Time Is Passing, but Opportunities Are Still Surpassing in the Furniture Sale

Today Marks the Birthday Anniversary of George Peabody to whom Queen Victoria, out of her personal regard for the illustrious American citizen, presented an exquisite miniature picture of herself, painted expressly for Mr. Peabody as a token of her regard.

George Peabody was born, a poor boy, on the 18th of February, 1795, at Danvers, Massachusetts.

At the early age of eleven he was apprenticed to Sylvester Proctor, at Danvers, who kept a country store, where he worked out his apprenticeship, and afterward joined his elder brother, David Peabody, in a drygoods and draper's shop, in Newburyport.

When Mr. Peabody left Newburyport he was under age and not worth a dollar. Mr. Spaulding gave him a letter of credit by which he obtained two thousand dollars' worth of merchandise, and this was his start in life, as he afterward told the citizens of Boston, at a public reception.

He was a modest, polite man, and a station agent once said of him, "a comfortable man to have around."

He went to London, England, and amassed great wealth as a banker and became famous for the buildings he erected for the poor of London, Public Libraries abroad and in this country, and was much beloved all over the world for his generosity and philanthropy.

The great honors bestowed upon him reflected highly upon the good name of America all over the world.

[Signed] Joe Peabody

Women's Oil Silk Raincoats Particularly Nice for Spring

For one thing they are so light in weight, for another they can be so readily slipped on over the tailored suit or dress and the oil silk raincoats are just the thing for protecting the coat or wrap.

There are all the prettiest colors in these coats, they have raglan shoulders, belted and close-buttoning collars. The oil silk is an excellent quality and $20 is the price.

Oil silk raincoats are also $20.

First New Spring Blouses for the Larger Woman

There is an exceedingly dainty style in Georgette crepe trimmed with Valenciennes lace and tiny bows. It has a square neck and long sleeves.

Another tucked crepe de chine with hemstitching and imitation lace. V-shaped neck and long sleeves.

All come in both white and flesh pink and each is $12.50. Sizes are 48½, 50½ and 52½ inch bust measure.

(Third Floor, Central)

More Women Than We Thought Wanted White Woolen Skirts

Women going South and many more who are on their way to the shore were only too delighted to have these skirts to take with them.

styles—one in white all-wool serge with cluster pleats and box pleats and the other a very smart sports model in white flannel with plain front and inverted panel in the back.

They are both marked at the moderate price of $15.

(First Floor, Central)

Women's Tan Pumps

Made of russet leather, with turned soles and two-inch Louis heels, price $12.50 in the Exclusive Little Boot Shop.

Bronze buckles to be worn on such shoes may be had for $6 to $40.

Fringed Ribbon Sashes

Fashion's latest fancy to wear with straight-lined cloth dresses. They are extremely rich, being made of plaid and kinsel ribbons, brocade ribbons, Roman striped ribbons and warp print ribbons, and as a rule they have very deep fringes. Prices are $6 to $20.

ODDS and ends of women's silk bloomers, light and dark colors, satins and a few sarahs, long and short styles, are being hurried out at $2.85 a pair.

(West Aisle)

New Veilings at $1 a Yard

Black, brown, taupe and navy blue, with many and various styles, and chemise and woven veils. Some of the meshes are in color with their dots of some contrasting color.

White Washable Negligees
Breakfast coats of cross-bar duality at $5.50, and negligees of novelty voile with lace-edged slounces at $15; the latter have pink or blue ribbons. Both coats and negligees will be welcomed for the warmer days ahead of us.

(Third Floor, Central)

Women's Umbrellas at $5

Covers of union taffeta (silk and-cotton) on eight-rib paragon frames, with white and amber teeth, silk cord and leather loops, and handles of hard wood, bakelite trimmed or of bakelite alone. Good, useful, everyday umbrellas. Their price is $5.

