XVII.—"He Frightens Me!"

HALF-DOUBTFULLY, Dick drew evening. Mary-Miss Drew-1 want to take you for a motor run. You dinner, without the presence of this noisy crowd

Her previous experience of dancing bad been in private homes—in intimate affairs. This place was so large.

Over her shoulder Mary flung a discussion—don't crowth of that? F either is appropriate But I would tell you to wenr the dis-

Masquerading

To the Edition of Whoman is Proc. Dear Madaball non as interested reader of your count and would block psk you a few a restions.

I am going to a macuterade party and do not know of anything suitable twear. Could you suggest something one mane the material to be used.

HANNAH R.

A very pretty and striking costumfor a massurerie in the balloon six and it wouldn't be a bit hard to may rise out of tarletan. Have a raiser laid color combination such as orangematerial, with bright blue balloon, or gray with red balloons. The wints can be made either round for mynare-mothed,
and the skirr is rather short and fulwith the balloons f stened around it have a tarletan sap, with they balloon portpons.

Another attractive way to dress is in the resolute frace. This is made of remode the in about five different states of place from deepest certise to this shell-plac. The areas is unide cheepest to a saries of points which are effective and of course, very shaple to ext. The girdle is of cheepest that indeed to be of cheese both their indeed, are sith long ends. A tight-diting turbin, which is deep black triumed with green creps paper leaves completes the countries. I hope you will like these suggestions, and will carry one of them out successfully.

A Wedding in May

A Wedding in May

To the Educe of Women's Pract

Dear Madium—I want to ask you several questions about a charen wedding to take place in May in the evening.
The party will consist of three brides maids, three ushers, reald of honor, best man and two flower girls.

What position sloes the wedding party assume at the altar? The father of the bride will give her away.

Will it be proper for the maid of honor to carry flowers and the bridesmails to carry feather fans?

When the bride and bridegroom go up when the bride and bridegroom go up to the altar, the brides father steps back and takes his place in the pew where the mother is standing, which is the first

What to Do By CYNTHIA

Please Tell Me

HALF-DOUBTFULLY, Dick drew out his eigarette-case.

"D'you mind if I smoke?" he said wouldn't be afraid to go with me? I phoned the garage for a car. I've phoned the garage for They'd been so happy all alone at dinner, without the presence of this dinner, without the presence of dancing. Her previous experience of dancing had been in private homes—in intimate affairs. This place was so large, so grand, so packed.

She couldn't be her right self her. What Julian Vandaveer had told her was in a measure true. She was infinitely more at home upon the moors, the hills, the quite places.

"Mr. Calardin, please let us get away from here! Oh, you must think me foolish, changeable.] I wanted awfully much to see this place, I know. But, now I've seen it, it—it seems so her and cowied—and one cannot raik all. And Mr. Vandaveer is sure to come back and—and ask into dance with him—and, oh—he frightens me!" Without a word liek rese. But it was assuiling now. His equanimity was restored.

"Yes, I'll be gind to go. Only—I was standing bareheaded on the pure sparkling." "Get on your things and meet me in the hall. And then we'll like it up."

Mary, too, was smiling as the artendant wrapted her velvet cloak about her. Eve and Dick's common she, Eve and Dick's common she and common she, Eve and Dick's c Dear Cynthia -Once before I have written to your interesting column, but wanted to be all alone with Dick Calardin.

She came out to the entrance hall slow it up, too, when necessity arose. He drove for the next part with one tand upon the wheel. But Many's confidence in the joing man was limitless.

"It's only it o'clock." he said.
"and—and full meon. A glorious Tomorrow—A Long Road

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYES

By JEAN NEWTON

An Old Man's Darling

Lp"

Dear Cynthia—Though I have read your interesting column for a long time. Have never before written in.
Will you give me a little space to express my opinion of dancing in?
I'm just an every-day girl, not especially beautiful or bright, and not terribly popular. I know lots of boys, however, and manage to have a very good time. I'm sure I don't know what my sister and I would de without our phonograph and the newest dance; records. We have a bunch of the neighborhood boys in every Friday or Saturday evening and what good times we do have! The boys bring banjos, mandelins, guitars, etc., and we have dandy music.

