HONOR CITY "HELLO MAN"

Switchboard Operator

"Congratulations?" shouted forty-odd police sergeants this morning into the ear of John A. Hennessy, super-visor of the police telephone switch-board, when he "plugged in" as many lights which had appeared on his board. The congratulatory shout was a relief and a surprise to Hennessy, for when he saw every light on his switchboard appear he thought that nothing less than the demolishment of the city was at hand.

S PRESENTED IN SENATE was at hand.
Hennessy has been in the city's service twenty years today, and this was the manner in which the police sergeants, who had grown accustomed to his voice over the phone, paid him

Bishop Berry Presiding Over Eighty-fifth Session at Asbury Park

DEAD PASTORS EULOGIZED

Asbury Park, March 9.—Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of Philadelphia, is presiding at the eighty-fifth annual session of the New Jersey Methodist Episcopal Conference, which opened this morning in First Methodist Episcopal Church. Following the opening service last night members of the conference and delegates inspected the new structure, recently erected at a cost of $200,-000.

until next Monday morning, when the meetings will be brought to a close with the announcement of the appointments by Bishop Berry. Few important topics are scheduled for debate at the sessions.

tertaining church. Obituary notices for deceased pastors and wives of ministers of the conference who have died since the last session, a year ago, were prepared by designated ministers and read during the service. Two ministers died quired for passage, but the wets say the opposition will not muster more than unety supporters.

Atco and Chesilhurst, who died recently at Keyport, and the Rev. J. Ward Clark, retired, of Pitman.

Memorial notices for wives of two supply pastors were also read. They Mr. Tope declared the tactics of the wets in trying to block the reporting out of the bill from the law and order committee have prefuced a reaction among friends of the liquor cause and that several have indicated a readiness to vote for the Martin measure.

Governor Sproul is reported as not being at all pleased with the attempted blockade by the wets.

The amendments to the original measure provide for first conviction a fine of from $100 to $1000, or from thirty days to a year in jail, or both, and for subsequent offenses $500 to $5000 fine, and imprisonment from thirty days to a year in jail, or both, and for subsequent offenses $500 to $5000 fine, and imprisonment from thirty days to a year in jail, or both, and for subsequent offenses $500 to $5000 fine, and imprisonment from thirty days to a year in jail, or both, and for the first time men acceptance for Mrs. Gifford, wife of the Rev.