Letitia corsets help their wearers to all three advantages. Some of the new Spring models are a pink tricot with almost no bones, a pink striped broche which can be used for riding, and a topless model with elastic waist bands for average figures. Prices are $9.50, $10 and $11.50 respectively.

(Third Floor, Chestnut)

This Is a Good Time to Get a Novelty Fur Coat

for the prices are 'way down, the skins are of fine quality, and the coats are never such extreme styles that it is not safe to buy them with a thought for the future.

A handsome leopard coat with brown beaver collar and cuffs is in belted style and is $510.

A lovely taupe caracal cape is finished with the most becoming type of deep muffer collar—this last of taupe-dyed squirrel! It is $500.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

A generously cut wrap of taupe-dyed squirrel has a deep collar and pretty sleeves and is $600.

Of hair seal is a smart little sports coat with Hudson seal (dyed muskrat) collar, cuffs and border. It is $450.

A pretty nutria wrap has a large cape collar, full sleeves and is in good style. It is $300.

Women's Dresses and Suits Going Out at $15 and $25

We are clearing them away at a third and a half less than their first prices because they are broken sizes of Winter stocks.

The suits include jerseys, velours, silvertones and checked velours, and a few are even fur-trimmed; also the range of colors is very good. Sizes 34 to 42 are in the lot.

The dresses are good, practical street dresses—serges, velours, a few jerseys and a few tricotettes; embroidered, beaded and simply tailored. Colors are chiefly black, navy and brown.

These sizes also are 34 to 42 in the lot.

Prices $15 and $25.

(First Floor, Central)

Riding Habits for Less

Women's, young girls' and children's habits—about seventy-five of them—are a little too heavy to be allowed in our Spring stock, so out they go, at $25 to $47.50 each.

The materials are corduroy, tan and oxford worsteds, and a few homespun. All the habits are cut with breeches and—usually—straight English coats, and they are reinforced.

(First Floor, Central)

Any Woman Would Enjoy Wearing a New Spring Hat

If she could get one of the attractive new models we've just taken from their boxes! There are —new silk sailers, faced with straw

—new two-color hats— they're so pretty!
—new flower and embroidery trimmed hats

—gray colored hats like jade and American Beauty, the new rust and brown shades

—smart shapes, new color combinations, new trimmings. Scarcely two alike, hats for sports or better wear. $10 to $16.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

A Fine Quality Crepe de Chine at $2.50 a Yard

With the great demand for crepe de chine for Spring dresses and blouses, for skirts, linings and a hundred and one other purposes, we count ourselves very lucky to have this splendid new shipment of an especially good quality.

It is a very heavy, firm weave and comes in a great many of the most fashionable colors, including white and black. It is 40 inches wide.

(First Floor, Chestnut)

Last of the Winter Garments for Girls and Young Women have been marked at such interesting prices they should find new owners in short order. The styles are good, the garments are well made and in good colors, and these prices speak for themselves.

Young Women's Silk Dresses—$15 to $35

These are satin and charmeuse dresses in navy blue, black or brown, in several good styles and suitable for street or afternoon wear. They've been much higher. 14 to 20 year sizes.

Young Women's Suits—$25 to $100

Fine Winter suits of silvertone, velour and other fine weaves in blue, brown, mahogany and tan shades, many fur trimmed. Usually but one of a kind. 14 to 20 year sizes.

Young Women's Coats—$25

Velour and other good wool coats in blue and brown shades; some with soft fur collars; all lined throughout. 14 to 20 years.

Girls' Winter Coats—$15 to $50

All the Winter coats for 6 to 17 year girls are in this group. They are of chinchilla, velours and other fine materials in dark blues, browns, tans and other colors. Many fur trimmed. All lined throughout.

The savings on all these garments are quite unusual—and any girl or young woman who needs new clothes will be well repaid for coming to see them.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

Practically all the desirable colors in all the above.

(Main Floor, Market)

Juvenile Spring Millinery Fashions!

