Geo. B. Newton Coal Co.

We advise you not to buy during March any more coal than you absolutely must have to carry you through the month. By waiting until April first before placing your order for next winter's coal you will get the full benefit of our lowered spring prices, which will go into effect on that date.

This advice is in line with the Newton policy of helping Newton customers in every way possible to save money on their coal. Newton coal, at any time, is the best obtainable. This is because it is selected by Newton experts at the mines and put through the Newton process of re-cleaning, re-sifting and regrading at our yards. And our special department of Heating Experts is at your service to advise you how to run your furnace most economically.

Our 27 yards in Philadelphia and suburbs can make immediate delivery of any size of household coal-but until April first don't order any more than you really need to see you through to the end of March.
