Treasury Will Require Three Months to Itemize Expenditures by Wilson

$150,000 USED BY BARUCH

By the Associated Press
 Washington, March 9.—It will require at least three months for the treasury department to submit an itemized statement showing detailed expenditures under the $150,000,000 special war funds set aside for the use by the President. Such a statement was called for in a resolution adopted two weeks ago by the House of Representatives. The resolution members evinced particular interest in the detailed expenses of the American peace commission at Paris.

The report, transmitted by President Wilson previous to adjournment of Congress and made public today, total net disbursements were $114,367,770. It was stated that there was an unallotted balance of about $22,000,000 and that approximately $23,000,000 had been carried to the surplus fund.

Mr. Wilson sent to the House a letter from the secretary of the treasury, saying: "In view of the fact that the disbursements represent for the most part advances of funds for disbursing officers upon accountable warrants, it cannot be said that the figures are final or that they necessarily represent actual expenditures. In order to determine actual expenditures out of funds advanced on accountable warrants, it is of course necessary to examine and settle the accounts of the disbursing officers concerned. The audit for the state and other departments which examines these accounts of the disbursing officers concerned advises that it will take about three months to complete the examination."

Each of the fund allotted the State Department was for use in Russia, including $5,000,000 for the civilian population in the Archangel district and $4,500,000 for operation and maintenance of the trans-Siberian and Chinese eastern railways.

B. M. Baruch, a technical advisor to the peace mission, was allotted $150,000 for expenses. The shipping board was allotted $7,000,000 for purchase and repair of German and Austrian vessels.

The treasury said in its letter accompanying the report that the principal account of the war appropriations were in a number of cases reimbursed in whole or in part and that the amounts of allotments so restored were available for reallocation. In this way each account operated after the manner of a revolving fund. Allotments exceeded the total appropriation, but actual disbursements were less.

British Blame Berlin for Break

 urged that the force be retained at its former strength. The newspapers are appearing under the impression that they so far have abstained from referring anywhere in their columns to the occupation.

Paris, March 9.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, the German ambassador, left Paris for Berlin this morning.

Brussels, March 9.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Landsberg, German minister here, who has been recalled by his government, left Brussels yesterday for Berlin.

It was semi-officially announced in Berlin Tuesday that the German diplomatic representatives at London, Paris and Brussels had been summoned to Berlin. A London dispatch yesterday states that Dr. Stanner, the German ambassador to Great Britain, would leave London for Berlin within a few hours, the embassy to remain open with the consul in charge.

Berlin, March 9.—(By A. P.)—The public in the streets of Berlin evidently gave no indications of resentment today at the Entente occupation of additional German territory. Its conduct was conspicuously in keeping with the unpopularity displayed by editorial writers, whose comment today showed unusual reserve, as compared with their outbursts on the allied advance into Germany a year ago. Curiosity was the chief symptom of the situation, which as yet is wholly an enigma, even the authorities being unable to confer the scope and nature of the territorial which the Entente has threatened to put into operation.

Reichstag Not Excited
 The Reichstag also has refused to get excited and has settled down to consideration of the regular calendar after listening to Chancellor Brüning's statement concerning the results of the London negotiations and voting upon a motion by Brüning to leave the London liberations discussed in plenary session. The Reichstag will convene tomorrow to permit the committee on foreign relations to hold an executive session with Dr. Simons, the foreign minister, who is expected back in Berlin Wednesday night. The foreign minister already is being sharply attacked in a section of the nationalist press for failing to make a sterner protest against the occupation of war guilt. He is accused of having to have the usual bookkeeping of the cabinet.

The German Strömmung leader of the Reichstag's party and chairman of the foreign relations committee today pronounced the present situation a "transitory stage" which cannot possibly continue any length of time, adding that it is bound to arouse indignation in the Entente unless Brüning's solution includes the renunciation of violent aspirations.

Dr. Brüning predicted that another conference was bound to succeed the London deliberations, at which Germany would again be called upon to resume tolerable and impossible conditions.

Says New War Begun
 Vorwärts charges that formally and legally the Entente has begun a new war, thus admitting the terms of the Peace Treaty are inadequate and demand revision, and that the Allies thus have indisputably violated the treaty.

Official and financial circles in Berlin admit having issued a busy day regarding the effect of the customs regulations along the Rhine which the Entente intends imposing as part of the penalties. The procedure, as such, is branded a flagrant violation of Article 270 of the Peace Treaty, which permits the erection of a customs regime only if the economic interests of the populations of the occupied territories demand such a measure.

Suspicion is expressed in certain quarters that the Entente is seeking to get a firmer grip on Germany's coal production, thus enabling it to control even the domestic distribution. The Tagblatt declares other routes are open to keep the south German industries supplied than those controlled by the French. It brands as a childish ill-

DEDICATE "SENIOR ARCH"

Penn Students Also Unveil Tablet on "Junior Balcony"

With ceremonies destined to become traditional in life at the University of Pennsylvania, the "senior arch" in the dormitory triangle was dedicated to the senior class this morning. A tablet on the "junior balcony" also was unveiled by the seniors.

