

ROAD BILLS PASSED, BUT NOT FINANCED

$50,000,000 Bond Proposal Is Defeated in Jersey Legislature

"PASS BUCK" TO 1922 BODY

Special Session in Evening Public Ledger. Trenton, April 8. Defeat of the $50,000,000 bond bill for extra road construction and passage of the measure...

Approval of the one-mill tax for another year will raise approximately $5,000,000 and enable the State Highway Commission to function until the next Legislature approves some plan to raise the additional necessary for road work.

After considerable lobbying on the part of friends of the highway bond, the bill to give the commissioners each a salary of $4000 was passed by both houses.

Governor Signs Sixty Bills. Governor Edwards lost no time in disposing of bills turned over to the Executive Council. Last night the respective bills and one joint resolution signed sixty bills.

Executive approval was given to the House Pension bill for submission to the Senate in a position to vote $14,000,000 in bonds for a ten-year construction program by the Department of Institutions and Agencies.

Governor Edwards also approved the Pension bill changing the election provision for women voters and retaining in the Democratic and Republican state chairmen the power to recommend nominations for county boards of elections.

The governor also approved the House Tarterall bill to increase motor vehicle license fees for 1922 by 25 percent. The new law was recommended by the motor traffic commission.

Van Ness Women's Bill Approved. A fifty-four hour work week for women in industry, mercantile establishments, fundries and restaurants is now the law of the state. The governor signed Assemblyman Van Ness' bill on this subject.

Anniversary Day, November 11, will be a legal holiday. The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Butler, of Bergen, was signed.

The bondbill is protected as a song bird under another new law. It is now up to Governor Edwards to sign a bill to give former soldiers preference law. Both houses of the Legislature passed Assemblyman Jones' bill to give former soldiers and women preference in appointments to public office.

Mr. Edwards will give a public hearing on the bill Tuesday afternoon. After a thirteen week session the 1921 Legislature adjourned since the last night at 8 o'clock. The session was the 145th in the history of the state.

When legislative committees called on Governor Edwards in informal bills that the law bills were about to close, the governor said he would recall the Senate in special session within a month to consider a nomination for superintendent of the state constabulary authorized by this year's session.

House members paraded to the Senate chamber, where Speaker Hobart International Senate President Allen and the Assembly had concluded its labors. President Allen then declared the session at an end.

Red Cloud Elects Woman Mayor. Omaha, April 8.—Miss Mary Peterson was elected Mayor of Red Cloud, Neb., by seven votes in Tuesday's election. She is the first woman Mayor in the State. Miss Peterson is part owner of an ice plant.

Allies Hope Japan Will Yield on Yap

Continued from Page One. From that policy of isolation into which this country has drifted since Mr. Wilson's disappointment at Paris and the people's rejection of the fruits of his negotiation there.

But the administration is only turning from isolation on condition that the principle of the note be accepted.

If Europe insists that our rights as a belligerent have lapsed from non-use or from the failure of President Wilson to claim them at Paris, we are likely to turn our backs upon Europe.

Secretary Hughes, who is the master of the situation here and enforces President Harding with him in his international policies, is not going to repeat the mistakes of President Wilson. He is not going to enter into conference with the Allies and get what he can out of it.

U. S. Has Three Big Clubs. Everything indicates an aggressive attitude on the part of Mr. Hughes. This country has three big clubs to use. One is the Knox resolution and the separate peace with Germany. Great Britain and France do not want the Knox resolution to pass.

And third, particularly affecting Japan and England, the two great Pacific powers, is our probable concentration of our entire fleet in the Pacific. These three things will not be mentioned in the negotiation. But they will be in the back of every one's mind participating in the negotiations.

The great difference between this administration and Mr. Wilson is in its foreign relations is that Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes have a sense of this country's power which neither President Wilson nor the United States Senate possessed in the case of the peace negotiations and the disputes that followed them. The administration purchases to use that power.

