the Kenscikai last Friday because he had not supported a suffrage bill urged by that organization.

The dramatic expulsion of M. Osaki from the Kenseikai, following his de-termined stand for reduction in armanents and his insistence on strict con-stitutional procedure in dealing with the suffrage question, has made him a striking national figure. The news-Papers are devoting columns to him.

The newspapers announce that M.

Factory-Made "Stradivarius" Delights 1000 German Musical Experts Special Wireless Dispatch

oppright. 1991, by Public Ledger Co Berlin, Feb. 9 .-- More than 1000 critical music experts and artists, Great Britain that does not grant comamong whom were Arthur Nikisch famous conductor, and Geza von Kast, noted violinist, listened here to a concert played alternately on a Stradivarius and a cheap factory violin prepared by the occult Ohlhaver method. Most of those present announced them-selves convinced that Ohlhaver had hit upon something big.

"I was absolutely dumfounded." said Ozaki's armament-reduction resolution will be dropped by the Kenseikai, because he has been expelled from that party. Simultaneously comes the news that progressive leaders like Saburo Shimada, president of the House of Representatives, and others have decided to soin M. Ozaki in an independent arm. Other experts said the concert showed that Ohlhayer's violin was almost equal Stradivarius and even surpassed it in notes of the lower register.