Ribbon streamers, ostrich tips, rosebuds, soft frills and pleatings of crepe and silk—you'll find them all on the new hats for little sister.

And they are dear little hats. There are quaint mushroom shapes, almost poke-like, with ribbon crowns and straw brims; there are little bonnets with wreaths of delicate hued rosebuds; there are others with streamers and with ribbon bows and feathers.

White, pale blues and pinks, tan shades, darker blues and other colors are here, there are hats of straw and straw and silk and there are plain tailored as well as more fanciful styles.

Prices are $4.50 to $10.

(Third Floor, Chestnut)

New Letitia Corsets for Spring

"My husband has fallen in love with me all over again since I have had these corsets!" declared one woman humorously, and she really meant a little of what she said; she was quite keen enough to realize what a lot of pleasure in life is dependent upon one's looking fresh and fashionable, and feeling comfortable, and Letitia corsets help their wearers to all three advantages.

Some of the new Spring models are a pink tricot with almost no bones, a pink striped broche which can be used for riding, and a topless model with elastic waist bands for average figures. Prices are $9.50, $10 and $11.50 respectively.

(Third Floor, Chestnut)

The days are passing and the furniture is going, but there is plenty of it here to make every remaining day of the sale a day of real advantage for everybody who wishes to secure some of the best cabinet-work at a saving of not less than one-third.

All sorts of patriotic novelties and favors for Washington's Birthday celebrations. (Down Stairs Store, Chestnut)

New Tweed Suitings at $1.50 a Yard

Just as pretty as they can be, too, and you would never imagine that they cost so little.

They are all-wool with the exception of the white fleck which is necessarily of cotton and which gives a very attractive effect. In new Spring colorings, navy, Copenhagen, green, rose, tan, brown and gray. 64 inches wide.

(First Floor, Chestnut)

"Here Are Those Overcoats

I made for you to sell at $85 to $125," said a manufacturer the other day in telling us of the delivery of the last lot of fine Winter ulsters.

They have just come in and they are

Priced at $50

They are about the finest ulsters that we have seen during the whole Winter, and it is a great chance for the man who wants to buy a splendid Winter coat at $45 to $75 less than he might have to pay for the same thing next Fall.

Also 100 Men's Winter Suits at $50

These are very fine goods that the manufacturer thought would bring half as much again at least—"and they would have done so," said he, "if there had been any Winter."

These are wonderful goods and they are the last of the season.

(Third Floor, Market)

New Mosul Rugs at Much Lower Prices

Mosul rugs, that is to say, good Mosul rugs, have been scarce of late and their prices relatively high.

We have been fortunate in securing a new lot of these very desirable rugs to sell at remarkably low prices—$35 to $47.50 for sizes 3x6 to 3.6x7 feet.

These rugs are priced almost as low as the Mosuls we had been selling in our extraordinary disposal of our entire stock of Oriental rugs at a saving of one-third.

They are good, heavy pieces in the best Mosul colors, deep reds, blues and ecrus. Coming right on the track of the new Chinese carpet-size rugs just recently opened to sell at such low prices, this new shipment is very welcome and it is bound to go quickly.

The Chinese carpets lately unbaled are marked $219 to $475 for sizes 11.10x9 feet to 10x13 feet.

All the other Oriental rugs in our stock are priced at a saving of one-third.

(Seventh Floor, Chestnut and Central)

Boys' Fine Suits at $8 Never So Low Before

Not even in pre-war days could you buy such suits as these for such a price.

But we have 600 suits that we can dispose of at this price—and no more. Wise mothers will be sure to get some for the little fellows, as they are garments that can be worn right up to the wash-suit season.

Middy, junior Norfolk, Oliver Twist and Balkan styles, in 3 to 10 year sizes.

Materials are jersey cloths in browns, greens and heather mixtures and some blue serge and velvet suits.

All excellently made and extraordinary for $8.
