BALDWIN AND DOBSON MEET FOR CAGE TITLE

Clash at Yonah Hall This Evening in Opening Contest for Philadelphia Industrial Championship

PHILADELPHIA industrial basketball championship series of Philadelphia will start this evening at Yonah Hall, 2727 West Columbia avenue, when the J. & W. Dobson basketball team and the representatives of the Baldwin Locomotive Works clash in the first game of the Philadelphia Manufacturers' League.

Baldwin was proclaimed conqueror of the first half after a play-off with their opponents of this evening, and Dobson was awarded second-half honors when Bunnworth walked off the floor in a similar crucial contest. The Baldwin and Dobson aggregations have come together on three occasions this year and in every instance Baldwin was the winner by a few points.

Several changes in the line-ups of the leading forces will be made for the game. The official personnel of the clubs as announced follows: Baldwin—Galagher and Kegan; Dobson—Kegan, Galagher and Graef. For Baldwin—Trautwein and Livingstone forwards; Moorehead, center, and Kitzpatrick and West, guards; Fleming, back, as usual, will tout the white.

Burlington Prospects Poor
The Eastern Basketball League is considering enlarging the circuit next season and a number of towns are planning for admission. Among them are Burlington, Camden, and Egg Harbor. Last evening the Camden Rheeters played at Burlington on account of the Third Regiment Armory being in use.

Camden was the attraction and Burlington won by the score of 36 to 23. There was about as much enthusiasm at the game as at the first game of the season. 400 fled into the hall and the officials departed with the assurance that Burlington does not want a return of big league basketball. There is slightly more interest in the Firemen's League, which is said by referee Herman Bissett and Billy Kelly to be a "regular" league.

The game was only fifteen seconds old when Chris Leonard's shoulder came in contact with Roy Steele's jaw, and as a result Chris may play no more basketball this season. Eddie Dolfin and Neil Dieghan were the stars of the game for Camden, while "Liz" Powell and Joe Berger excelled for Contestville.

PENN FRESH HANDS VARSITY A JOLT

Captain Gig Genthner and His Mates Sink Regular Swimmers in Closely Contested Meet

When a freshman team of any sport hands to its elder brethren, the varsity, a solar plexus blow in a meet, there is only one source for the coach of the regulars. He has the future to think of. George Kistler, who has looked for the swimmer of the future in Pennsylvania for many years, is the coach who can look into the future with a smile.

Yesterday afternoon, just to satisfy the first-year men, who have contended all along that they could sink the varsity when it came to a dual meet, Coach Kistler sent the two teams against each other in the pool of the gymnasium. At the end, when the figures were counted, the freshmen were discovered, much to the surprise of every one but the yearlings, that the varsity had suffered a reverse. To final figures stood 23 to 23.

The big surprise and the event that turned the tide completely for Captain "Gig" Genthner, of the freshmen and a former Brooklyn Polytechnic star, was the winning of the relay race from the varsity. The varsity started out as though they were going to win in a walk, but Mendholm, on the second lap, went after his Red and Blue Jerseyed opponent, and came up an even terms with the varsity. The race was an epic, with Genthner winning out in the last lap over Captain Armstrong, of the varsity, by a few feet.

Genthner showed that he was a sprint swimmer of ability by beating out his teammate, Holst, who formerly sported the colors of West Philadelphia High School, who in turn nudged out Armstrong. Bursk, Hambo and Armstrong scored victories in the plunge, 200-yard swim and the dive, respectively, for the varsity, while Holst captured the 100 in 1 minute and 1 second from Armstrong, who finished 2.5 of a second behind the much-despised first-year man.

After the meet George Kistler had the following to say: "That's a hot one. Merceburg beats the freshmen team and now the first year men whip the varsity. Well, maybe next year it is going to be different."

Tomorrow morning the varsity swimming team leaves for New Haven where Yale will be engaged in a dual meet tomorrow night. The Eli team which won the championship last season is reported as strong as ever, and Coach Kistler holds out little hope for a victory. According to several of the Red and Blue swimmers they will be fortunate if they win a first place.

The following is the list of entries from Penn for the meet: Relay, Martyr, Hambo and Armstrong; 50 yards, Martyr, Armstrong; 100 yards, Hambo and Hambo; 220 yards, Hambo and Bechtel; plunge, Hambo, and Wiener; 200 yards, Hambo and Wiener.

The water polo team, according to Coach Faries, will be composed of Wheeler, Feinstein, Saturni, Captain Collins, Holdeman and Shelley.

Pen Points
Tommy Cowell, the heavyweight boxer, who was knocked out at State College for the first time in his career, is suffering from a severe case of the grip, and will be unable to accompany the swimmer to West Point for the meet at State, but has no ability to offer for his unexpected defeat.

CONNIE INSISTS ON STANDING PAT

Men Have the Stuff and Will Come Through Like Team of Old

Lake Charles, La., Feb. 24. Burly Roy Moore, of Houston, southwest, blew into the camp yesterday and immediately mingled with the Athletics at the morning practice. Moore, who in the line star southpaw on the team, has been hitting during the winter and recently underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils.

He reported in splendid condition, and buzzed the ball through in mid-season form. Most of the twirlers have worked the coarseness out of their wings so that they were able to cut loose. Slappy, the big southpaw from Albany, Ga., developed a knuckle ball that was a terror, and Connie looking him over all the morning.

