Perry Worsted Suits at $33

Were made to sell for $55, $60 and $65—conservatively speaking at that!

Not novelties in cassimeres and chevots; not extremes of any kind, but sound, substantial worsteds in conservative cuts and conservative colors—Oxfords, blues, pencil stripes, self twills—cost more to produce than you can buy them for today—but only for today, tomorrow and Saturday!

Extraordinary Values in Overcoats, $29

Oxfords, blacks, Cambridge grays—standard Regan Overcoats—ings full lined with Skinner's silk, conservative models made to sell for $50 and $55 at least!

Bargains in Separate Trousers! $5, $6, $7

Were $7 to $12

SHOULD LOOK LIKE MONEY

A CHECK is a promise to pay money. It should look like money. Have you ever been offered a check drawn upon paper so cheap that it made you hesitate? Have you not seen checks upon paper so crisp and prosperous looking it seemed to add its own mute but powerful endorsement to the value of the check?

Every bank, every business house, every individual should give thought to the paper upon which its checks are engraved. The government for its paper money or its bonds, private corporations for their securities, all consider quality important—in fact, vitally necessary. Most of them use CRANE'S Paper because CRANE'S Paper made entirely of new rags is durable, "Promises to pay" engraved on CRANE'S Paper look prosperous. They look like money.
