

WILL GRILL BAKER IN BERGDOLL PROBE

Congressmen Want Secretary to Tell What War Department Did to Recapture Slacker

TO DIG INTO WHOLE SCANDAL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—Leaders in Congress today are determined to smoke out everything sinister hidden in the scandal of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll's flight to Germany from the country he refused to fight for.

MISS EMMA L. MACALARNEY She will be one of the speakers at a meeting under the auspices of Wellesley College at the foyer of the Academy of Music tomorrow.

HOME PROVIDERS' B. AND L. VOTES FOR LIQUIDATION

Members Close Association and Will Lose Only Profits Due to a shortage of capital funds, members of the Home Providers' Building and Loan Association voted to liquidate at a meeting last night at 1802 South Broad street.

LOGAN TO BACK MAYOR

Mayor Moore was assured vigorous support in his plans to improve city conditions by more than 1000 members of the Logan Improvement Association last night.

ACCUSES POLICEMEN

Attorney Declares His Arrest Was Unwarranted Samuel Wilgig, of 1847 Mevansing avenue, an attorney, told Magistrate Carson at Central Station today that he will prefer charges against Patrolmen R. K. and Lennon, of the Fourth street and Spruce avenue station, who he has been arraigned on a charge of having interfered with the patrolmen. He was discharged.

INSPECTS NAVAL HOSPITAL

Rear Admiral E. R. Stitt is Guest at League Island Rear Admiral E. R. Stitt, surgeon general of the navy, made an inspection of the Naval Hospital at League Island at 10:30 a. m. today.

Caruso Is Called Orchestra Leader

Continued from Page One The singing of the tenor, considered as the paper's excellent and the most interesting feature of the concert.

KING RECEIVES GEDDES

Ambassador Has Interview Preliminary to Departure for U. S. London, Feb. 11.—(By A. P.)—Sir Auckland Geddes, ambassador to the United States, who is to sail for America on the 15th, was received today by King George in a reception at the ambassador's residence.

JACK WILL START JINGLE BOX CONTEST FOR KIDDIES MONDAY

Calls on Limerick Editor and Tells Him Children Are to Have Their Own Fun With Rhymes

Is Going to Give Out Prize of TEN DOLLARS A DAY for Best Last Line Sent to Him

Dear Limerick Editor: I am a reader of your paper, and ever since you started the Limerick Contest I have been trying to solve them and as yet I have never won and had my name even on your honor roll.

It seems that your limericks are not like the ones I have seen in other papers, suggest to you that I would like to print a limerick for school scholars with a prize. By doing so I think that every scholar will be able to win the prize. Hoping you will consider my letter and please answer in the paper.

Your reader, MAX CHALICK, 628 South American street, McClellan School. You know, Max, there's a most remarkable thing about getting a letter from you. We never believe in dreams before, but now we'll have to, for I got your letter last night and it was on its way to us as we went to bed early, as all good old men and young boys do, and just as we were dozing off, we heard a knock and in walked the jolly and queerest little fellow you ever saw.

We sat bolt upright in bed and gazed, for he looked for all the world like the real Pope of Hamelin, but he didn't have a pipe with him, he wore instead a bag hanging by a strap from over his shoulder. He had the laughing eyes of a jester, a twinkling nose and the brilliant, smiling eyes of an evildoer. Before he had said a word we were laughing just because he looked so laughable.

"Hello," he said, "I want to talk with you." "Glad to see you," we answered. "I've got a job to do for you, and I'm not knowing who you are. Mind telling me?" "He, he," he smiled. "You'll know me well enough before you get through with me. I'm Jack." "Yes," we said. "The name sounds familiar. Jack who?" "Jack—and this is my jingle box."

"Now, you've been all right in your day, but you've got to be a little better. I'm going to start a jingle box for you, and I'm going to give you a prize of ten dollars a day for the best last line of a limerick sent to me. You'll get it at 10 o'clock tomorrow. He says you ought to have a limerick contest just for children and I believe he's right."

"Now, you've been all right in your day, but you've got to be a little better. I'm going to start a jingle box for you, and I'm going to give you a prize of ten dollars a day for the best last line of a limerick sent to me. You'll get it at 10 o'clock tomorrow. He says you ought to have a limerick contest just for children and I believe he's right."

Jack's Jingle Box

"Now, you've got to be a little better, because I've made all arrangements and I'm going to carry it through. Anyhow, it's long after half past nine and I'm going to get into bed. I'll be here at 10 o'clock tomorrow. So get ready for Monday. Good night."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

One Hundred Dollars Daily For the Best Last Line Supplied by Any Reader of the Evening Public Ledger to the Incomplete Limerick Which Appears Below

RULES OF THE LIMERICK CONTEST 1. Contest is open to any one. All that is required for the contest is to write and send in your last line to the Limerick Editor. Please write plainly and legibly. 2. All answers sent to the Limerick Editor must be accompanied by a return address. 3. The Limerick Editor will be notified by mail of the contest. 4. In case of tie, $100 will be awarded to each successful contestant. 5. The contest will be held in each Limerick contest will be final. 6. The contest will be held in each Limerick contest will be final.

Cut Out and Mail TO THE LIMERICK CONTEST

LIMERICK NO. 53 Said the fellow who managed the zoo, "These beasts have gone madly awry; 'Here's the yak raising winks; And the elephant sings—"

Name _____ Street and No. _____ City and State _____

Miss Edna C. Gleocner, 137 West London street, secretary of the Philadelphia Welfare Federation.

