"THE GREAT FIRE"

The Smell of Smoke

MY FIRE story is about two young owls who came near getting burned up in a hollow tree began Reddy Woodpecker, beginning his tale. "Oh! Ooh!" groaned Great Horned Owl, trying to squeeze through the door of the hollow tree where he was shut in of the hollow tree where he was shut it because he had become so fat he couldn't because he had become so fat he couldn't set out.

These two young owis were had young owis and had been trying to find hirds eggs to eat." Went on Reday Wood pocker, winking at Billy and Peggy. for he was telling his fire story as part of Billys plan to drive Great Horned Gw. out of Birdiand. "They found the nest of King Bird in an old tree Three nire eggs were in the nest 'Whoopee' said the young owis 'Here is where we feast on freele eggs.

"But just then along came Ising Bird to see if all was well with his nest. He got there just as the young owis were going to grab two of the eggs. Is wit: chirped King Bird, and he gave the biggest owl a peck that made him see stars. Kwit: and he gave the other owl a dig in the neek. Then kwit kwit kwit and how he did stash those young owis. And he kept on slashing them until they hid in a hole at the bottom of a hollow tree.

"King Bird, didn't follow them into

The fire stread faster and faster, and faster, screamed Reddy Woodpecker in an excited voice. The inside of the tree strew hoffer and hotter. The young owls better his wild fish, and then what do you think happened for all the birds were in wild fish, and then what do you think happened. They were birned up, for just as the tree begin to hisze I came over and whispered a message in Judge own the perch at the door. They were not burned up, for just as the tree begin to hisze I came over and whispered a message in Judge own the perch at the door of the tree, smid Billy Grab firm your red glasses. That is part of my plan. Judge own indied and fiew up to the perch healde the door. That he may sharp beak. Brasered Reddy Woodpecker, who sat seewing before the fire with my sharp beak. Brasered Reddy Woodpecker when of a sudden I thought of a plan. What? hooted fireat Horned ow!

"It was to out a hole in the tree with my sharp beak. Brasered Reddy Woodpecker, who sat seewing before the fire with my sharp beak. Brasered Reddy Woodpecker, when of the door. There was a given of fresh, winter all and roared, and the young owls only a sudden I thought of a plan. There was a given of fresh, winter all and roared, and the young owls only a sudden I bored while the fire roared and implored me to hurry. The fire erept closer and closer. Than I got the hole big enough so the smallest owl of the door. "I am positive there was fatter and got stuck I grabbed him and pulled and priled." Oh!" shrieked Great Horned Ow!" So am I agreed her daughter, as hore and switched the red goggles over Great Horned Owls every. But the hunt was in vain for no crevillated the dark coggles of Great Horned Ow!"
