

ATTENTION. Men, women and children from all walks of life were listening intently to General John J. Pershing as he pleaded for "one country—one language—one flag," when this photograph was taken at the Metropolitan Opera House last night. Ledger Photo Service

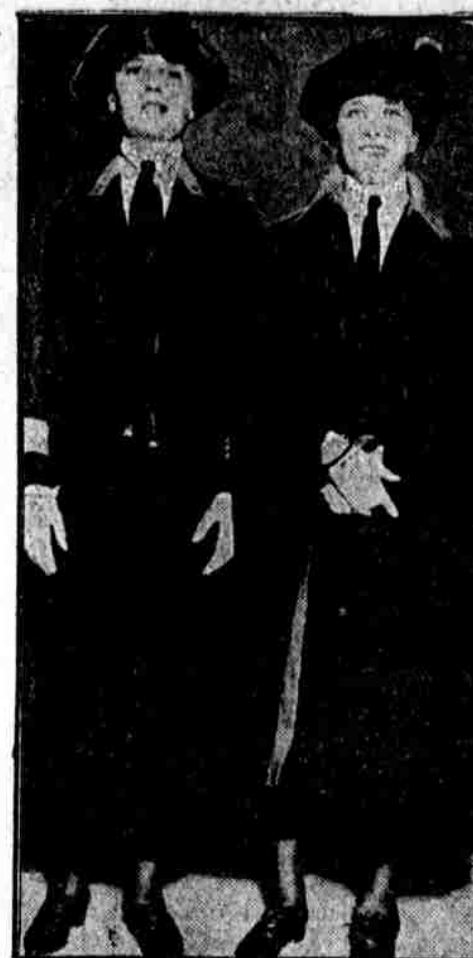

IN THE ALL-AMERICAN PARADE. Members of the Red-Cross Society of N. Snellenburg & Co., just before the parade started last night. They were in charge of Captain R. Lewis. Ledger Photo Service

CHILDREN AT LIBERTY SHRINE. The photograph was taken yesterday afternoon from the Public Ledger Building, while Judge John M. Patterson talked patriotism to the children. The Drexel Building is in the background. Ledger Photo Service

HEAD OF AMERICAN LEGION DIVISION. The color bearers were snapped as they left Broad and Diamond streets. They welcomed the orders to start. Ledger Photo Service

WITH THE EMERGENCY AID DELEGATION. Yes, they marched and marched well. They are Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell Madela and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton. Ledger Photo Service

TEACHERS FROM THE PALMER BUSINESS SCHOOL, 16 S. Tenth street, award Jack Jingle prize. Left to right (sitting), Anna M. Hallman, Alice L. Sherman, Margaret Newns, Agnes Bloomington, Ethel McGowan, Laura M. Koch; (standing), A. L. Parker, A. L. Reese, William W. Fry (principal), C. H. Clarke and R. J. MacDougall. Ledger Photo Service

IN PATRIOTIC PAGEANT. Ruth Rohner, one of the pupils of the Lea School, Forty-seventh and Locust streets. Ledger Photo Service

WILL FIGHT CHARGES MADE BY HER HUSBAND. Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, of New York, declares she will go on witness stand in divorce case. Her children are Muriel and Jimmy. International

MRS. SUSAN A. RADLEY, of Chicago, chairman of the National Committee of Quaker Descendants. Central News Photo

GENERAL PERSHING ARRIVING at Broad Street Station late yesterday afternoon. Ledger Photo Service

AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN. He was on his way to assist in selecting a new leader for England's Conservative party. Central News Photo

THE KAYOULA CATHOLIC CLUB selected today's winning limerick. These are the tellers: First row, left to right: William Warren, Harry A. Kerr, "Battling" Bob McCann, William Glackin, H. Rekefus, John A. Patton. Second row: John Hannigan, Bernard Gray, John Coffee, Joseph Fullam, Francis Carre, Ben Savadove, Daniel Shea. Ledger Photo Service

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

ALBERT HARDY, 1757 North Darien street, regulating and inspecting watches at the shop of F. L. Davis, manufacturing jeweler, 19 North Fifty-second street. Ledger Photo Service

WITH RUSSIAN HEAD DRESS. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, who will appear at a ball to be given on April 12, in Washington, for the Russian relief. M. & K. Photo

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

RESERVE PATROLMAN EDWARD J. KELLY, a baseball player, who has been stationed at Thirteenth and Market streets for a year. He is thirty years old and lives at 2818 Aramingo avenue. For eight years he has been attached to the police force. Ledger Photo Service

AT INDEPENDENCE SQUARE

AT INDEPENDENCE SQUARE. These three school girls, dressed as Red Cross nurses, were right up in the front row during the speech making yesterday afternoon. Ledger Photo Service

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS MARIE HORNICKLE, 2408 North Marston street, Philadelphia. Ledger Photo Service