

IDENTIFY WOMAN IN STILLMAN CASE

Mrs. Leeds Proves to Be the "Chicken Girl" in Century Roof Production

BEAUTY SOON LEFT STAGE

New York, March 18.—Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, whose identification in the Stillman case by Mrs. Anne Englehart Stillman, wife of James A. Stillman, the banker, has become a sensation, is to be identified as the "chicken girl" in the Century Roof production.

Mrs. Leeds, who is 35 years old, appeared in the Century Roof production in 1919, and since then has been identified as the "chicken girl" in the Century Roof production.

It was reported yesterday that Mrs. Leeds had been identified in the Century Roof production as the "chicken girl" in the Century Roof production.

MRS. CLARA HAMON QUICKLY ACQUITTED

Kisses Jury Foreman Who Tells Her "Go and Sin No More"

GOING TO SEE SICK FATHER

By the Associated Press. Ardmore, Okla., March 18.—Free of the charge of murder for the shooting of Duke L. Hamon by the jury's verdict late yesterday, Clara Hamon today was planning to leave Ardmore, the scene of her ten years' association with Hamon which culminated in his shooting last November.

After a rest lasting a week, the jury in the Hamon case debated its verdict for forty minutes, agreeing upon acquitting the defendant in the first ballot.

Clara Hamon, 37, with tears streaming down her face, when she heard the verdict, Mrs. Duke L. Hamon, the widow, who attended nearly all sessions of the trial, went home when the jury retired, and members of her family, who had not yet been told the verdict.