Bryan Harris and Bab Hasty, who have some time fielding their positions, were given practice on handling punts and racing to first to cover, and their exhibition delighted the natives, many of whom braved the wind to appear at the ball park.

Rain came pouring down Tuesday night late and a regular storm blew down upon this city. However, the sun and wind bustled themselves early and by the time the ballplayers were ready so was the park.

Danny Murphy A Sample
A new pitching rubber was installed by Danny Murphy, who occupies the two positions of coach and captain. Murphy sets an inspiring example to the youngsters by his work, and is usually the first man into an uniform, and the last man out of one in all the crew.

Connie Mack today reiterated that he was going to stand pat on his present line-up no matter how the season worked out. He feels that his men a have the stuff, he said, and that some day they are going to come through for him in the manner of the Macs teams of old.

"This team must produce for me," he said, "for there are no others that I can get who are any better than the men that are in my club. I have two or three men ready to try for each position in the infield, and at least six or seven men who will try for outfield positions. The men who deliver will be selected, too."

Better Discipline Expected
The tall manager likewise declared that he expected more and better discipline in baseball than has been the situation for several years past. He says that he has allowed the youngsters to go ahead and do things the way they wanted to do them, because he had to handle his players like a lot of prima donnas. Now, however, according to Mack, the time has come to use the iron hand and not yield to the whims and fancies of the boys.

LEVINSKY HOME; TO GO ABROAD AGAIN

Battler Will Meet Wells and Beckett in England in May. Had Swell Trip

Battling Boner Levinsky is back in Philadelphia today following his return from abroad on Tuesday. The Philadelphia light heavyweight went all the way to London, England, to have a twenty-round bout with Bombardier Wells, scheduled for January 12, called off because of an injury suffered by the American.

"I had a wonderful trip," said Levinsky today, and Mrs. Levinsky, who went along on the trip, nodded to make it unanimous. "And I'm going back. I have tentative matches on with Wells and Joe Beckett, both of which will be put on some time in May. I probably will leave for England the latter part of April."

"My arm is in good shape again and I expect to participate in several matches before going abroad again. The small bone in the back of my right arm has knitted, and after a week or so, I will be ready to get back into action. Levinsky says that Beckett is planning an American invasion and will come to the United States some time in June. It wouldn't be surprising, the Battler intimates, if scores of foreign boxers arrive here during the year.

"Boxing is not going very well just now," says Levinsky, "and it will be several months before the promoters will be willing to put on any more big shows." "No," replied Levinsky, "I hardly think that Georges Carpentier will sign for a meeting with Frank Moran, who is still abroad. The Frenchman doesn't admit it, but he intimates that he can not agree to any other contract because of his contract to box Jack Dempsey."

Speaking the Hermann-Wilde match, Levinsky said: "The big advantage in weight greatly helped Pete, but the little Britisher sure proved himself a game one. Despite his defeat, Wilde still is as popular as ever with the English people. Wilde expects to come to America some time this summer. "It was very interesting," said Mrs. Levinsky. "The people in both England and France made our visit there very pleasant. I am very glad that Harry is going over again, as I will make the trip, too."

Levinsky leaves for New York today for a conference with his manager, Dan Morgan, who has several dates arranged for the Philadelphia in this country.

Trot and Pace Notes
The Mount Holly Matines Club will open the season on Mar. 21, and in the near future will give its annual snapper supper and steeplechase.

The Clinton P. Mendenhall of the Keeler Stable, Hordentown, N. J., thinks well of game manager, Ben Dillon, as worthy, 2.10 out of Ludwicks, 2.15.

Miss M. A. Turner, of New Hope, Pa., has named Frances Ann, 2.15, by San Grant, in a foal to Worthy, Peter, 2084, in the Hovee Stable, Pottsville. The mare was trained, raised and marked last year by Frank Harrod, Jr.

Now open to be raced in the White Stable, at Wilmington, this year include Lattie, by the Hovee Stable, Pottsville, by Peter Scott, and Willie Mack, by the Hovee Stable, Pottsville. Both have several more new ones before the season opens.

Just season's speedier entries, Jim Mack, 2000, owned by Dr. J. H. Reed, of Granton, Pa., will be out as a racer this year.

LANDIS AFTER BLEACHERS

Princeton, Feb. 24.—Princeton has decided to decline the invitation to take part in the Poughkeepsie regatta in June, according to a statement made by J. Duncan Spaeth, head coach of the Tiger crew team. The only reason for the Orange and Black will not complete is the length of the course, and Mr. Spaeth is firm in his belief that two miles is enough for any race.

The general manager pointed out that the Princeton policy was and will be to take up rowing only as a part of undergraduate activities, and that the three-mile race would necessitate too much emphasis on the training. He also said that the schedule called for races on consecutive Saturdays, and that long races would prevent this.

WANTS TO CALL TO ACCOUNT ALL WHO BET ON GAMES

Boston, Feb. 24.—The arm of the law should be long enough to permit it to reach to the bleachers and stands at baseball parks, and call to account all who bet on games. In the opinion of Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's supreme arbiter.

Judge Landis, in a letter received by Representative Hugh J. Lacey, of Holbrook, commenting on the latter's bill in the Legislature to penalize players or others participating in the throwing of games, said he thought the offense should be a felony with a penalty of from two to five years' imprisonment.