IT'S A NEW HAT

your old hat. Perhaps last year's leghorn or French straw is sunburned or faded in places on the crown. If it is, why don't you cover them with some of these attractive flat flowers embroidered with raffia? They petal-like points, bind them with ribbon to hide the wired edge and con-

"FIFTY-FIFTY"

By HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR Copyright, 1921. by Public Ledger Co.

to Jerry, which scheme did not work at all. Jerry grow to think of his at all, Jerry grew to think of his nife as another man, and treated her in accordance. It was not at all the kind of thing Frances wanted, and she realized her mistake as soon as the Harlages moved into the same apartment house and she saw Jerry's attitude toward Clarissa. But do schot she would, Frances could not appeal to Jerry in the way she wanted until, having neglected her work, she lost her position, and then and tell you she's sorry for what she said."

'Oh, no. Jim, please don't say anything like that to her, she'd hate me. She would think that you and I had been talking about her.' and with one hand on his arm was looking at him imploringly. "Please don't. Let me Jim drew back, and somewhat uncer-

But it affords wonderful possibilities as a pattern for the remodeling of are easily made. Then, if the brim is wabbly, you could cut it into these sider yourself all dressed up with a brand-new hat and so as she was carning a good salary veriting a column for a newspeper, she insisted upon paying half the bills after she was married to Jerry, which scheme did not work to Jerry, which scheme did not work to Jerry, which scheme did not work to Jerry what she was tall you she's sorre for what she

Frances Page wanted to be modern | you alone, you'll be able to adjust

THROUGH A WOMANS EVES TO A BOTTON STATUS AND ARRAY AND A STATUS AND ARRAY AND ARRAY

Round Package

Infants and Children thrive on it. Agrees with the weakest stomach of the Invalid and Aged. Invigorating as a Quick Lunch at home or office.

Ask For and Get Horlick's thus Avoiding Imitations SUBSTITUTES Cost YOU Same Price

The Original Thick Corn Flakes

The distinctive corn flavor of JERSEY Corn Flakes takes them out of the "breakfast cereal" class and makes them a substantial and enjoyable food for every meal.

Ask your grocer The Jersey Cereal Food Co., Cereal, Penns. Also makers of Jersey Whole-Wheat Pancake Flour

Garn the

I SAW a new kind of chain today-I saw a new kind of chain today—or, at least, it was new to me. As evidence that it is more an addition to che's neck trimming rather than an actual necklace, I need only say that it is to be found in the neckwear department of the shop instead of in the jewelry department. But let me see if I can give you an idea of what it looks like. It is a three-quarter length chain, and about one-half its length is composed of black ribbon about a guar.

CAN forgive that, but I haven't and even humiliation, but think here chain, and about one-half its length is composed of black ribbon about a quarter of an inch wide. (The description sounds like specifications for building a submarine, doesn't it?) The rest of this unusual chain is composed of beads. The beads come in blue, green or almost any color you would want, and are of clear glass. Prices are $1, $1.25 and $1.50.

The same shop I told you about that is having a 20 per cent sale is having another special that may interest you. Napkins—dainty Madeira ones with a fairly elaborate and most attractive design in the corner of each—for $5.50.

This looks to me like rock bottom in Madeira napkin prices.

Tory.

But every time you think of the particular person whe has offended you, that offense looms up bigger than the person.

There's a strained feeling in your relations; there's something that keeps you apart and prevents the sympathy that makes intercourse easy and smooth.