The junior balcony is the terrace balcony in the big quadrangle, and was dedicated to the junior class last November by Dr. Edgar Fahs Smith, then provost. The seniors today dedicated a tablet placed by the class of 1921 on the balcony to commemorate the event.

Following the dedication ceremonies, which were performed in a drizzling rain, the class marched to Hounston Hall, where it was addressed by Roland S. Morris, ambassador to Japan. J. C. Tolson, president of the senior class, acted as chairman at the dedication ceremony, the speaker being Acting Provost Pennington. Each year hereafter the junior class at the end of their term, will accept from the seniors the senior arch and pass to the Juniors who succeed them the junior balcony.

BILL FORCES CAR SERVICE

If Trolleys Are Not Operated Tracks Must Be Removed

Harrisburg, March 9.—Representative McCarthy, Philadelphia, has a bill in the House providing that every street passenger railway company operating within the commonwealth shall maintain a schedule of cars on each of its lines running at intervals not exceeding fifteen minutes and that within ninety days after the approval of the act tracks not used for street railway passenger service shall be removed, together with wires and poles, at the expense of the owner.

In cases where owners fail to make removal the municipal authorities are to have the work done at the expense of the owners.

The German plan, it is believed, is to denounce the occupation of the Rhine Treaty and to bring about once more a "state of war" between Germany and the Allies involving annulment of the Versailles Treaty and the chance of compelling a new and more favorable peace. While again in a state of war with the Allies, Germany hopes to be able to conclude a separate peace with America, paving the way to a new general peace conference by which Germany alone can profit.

RENAMES TREASURY AIDES

Harding Makes Temporary Appointments Pending Reorganization

Washington, March 9.—(By A. P.)—Three assistant secretaries of the treasury, S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., of Bloomfield, N. J.; Ewing La Folle, of St. Louis; and Nicholas Kelley, of New York, were renominated today by President Harding.

It is understood the selections are temporary in order to give the three officials a definite status until the department can be reorganized by the new administration. Mr. Gilbert is assistant secretary in charge of fiscal affairs; Mr. La Folle has charge of internal revenue, war risk insurance and customs, and Mr. Kelley is in charge of foreign loans.

LAMONT CALLS ON HARDING

Confers With President on Chinese Famine Relief

Washington, March 9.—(By A. P.)—Thomas W. Lamont, of New York, who was one of the financial advisers to the Peace Commission at Versailles, conferred today with President Harding. Afterward he said his call was primarily in the interest of Chinese famine relief in which he had taken an active part, and declined to indicate to what extent financial questions were discussed at the conference.

Mr. Lamont has seen Mr. Harding several times since his election to the presidency and has submitted not only his opinion regarding the outstanding European loans but also a detailed plan for rehabilitating the United States Government financially by a system of tariff and taxation.

House Gets Measure Sending Children of 6 Years to School

Harrisburg, March 9.—Another of the series of bills advocated by Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, state superintendent of public instruction, has been offered in the House. That lowers the compulsory attendance age of school children from eight to six years and J. A. Sprows, Washington county, is the sponsor. In the rural communities, where there are difficulties in the way of six-year-old children getting to school, reasonable excuses will be accepted under the terms of the measure.

Ford Alleges Fraud by Employees

Detroit, March 9.—Several employees of the Ford Motor Co. have defrauded the company's retail store of more than $30,000 in one month, Thomas Kelley, an investigator, said yesterday. Court-ordered charge slips were used in recording purchases, Kelley said.

FIGHT PACKERS' PROGRAM

Meat Cutters and Butchers Meet to Consider New Wage Schedule

Omaha, Neb., March 9.—(By A. P.)—With a declaration that "a strike will be our last resort" by Dennis F. Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of North America, the executive committee of the union went into session this morning to consider the wage reduction announced by the packers yesterday. The eight-hour day and arbitration agreements on wages of packing house employees were expected to be the principal recommendations drafted by the committee. The wage cut would receive the consideration of the employees and some agreement probably could be reached, but the workers will not consent to a ten-hour working day without protest, according to Mr. Lane.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF GOODRICH
 "Best in the Long Run" is more than a phrase—it is a principle inseparably connected with the name of Goodrich. It typifies the ideal of service that governs the manufacture of every Goodrich product.
THE REAL MEANING OF "BEST IN THE LONG RUN"
 THE MOTTO of Goodrich, from the very first day the company started—fifty years ago—was, "Let us make goods destined for service." The thought of service dominated the work of the organization, for it was rightly realized that only upon the service the products of the company rendered to their users could an enduring concern be built.
 Eventually this principle was crystallized into the five words which are now so well and widely known as the Goodrich slogan—"Best in the Long Run." It is almost as old as the history of tires for it grew out of the performance of Goodrich Tires on bicycles. And it grew into the dependability of Goodrich rubber products of all kinds.
 It is not just a catch phrase. It is a plain statement of fact. It is really a mirroring of the confidence placed in Goodrich products by their users. In five words it expresses the ideals, the policies, the principles of the institution. It means the "long run" of good faith and good will—the steady building up of confidence in the minds of customers—which is the greatest asset a manufacturer can have.
 Quality and service—that is how Goodrich translates this slogan into terms of longest average wear, utmost dependability and known value in all that it produces. It must be "Best in the Long Run."
