A Host of Fine New Goods to Greet Capricious April

This Is the Eventful Moment of the Birth of a New Day in the great waste of dark waters of the mysterious Gulf of Mexico, as seen from the West Coast of Florida.

Strange birds on the wing, some of which poise in the air and sleep, are now darting hither and thither. Reverently speaking, the housekeepers of the firmament have unfolded a day spread over the bed of stars, and they are covered for the day.

A narrow, pale yellow ribbon of faintest hue slowly unrolls low down along the edge of the sea and begins to widen.

The quiet waters seem to catch a new life as the spirit of the new day stretches over them.

You may see a few clouds breaking to make way for the great luminary, soon to arrive. Her little finger is the signal of her nearness, and a multitude of sea birds dart about, and one may almost hear the fluttering of their wings as they welcome their great mother for whom they form an escort as she marches majestically along the lustrous pathway she makes for herself, step by step, over the deep sea.

Even a blind man by feeling can see the wondrous marvels of the sunrise at sea.

The Opportunity of Years in Dining-Room and Bedroom Suits of the Finest Grade

This is a furniture store in which unprecedented things are not uncommon, but the manufacturers' readjustment sale of dining-room and bedroom suits now going on is probably the most astonishing event we have ever held.

No sale ever presented such a collection of highgrade suits at 40 per cent below the market value.

For the many homes that have been waiting an opportunity to buy a bedroom suit or dining-room suit of the finest grade at something like the old-time prices it is the opportunity of years.

These are suits of the finest character, soundly and substantially constructed and modeled after the most desirable period types: Chippendale, Queen Anne, William and Mary, Renaissance, Sheraton, Heppelwhite. Practically all of them are in either walnut or mahogany.

They come from four makers of the finest-grade furniture in America, who, being eager to restart their factories, wanted a quick outlet for their stocks-on-hand. In providing the outlet we believe we have done a splendid service to our customers and they know it. (Fifth Floor, Chestnut)
