LE VITTIME DELLE BOMBE IN MILANO

Per L'Esplosione al Teatro Diana Trentun Persone Son Rimaste Uccise

Published and Distributed Under PERMIT NO. 841. Authorized by the act of October 3, 1917, on file at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa. A. S. BURLESON, Postmaster General.

Milano, 24 marzo.—Gli ultimi rapporti concernenti l'esplosione delle bombe al Teatro Diana dimostrano che il numero delle persone ha raggiunto la cifra di 31 e che i feriti sono più di cento. Nove di questi feriti si trovano in condizioni disperate.

L'esplosione fu una delle più terribili. Enorme fu l'eccezionalità che seguì, giacché tutte le luci si spensero e non si udì che le grida ed il pianto dei feriti e degli scampati.

La polizia ha proceduto all'arresto di parecchi anarchici sospettati di aver compiuto per l'esplosione delle bombe, quale protesta contro l'imprigionamento del loro capo Enrico Malatesta.

I fascisti oggi presero d'assalto gli uffici del giornale anarchico "La Nuova Umanità" e li distrussero. Durante l'incendio di detti uffici, vari mobili esplosivi, cosa questa che lascia supporre che contenevano delle bombe.

Altri fascisti attaccarono e distrussero il quartier generale delle unioni anarchiche e sindacaliste. Un'altra esplosione è oggi avvenuta agli impianti elettrici ove sembra fossero state poste tre bombe.

Lo scoppio dichiarato a Genova per ottenere il rilascio del Malatesta, continua. A Milano lo scoppio è limitato ad un'ora al giorno.

I comunisti di Roma stanno organizzando uno sciopero generale per venerdì.

Londra, 25 marzo.—Le autorità di Milano hanno appurato che le bombe fatte esplodere al Teatro Diana in detta città, mercoledì notte, hanno ucciso 31 persone e che furono piazzate da tre individui, secondo un dispaccio qui giunto alla Central News Co. Si dice che uno dei detti tre individui si trovava arrestato dai carabinieri e stato ucciso sulle mani in seguito all'esplosione.

Roma, 24 marzo.—Oggi alla presenza del Re Vittorio Emanuele è stato inaugurato un busto alla memoria di David Lubin, fondatore dell'Istituto Internazionale d'Agricoltura in Roma.

Il busto è opera pregevole dello scultore Rutelli.

Il Re pronunziò un breve discorso e ricordò le sue personali relazioni con Mr. Lubin. Alla cerimonia assistevano varie autorità cittadine e diplomatiche.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Ieri sera in questa città è proclamato in casa di una sua sorella, al N. 907 So. 15th Street, cognova di vivere la buona e distinta signora Luisa Lombardi, del 1818 So. Broad Street, moglie affezionata del sig. Roberto Lombardi, uno dei più noti contrattori e Presidente della Sons of Italy State Bank e del Circolo Italiano. La notizia divulgata rapidamente nella Colonia Italiana ha profondamente addolorato. I funerali avranno luogo martedì mattina partendo dalla residenza predetta alla tredicesima strada.

A causa del lutto di cui sopra, un banchetto d'addio al Regio Consolo Cav. Silenzi è stato rimandato a mercoledì sera.

Ask Commission in Lunacy. Atlantic City, March 25.—Application for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the lunacy of Joseph Vioi, a farmer of Landisville, who shot and killed Daniel Martindell, of Philadelphia, his son-in-law, was made yesterday by Eugene M. Schwinghammer. The application recites that Vioi said he did not know his attorney, and intimated he had stolen the letter in which he was asked to act for him.

Reading to Pave 37 Blocks. Council Approves Plans for Work to Cost $370,000. Reading, March 25.—City Council has approved the selection of thirty-seven blocks of city streets for paving as soon as contracts can be awarded under weather conditions permit.

William H. Venger, councilman, presiding, estimated showing a cost of about $10,000 a block, or about $370,000 for the whole job. That will be exclusive of extensive resurfacing and repair paving operations later in the season. The contract will give many idle men working at a time when industrial operations here are very dull.
