WHAT A "REALTOR" MEANS TO THE PUBLIC

A "Realtor" is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Real estate brokers who are bound by the code of ethics of this Association. The exclusive right of the National Association of Real Estate Boards limits the use of the word to members of this Association. The public should recognize that there is a difference between brokers who adopt the Golden Rule and are pledged to deal fairly, squarely and liberally with the public, and those who have not adopted these methods. Real estate brokers in general may not use the designation, "Realtor," and those members of local boards who are entitled to use it accept the corresponding responsibility of conducting their business according to the National Association's code of ethics.

The "Realtors" advertising in this block are Members of THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE BOARD