3 Pistol Battles Mark Bandit Chase

Continued from Page One. The two men who were preparing to force open the door, jammed their tools in their pockets and jumped in the touring car and the others boarded the motor truck.

The engine on each vehicle had been running and the machines started up Broad street. Quinn followed. They had gone but a few yards when several of the men fired at him. He returned the fire and kept after the men amid a hail of bullets.

Quinn kept up the chase until the car and truck got beyond range. One of the men fell forward and is believed to have been wounded.

Both cars were speeding out York road when they were seen by Motorcycle Policemen Winnie and Greentree. They were on foot.

Fire More Shots. It was evident that the robbers thought Winnie and Greentree had been notified to head them off. They fired several shots at the two policemen, who returned the fire as they dodged among the trees. Both vehicles turned abruptly at Taber road when the battle got too hot for them.

An automobile coming along York road was commandeered by Winnie and Greentree. The driver was ordered to go the limit and the two policemen pursued the robbers along Taber road.

Several shots were exchanged, but as the machines occupied by the thieves were too speedy for that carrying the policemen, the robbers escaped.

Deaths of a Day CIRCUS MAGNATE DEAD

Benjamin E. Wallace, Retired, Dies in Minnesota. Peru, Ind., April 9.—Benjamin E. Wallace, retired circus man of this city, died at a hospital in Rochester, Minn., last night.

He began with a small overland show in 1882, and when he sold his circus five years ago it was one of the largest in the world. Later Mr. Wallace had engaged in farming and banking here.

He was born in Pennsylvania seventy-three years ago and served in the Civil War, after which he settled in Peru. First he engaged in the livery business, later starting the circus. He leaves a widow, two nephews and a niece.

Fred M. Chase. Wilkes-Barre, April 9.—Fred M. Chase, president and general manager of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., died yesterday of apoplexy. He was elected president in January, rising to that position from office boy. He was with the company forty-one years. Mr. Chase had supervision of thirty-four anthracite collieries.

Dr. Ernst Von Possart. Berlin, April 9.—Dr. Ernst Von Possart, the celebrated motor and former director of the Court Theaters here, died yesterday. He was born in 1841. Dr. Von Possart visited the United States in 1910 on tour, but in March of the following year, while playing in the Princess Theatre in Chicago, became seriously ill and was forced to return to Germany.

MUST WATCH ROAD FUNDS. Harding Insists on System in Expenditure of Federal Aid. Washington, April 9.—President Harding made it plain yesterday he regarded the present haphazard method of doling out federal funds for road-building as little short of intolerable.

The President's views were conveyed vigorously yesterday to members of the Highway Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, who called upon him to urge the creation of a National Highway Commission empowered to administer the Government highway activities, to lay out and have constructed the inter-county roads of national importance and to be responsible for the sound development of transport over the highways.

GREECE DEPRESSED AT ARMY DEFEATS

Confidential Reports to Allies Blame Officers, Friends of King, for Debacle

GOUNARIS IS NEW PREMIER

By the Associated Press. Athens, April 9.—Reverses suffered by Greek forces in Anatolia, and the casualties inflicted upon them by the Turkish nationalists, have caused a great depression here.

Official statements on the situation are very meager and are interpreted to mean that the government may be withholding the truth from the people.

Army and government officials are absolutely mute, but there is a decided note of alarm and pessimism noticeable here among all classes of Greeks.

News that the army is retiring toward the positions it originally held near Bursa caused profound disappointment. The first wounded soldiers arriving here would not speak, their lips having been sealed by the government.

Several of the largest steamers have been commandeered to bring more wounded from Mountania, the port of Bursa.

Threats were made to requisition American trucks, but when their American owners said they would appeal to Washington the authorities changed their minds.

Mobilization is progressing slowly, it being reported that only twenty-five out of every hundred men have answered the call to the colors.

In some localities in Greece and in Crete pictures of King Constantine are reported to have been burned. It is probable the government will call by additional classes to the colors this week.

Confidential advice received by allied legations here indicates the Greek officers in Anatolia, the majority of whom are royalists who were reinstated in their
