

HERE WE HAVE THE WIRELESS PARASOL. Yes, the parasol has wires. They are used with the receiving wireless set. All you have to do is tie up to a fire hydrant or some other material that will act as a ground. Then start your set working.

DANIELS KEEPS HIS CHAIR. The secretary of the navy didn't want to go home without the chair he has used in meetings of the cabinet. Members of Congress from North Carolina bought the chair and presented it to the retiring navy head.

A SIX-YEAR-OLD SKIING TEACHER. At the left is Master Peter Lunn, son of Arnold Lunn, the skiing expert, who is teaching his playmates the art.

THROUGH THE SNOW AND OVER THE FENCES. Cadets at the Pennsylvania Military College are doing their winter stunts. In the group are (left to right) Albert Nobles, 1817 Spruce street; Newton Wyman, Chester; William D. Boswell, Troy, N. Y.; Moderall K. Salen, Rosemont; Abram Minus, Jr., Savannah, Ga., and Charles Allen, Washington, D. C.

HOOVER VISITS ALEXANDER. Herbert W. Hoover (right), appointed by President-elect Harding as secretary of commerce, called on Joshua W. Alexander, the present secretary, a few days ago.

CHAMPION HIGH-JUMPER. Elise Constant, sixteen-year-old French girl, who cleared the bar at 4 feet 8 inches.

CONGRESSMAN WAS PASSENGER BRAKEMAN. Patrick McLane, Democrat, represented the Scranton section until unseated a few days ago in favor of Congressman Farr.

MISS ELIZABETH McELROY appeared last night in "Why Not?" as a flower girl.

FIRST NIGHT OF "WHY NOT?" Miss Caroline Nixon, Miss Frances Leech, Miss Rachel Price and Miss Betty Elliott (left to right), as Rittenhouse flower market aides, at the Little Theatre, last evening.

WINTER SPORT ON THE BEACH. Peggy Barnett, of Philadelphia, enjoying the waves and breezes, as she rides in the airplane-cart, at Atlantic City.

