There is a little shop I know of where lock all sorts of amazing bargains dear to the heart of every woman. I know one women who bought a smart little cloth and satin frock there not so long age, for which she paid only $25. Things You'll Love to Make And could you have seen it you would centize what a real bargain it was. And now at this shop may be had sports suits. I did not go in to see the suits. I did not go in to see the en-tire collection, but in passing I noticed two in the window. One model plain and belted, in a gray blue, was marked at $10.35. Think of that for a sports suit for spring! Another in an un-usual shade of light green with a paricularly nevel arrangement of front and pockets was slightly higher in I would strongly advise you to drop in this shop and look around.

Asks Time and Place Dear Cynthia.-The "Wise Guy's" le er is too much! May I write to him

Thank you.

"Well. "Wise Guy." first of all "where'd ja git that name"?" Second, where do you want to be shot? I see (if my eyesight still serves me) that you say "any boy or girl who would write to your column about love or any other nonsense (which you wrote) should be shot at sunrise." Well, just name the time and place and I betcha a caramel it won't take me half a minute to do it. Come on, now. Just gimme a chance, and I'll show you where the chance of the Netherlands.

writing an answer to "Smith" and "Byrne" after reading their letters downing "Dopey."

Well, "Smith," you say your opinion of "Dopey" is that he is sixty and a woman hater, also you call him a possimist and say he is very narrow, minded. Before I go any further, "Smith, old, boy, just think over what you wrote and I think you'll come to the conclusion that there isn't any such animal in the United States. If there is, I don't think he would take the touble of writing to this column.

My opinion of you is that you are all wrong and "Dopey" is just some young chap who is tired of reading the nemensical letters that are sent to the column. I think the people that write some of the letters are "silly," not don't use toem. They're "silly," Smith, so bear that in mind.

Do you think, "Byrne," for one moment that if some of the writers were forced to sign their name and address to those silly letters they write they would do it? No, they would be ashamed. Therefore, we would the graph of the questions they ask? I should think not.

better refer to somebody in a more or less contemptuous tone as 'just a sales man.' He was simply advertising his ignorance of the fact that it is 'just sales men' who improve his well-being, increase his comfort and generally make his rife worth living. If you want an idea of what life would be like without sales men, try the Fiji or South Sea Islands. They have not a solitary salesman. The United States is plumb full of them.
