

BROWN DEFENDS WORK OF COURT

Judge Tells Rotary Club Why He Believes His Tribunal Is Worthy

GIVES DETAILS OF CASES

The "human side" of the work of the Municipal Court was emphasized yesterday by President Judge Charles L. Brown in an address before the Rotary Club in which he defended the court's social value.

The emotion in the judge's voice hinted at the resentment he feels toward criticism of the court's extravagances. He ignored the court's $1,000,000 payroll and did not allude to the controversy over the Municipal Court "palace of justice."

Business men who wanted the trial of cases expedited were back of the movement which led to the creation of the Municipal Court. Judge Brown said. He pointed out that cases may be tried there without a jury, if the litigants so choose, thereby saving time.

Discussing the juvenile branch, where he presides, the judge said 12,932 cases of children have been handled in the last year. In six years, he said, 71,187 cases of children have been brought before that branch.

Judge Brown referred to the progress made in the domestic relations branch. As a contrast, he said, 189 domestic discord cases were heard before the Court of Quarter Sessions in two hours. He asked how justice could be done under such circumstances.

The court now has the volunteer services, he said, of Dr. Charles Penrose, Dr. J. Chalmers Du Costa and Dr. D. J. McCarthy. Those medical men tell the court when disease or nervous trouble is responsible for the situations that bring individual cases before the tribunal.

The Municipal Court's domestic relations branch, Judge Brown continued, strives to reunite homes that have been broken up or are threatened with disruption. The efforts are successful in 20 per cent of the cases, he said.

Judge Brown praised the co-operation given by Thomas W. Cunningham as clerk of the Municipal Court. Mr. Cunningham's office, the judge said, has collected a total of $4,779,154.99 from delinquent husbands, turning the money over to their wives within twenty-four hours after its receipt. The judge added that as business men the Rotarians would be surprised to know that the cost of such collection work is only 4 per cent of the total.

FIRE SWEEPS GLASS PLANT
Burning of Tank Causes Loss of $700,000

Barnesville, O., March 3.—(By A. P.)—When a tank filled with molten glass burst early today, fire started which destroyed the Kearns-Gorner glass plant here with a loss estimated at $700,000.

A warehouse filled with finished ware also was destroyed. The plant employed 400 persons. Last Friday the Roby Cigar Factory was destroyed by fire with a loss of $200,000.

HARRISBURG MAN MISSING

State Police Search Mountains for Retired Merchant

Shenandoah, Pa., March 3.—Leaving the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Snyder, in Frackville, about noon Monday, George L. Bair has not been seen or heard from since and his relatives are much alarmed over his disappearance. Mr. Bair is a retired merchant of Shenandoah. He sold out his business and property at a handsome profit several months ago and moved to Harrisburg. He passed Sunday with his daughter in Frackville. When he left there he told her he was coming to Shenandoah to visit his son, Eugene Bair.

Search was instituted when it was learned that Mr. Bair had not reached here or his home in Harrisburg. The state police are scouring the mountains in the vicinity, but no trace of him has been found. The missing man is about fifty-seven years old.