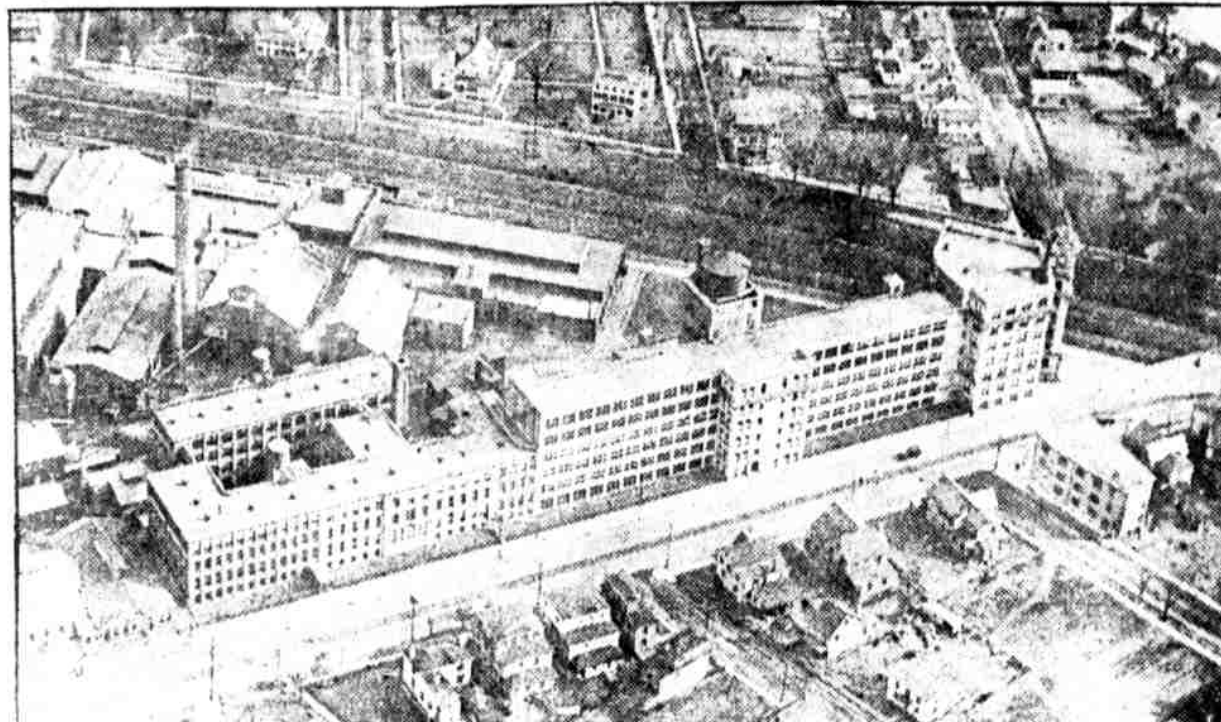

INCOME ASSURANCE SYNDICATE EMPLOYEES' JURY PICK LIM'ICK WINNER, announced today on Page 2. In the picture, from left to right, are Albert C. Stocker, J. W. Gwilliam, C. Kienle, Miss M. J. Wood, E. G. Hess, Miss Miriam, E. Polis, Frank S. Fite and Alfred P. Sykes.

JOHN L. CLARKSON, of the National Federation of Construction Industries, talks on building construction in an Editorial Page interview.

RETIRED YESTERDAY. Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, head of the navy general board.

A SECTION OF RIVERSIDE, N. J. The flying photographer snapped the plant of the Keystone Watch Case Co., along the railroad at Riverside, from the Ledger newspaper, a few days ago. Part of the town was also on the negative.

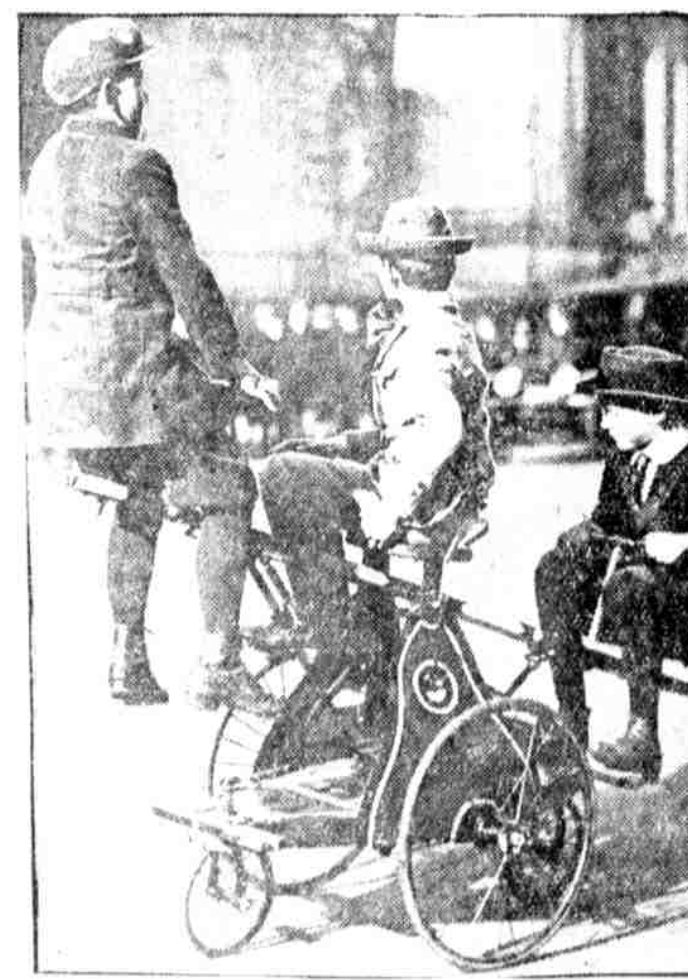

CYNWYD GRAMMAR SCHOOL TEACHERS SELECT WINNER FOR JACK'S JINGLE. The children's award is announced on the page "opposite the comics." Left to right (sitting), Martha Addis, Ardmore; Arnes Hoffman, Ardmore; Kathryn Forrest, Ardmore; (standing) Edna Adams Philadelphia; Minnie Dukes, Philadelphia; Esther McKeon (principal), Philadelphia, and Lillian Kocce Philadelphia.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

MISS OLGA McNEILL operating a machine at the Edwin J. Schoettli Co. box works, 593 North Eleventh street, which attaches corner and edge stays to the boxes.

THE LAST WORD IN PASSENGER CONVEYANCES. It sure will make a hit with the boys and girls. The new machine is known as a "esquemoobile." It runs just as long as the boys keep occupying.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

STATIONED AT THIRTEENTH AND ARCH STREETS. Reserve Patrolman John McMahon has been at that station for three months. He lives at 248 North Sixteenth street. McMahon has been a patrolman for fourteen years.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MRS. ARTHUR F. MUSGRAVE, wife of the secretary of the British embassy, both Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave are painters.

MISS ROSE SILVERMAN 4745 Garden street Philadelphia