Miss Josephine Caputo, 330 Rising Sun avenue, stenographer for Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Margaret, 4935 Hazel avenue, stenographer for Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Florence E. Frank, 2109 Chestnut street, assistant secretary of the Philadelphia Welfare Federation.

Miss Marie A. Toner, Manayunk, secretary to publicity director.

Miss C. Sheppard, 3243 Ridge avenue, secretary to publicity director.

Miss S. Swoboda, 210 North Thirty-sixth street, credit bureau.

Miss H. Hoover, Sixty-sixth street and Lancaster avenue, credit bureau.

Miss S. Sheridan Taylor, industrial commissioner.

Miss W. H. Fisher, Jr., Merchant-bank street, credit bureau.

Miss Raymond Fratey, 126 Chenango street, credit bureau.

Miss Can you think of a better cure for the "grit" than a hundred dollar check? You'll get it at 10 o'clock tomorrow. He says you ought to have a limerick contest just for children and I believe he's right."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

And before we knew what had happened, he had simply disappeared—vanished before our very eyes. "What a queer fellow," said the boys who had seen him. "I wish I could see him again."

WAR ON TYPHUS STARTED IN N. Y.

Federal Investigation Urged and Drastic Steps Are Urged to Remove Plague

CITY DECLARED MENACED

By the Associated Press New York, Feb. 11.—Measures to prevent a spread of typhus in this city are sought in a federal investigation opened here today with the arrival from Washington of R. H. Creel, assistant surgeon general.

Drastic steps to remove the plague, by which the city is said to be menaced following the discovery of thirty-seven cases of typhus among passengers on incoming steamships, were urged yesterday in a message to President Wilson by health authorities here.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health, today appointed a committee to make a survey of immigration facilities and quarantine regulations and to investigate a report that immigrants were being admitted after superficial medical examination.

Sixteen cases of typhus were found among passengers who arrived last week on the steamship President Wilson, one suspected case was found on the steamship Providence, which arrived Wednesday, and twenty cases aboard the steamship San Giusto, which arrived yesterday.

An epidemic of typhus visited this city in 1892, when of 473 cases that developed 200 were fatal.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(By A. P.)—The arrival at New York of another ship with typhus-infected immigrants from Italy aboard led today to a federal investigation of the public health service division of the Treasury Department.

Mr. La Porte said instructions already had gone forward to American consuls in Europe to refuse clean bills of health to vessels preparing to leave for this country whose medical inspection has not been satisfactory.

Yeast was formerly widely known in this country as spotted fever. It is a contagious disease and is distinct from typhoid fever, which is infectious.

ALLIES THREATEN AUSTRIA

In Formal Note Protest Movement to Unite With Germany Vienna, Feb. 11.—(By A. P.)—Entente officials are reported to have sent a formal note to the Austrian Government protesting against movements having for their object fusion of Austria and Germany. Repetitions are threatened if such movements are carried on.

Demands that federal appropriations toward the maintenance of provinces be treated, that one-half of all provincial civil salaries be paid by the government, and that all profits derived from the sale of timber be turned over to the different provinces have been sent to the government of the Austrian republic by the conference of provincial governors, which met at Bolzano this week. These demands were forwarded as an ultimatum to the government.

Philadelphia Atlantic City Baltimore "MILLARDS" The Shops of Sensible Prices Special for Saturday

An Exquisite Little Blouse $1.95 Of soft white voile daintily tucked. Collar and cuffs and front trimmed with fine file edge. Most unusual value at $1.95!

Youthful Frocks Specially Priced $39.75 Tricotine, Taffeta and Crapes in graceful, girlish models. Small women can also be fitted.

ADVANCE SHOWING OF SPRING MILLINERY 127 PHILADELPHIA 1337 S. 13th St. AND Chestnut St. BROADWALK SHOP-ATLANTIC CITY-BRIGNON BLOCK

LAWLESSNESS HIT BY BISHOP TALBOT

Fears Result of Reign of Crime "Eat, Drink and Be Merry" Is Rule, He Says

GARRICK LENTEN SPEAKER

An apparent lack of personal responsibility and a too-general disregard of law seems to be the trouble with people everywhere, according to Bishop Gilbert Talbot, of Bethlehem, who spoke at the Lenten meeting at the Garrick Theater today. His theme was "Individual Responsibility."

He commented on the conditions existing throughout the country, the waves of lawlessness and of crime, the declared laws of God and man were being universally disregarded and broken by men of high and of low degree to an extent which makes one quake with apprehension as to the future.

He commented on the conditions existing throughout the country, the waves of lawlessness and of crime, the declared laws of God and man were being universally disregarded and broken by men of high and of low degree to an extent which makes one quake with apprehension as to the future.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

Several hundred persons attended Lenten services in the Holy Trinity Church, Tenth street above Chestnut, today. The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer, pastor of the church, presided.

REMOVAL SALE 1000 BOYS' SUITS At a Saving to You of a $5 Bill on each SUIT YOUR CREDIT'S GOOD

50 CENTS A WEEK $10.95 to $18.75 SUITS Removal Sale Price $5.95 to $13.75

GEO. KELLY'S 624-28 Market St. 2330-34 N. Front St. 1816-20 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City

Charge Accounts Solicited Mawson & DeMany 1245 Chestnut Street FURS AND MILLINERY New Spring Hats 5.00 8.50 10.00 These Extraordinary Prices the Result of a Special Purchase. Values Up to $15.00

Have You Tasted "Loue" Automobile Salesman Several vacancies in our new and used car departments. Splendid opportunity for men of ability and selling record. Lexington Motor Co. of Penna.