I do not need to call your attention to the many advantages of the pretty blue and white Japanese toweling. It is always nice, in good taste, is cool looking and washes perfectly. Now, one shop has some blue and white strips about twelve inches wide, but it is different to desire from the local transfer of seen before. And, incidentally, I saw seen before. And, incidentally, I saw some pillows made up with it, and they are mighty nice. A strip containing ten blocks of the design costs $1.50.

And I should say that a block measures at least ten or twelve inches in length. This material is excellent for table runners, side curtains, tea cloths, and I even know one woman who sewed the even know one woman who sewed t

For names of shops address Woman's Page Editor or phone Walnut or Main 3000.

WHAT'S WHAT By HELEN DECIE

Adventures With a Purse YOU CANNOT FORGIVE UNLESS YOU FORGET, TOO.

agreed to put it all down as past his-

And then you say, "I'll forgive, but pairs of shoes neatly and sedately on the bonest with yourself; if you could for-give you could forget, too, because for-

And if you haven't forgotten it you haven't forgiven it.

THERE is a very fine distinction be-I tween forgiving and forgetting. It is easy to mistake one for the other. They are inseparable companions, and if you exercise one, the only way to do it thoroughly and properly is to use the other, too.

Of course there are some things that ought not to be forgiven.

When you know that some one is deliberately taking advantage of your good nature, over and over again, it's a dif-

If the earnest plea for forgiveness is only one of many, and you know that it does not come from the heart or any-where near the heart, it is not worth listening to.
That is one time that you can forget without forgiving, but you forget the person not the fact.

I CAN forgive that, but I haven't for a long time, either," said the girl who had been offended.

It is pretty hard to forgive some things—in fact it's almost impossible.

You think you have forgiven, you have accepted an apology, perhaps, and agreed to put it all down as past his.

able. You'll find that these gracious twins But every time you think of the particular person who has offended you, that offense looms up bigger than the person.

There's a strained feeling in your relations; there's something that keeps you apart and prevents the sympathy

A Sure-Enough Shoe Help

Are you one of those who spreads their floor of the closet, only to trip over these articles at least twice a day? If you are, you'll agree that something should

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries

In her will, what did Mrs. Rose E. Porcer, of Chicago, leave to her poodle dog? What old-fashioned modes are dressmakers trying to revive? Describe a new safety device for the talking machine. is extremely popular this spring? How is an attractive little "dressup" apron fashioned?

Describe a wholly original-locking centerpiece for the table.

Yesterday's Answers Mrs. A. B. Fall, whose hishand is a member of President Hard-ing's cabinet, is considered an authority on New Mexican history. Voile, with the dots put on it is a like manner, is an attractive substitute for the more expensive dotted swiss. The modern idea of indirect light ing is carried out in a graceful table lamp by having the shade of white glass reversed, so that it curves upward, and the open end is at the top. Loose trousers and a coolic jacket all of white linen, edged with bands of blue, make a cunning style of suit for the bay of three.

A handy thing that will remove fruit stains or rust from knices is an old cork. Large buckles are a fad, in the slipper world, which is again

ASCO ASCO

Again We Lead the Way!

Down Goes the Price

of "Asco" coffee in a sweeping reduction

Coffee now 25^c

Yesterday we unhesitatingly made this drastic cut in the price of the popular "Asco" Blend Coffee, in spite of the fact that coffees of the same high grade are selling elsewhere at 40c, 45c and 50c per lb.

This reduction is made possible only because of our close connections with the coffee producing centres of the world. Whenever conditions permit we are only too glad to give our customers the benefit of every market change. Upon this policy has been built the bond of confidence existing between our customers and ourselves, and which has been growing stronger and stronger during the thirty odd years of our business contact with the public.

Important!

Despite this big reduction in price, the quality of Asco Blend remains the same. We will continue to give you the same rich, rare combination of high-grade coffees from the world's finest coffee plantations—the same delightful aroma and wonderful flavor that have won for Asco Blend the reputation of being

"the best coffee at any price"

"Asco" Stores all over Phila, and throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland