

WALLACE SAVES HIS WIFE'S ASHES

Husband Cremates Body, as She Asked, but Delays Scattering to Winds

HER SUICIDE EXPLAINED

The ashes of Mrs. Louise Shattuck Adams Wallace, Philadelphia society woman, who committed suicide at La Jolla, near San Diego, California, eight days ago, were not scattered to the winds as she had requested of her husband.

Additional light has been thrown upon the romance of the Philadelphia widow and the handsome young sailor when it was learned that during his courtship she had asked, in a note at the San Diego cemetery for one year, or until she returns to California. The body was cremated April 4.

Word was received from San Diego today that Mr. Wallace and other members of the family, including Mrs. Wallace's two children, had left San Diego for the East.

Saturday night was spent in the home of the Philadelphia widow and the handsome young sailor upon the romance of the Philadelphia widow and the handsome young sailor upon the romance of the Philadelphia widow and the handsome young sailor.

Wallace pasted his verses in a scrap book which he carried with him. In 1919 he served through the volume under the title, "A Sailor's Love."

His personal diary also tells of the manner in which he fell in love with Mrs. Adams, Jr., and of the moment which was her death.

One verse was dedicated to "W. W. Adams," which was evidently Mr. Adams. Another, "To You," appears to have been inspired by Wallace's glowing love for the older woman. It runs:

A woman's face in wonder lies, A woman's face in wonder lies, A woman's face in wonder lies, A woman's face in wonder lies.

Wallace was a protégé of Mr. Adams, and lived for a time in the big Adams home at Navy avenue and Mermaid lane, St. Martin's.

Her relatives' disapproval of her marriage to Mr. Wallace is said to have caused Mrs. Wallace's suicide. She was much older than her sailor husband.

HITS "POLITICAL BRAINS" Californian Declares Business Men Should Run Industries

The political brain seeks popularity, therefore it cannot properly manage the industry, former State Senator George Cartwright, of California, said today, in an address before the Pro-Business League at the regular meeting of the Wilsonson Club, Hall, Mr. Cartwright spoke of "God's Law of Compensation."

The business brain seeks respect, because, and because of that it can run industry properly. The speaker said that when he was in the Legislature he was in favor of pulling down the wages and fixing legislation favoring labor, but since then his ideas have changed.

TEXTILE MEN TO DINE James A. Emery Will Discuss Laws Pending Throughout Nation

Members of the Philadelphia Textile Manufacturers' Association will attend the semi-annual dinner of the association this evening at the Manufacturers' Club. The dinner will be presided over by Charles J. Webb, president of the association, will preside and James A. Emery, of Washington, will discuss the legislative, administrative and public relations of the industry.

Other speakers who have been invited are Joseph W. Fendley, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives, and Robert L. Wood, textile manufacturer, General W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Charles G. Hill, president of the Corn Exchange Bank.

DIVINE LAUDS CHRISTIANITY Rev. A. H. Fisher Tells of Influence of Christian Spirit on Art

Christianity has exerted a strong influence on art, according to the Rev. A. H. Fisher, of Phoenixville, who spoke at today's meeting of the Lutheran Pastoral Association at the Central Y. M. C. A.

The finest examples of sculpture, painting and poetry have been inspired by the spirit of Christianity, Mr. Fisher declared, and Biblical characters have been recreated in the masterpieces of the arts.

Young Woman Run Down by Auto St. Louis, Miss. In forty-two years old, 952 North Seventh street, was knocked down by an automobile at 10:50 o'clock last night at Broad street and Grand avenue. Her right hip was broken and she may be injured internally. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, William Middleton, of Judson street above Broad, driver of the automobile, was held today at Magistrate McHenry in Central Station in $500 bail for a further hearing.

YOUNG MAN would like to connect with a reliable automobile concern as salesman; first-class references. Apply A 126, Ledger Office.

HAVE your selling and distribution methods kept pace with the improvements in your production?

HERBERT M. MORRIS Advertising Agency Every Phase of Sales Promotion North American Bldg. Philadelphia

1921 Premier Touring Run 1100 Miles FLEETWOOD SEDAN

Unusual chance to secure latest model of this superb car, in perfect condition, at big saving.

B. L. P. MOTOR CO. 502 N. BROAD ST.

Banker Is Dead

HOWARD S. GRAHAM Banker and clubman dies at Chestnut Hill Home

Deaths of a Day

HOWARD S. GRAHAM

Banker and Clubman Dies Suddenly in Chestnut Hill Home

Howard S. Graham, banker and broker, died early yesterday morning in his home at 203 West Chestnut avenue, Chestnut Hill. Death came without warning, as Mr. Graham was apparently in the best of health.

As a senior member of the firm of Graham, Parsons & Co., 435 Chestnut street, Mr. Graham was well known in the financial life of the city. The other members of the firm are L. H. Parsons, H. P. Vaux and A. G. B. Steel. Mr. Graham was one of the leaders in the war-chest campaign. He was a member of the Philadelphia Club and the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill.

MRS. FREDERICK STOVELL

Prominent Resident of Haverford Succumbs After Lingering Illness

Mrs. Frederick Stovell, of "Gaitered," Haverford, died last night at her home after a lingering illness. Her husband died two years ago. Before her marriage to Frederick Stovell she was Miss Emma Lewis, daughter of the late Charles S. and Elizabeth Lewis.

Mrs. Stovell is survived by her sons, Charles Lewis Stovell and Morris Lewis Stovell. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Frances Lehman Mrs. Frances Lehman, wife of Dr. Joseph Lehman, a physician at the Jefferson Hospital, died yesterday at her home, 420 Main street, Manayunk. She had been ill two years and was forty-five years old. Mrs. Lehman was born and had lived all her life in Manayunk. She was the daughter of Dr. Joseph V. Kelly, of Manayunk. Her three brothers, James, Aloysius and Thomas Kelly, are also physicians.

Abraham Lower Abraham Lower, a veteran of the Civil War, died yesterday at his home, 3045 Norris street. He was eighty-one years old. He was a member of Kennerly-Sheridan Post, No. 1, G. A. R. of Newark, N. J., and Washington Lodge, No. 9, F. & A. M. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Helen M. W. Merrill Mrs. Helen Moseman Wilson Merrill, wife of Dr. William Jackson Merrill, of 1622 Walnut street, died in the Lansdowne Hospital, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday. The body will be taken to the home of her parents, Grand Rapids, Mich., where the funeral and interment will take place.

Mrs. Rachel Jeffries Mrs. Rachel Jeffries died this morning at her home, 4522 Knight avenue, Camden, following an illness resulting from the death of her son, four months ago. She was fifty-four years old. Mrs. Jeffries was the widow of Edward Jeffries, an undertaker. She had conducted the undertaking business since his death nine years ago. Funeral services will be held at the Lansdowne Hospital, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, with interment in Harleigh Cemetery.

REFINISHING 24-HOUR SERVICE For a limited period we will apply Three Coats of "Shafro" to cars of size of Ford Touring and Roadster at one half our established price of $50.00. This means a $25.00 cost for a durable, anti-rust finish of high lustre in any color.

The Chas. W. Schaffer Co. 3214 Chestnut St.

Turned slat-back arm-chair. Six slats, cabriolet legs Pennsylvania Type 1725-1750 Unique Specimen of the rarest sort $500.00 From the famous J. P. TEMPLE COLLECTION THE ROSENBACK GALLERIES 1320 Walnut Street

Some of your friends Bank at "The West End." Why not open a checking account with us, yourself, and experience the same pleasant business relations?

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts

WEST END TRUST COMPANY BROAD STREET AT SOUTH PENN SQUARE

HERBERT M. MORRIS Advertising Agency Every Phase of Sales Promotion North American Bldg. Philadelphia

1921 Premier Touring Run 1100 Miles FLEETWOOD SEDAN

Unusual chance to secure latest model of this superb car, in perfect condition, at big saving.

B. L. P. MOTOR CO. 502 N. BROAD ST.

CAMDEN PARENTS BACKED BY FRATS

Greek Letter Societies Engage Counsel and Will Support Suspended Youths

LEGAL RIGHTS ARE INVOLVED

Important developments are expected today in the case of the Camden High School students suspended last week from all school activities, save study, by their principal, Miss Clara Stewart Burrough, because of their membership in Greek letter "frats."

The parents of the suspended youths, who delivered an ultimatum to the principal last Friday demanding the restoration of their sons to their "full rights and privileges" in the school, have not received any reply to their letter and plan a meeting tonight to take action on the matter.

Fraternities Engage Counsel A committee representing the allied Greek letter fraternities of Philadelphia, in support of the principals' ultimatum, has retained counsel in the case and expects to join hands with the Camden families at the conference, Bloomfield, Pa., 240 Berkeley street, secretary of the Temple University Alumni and a member of many "frats," as chairman of the frat committee, has demanded a retraction or withdrawal from Miss Burrough.

The committee has retained as counsel Henry L. Schumpf, Jr., an attorney in the Commonwealth First Building, and E. J. Stovell, of Camden, a son of the former prosecutor of the case of Camden county.

"The issue in this case is over our constitutional and legal rights," declared the parents in a statement today. "Are we parents to be allowed the right to pursue our happiness and that of our children outside the school, socially and otherwise, or is the school to dictate these policies to us? We do not claim the right to override the rules of the board of education. That does not enter into this fight. We are prepared to stand before any tribunal that the boys suspended held membership only in fraternities outside the school at the time of their suspension."

Camden Chapter Abandoned The Camden chapter, erroneously notified in its charter, was never really formed and was stopped voluntarily by its president on March 31, yet these boys were suspended April 1 and 2. There were but five members of this chapter, the Sigma Kappa, but three youths not members of the Sigma Kappa or any other Camden chapter were given the same punishment. These boys, members only of the Sigma Delta Chapter of Philadelphia, are David Ventrone, John Cate and Frank Kennedy. A gross injustice is being done these boys in any event.

Kennedy, of the class of 1922, who never belonged to the Camden chapter, and Douglas C. Cate, of the class of 1921, who was a member of the disbanded chapter, are the respective presidents of their classes. This has meant a severe injury and disgrace to these boys."

F. R. Stevenson's Funeral Funeral services for Frank R. Stevenson, one of the oldest real estate conveyancers of this city, who died Friday, will be conducted tomorrow from his home, 1512 North Nineteenth street. Mr. Stevenson was prominent in real estate circles of Philadelphia more than forty years ago, when trust companies had not gone extensively into that line of work. He was retired. For the last eight years he suffered from paralysis, which caused his death. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. May A. Stevenson, a daughter, Mabel F. Stevenson, and a son, F. Russell Stevenson, Jr. Burial will be in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

RAIL MEN FIND REAL STUNT IN BOXCAR LOAD OF HORSES

Easy Enough to Take Them Apart, but They Vow It's Some Job to Put Them Together Again

Francis Hogan, an assistant road foreman of engines for the Reading Railway, and John Miller, assistant roundhouse foreman, said today that a carload of horses could be taken apart, but that putting them together again is something else.

Hogan discovered that one of twenty horses in a box car in transit at the yards at Second street and Erie avenue last night had fallen and was being trampled by the nineteen others. He asked Miller to aid him in rescuing the fallen horse. The two men opened the car and led nineteen horses out. They then summoned a veterinarian and the twentieth horse was treated and put on its feet.

"Now we'll put them back," said Hogan. He led the horses one by one into the car. It took quite a while, but the car was finally as crowded as the entrance to a movie house on Saturday night.

"There, that's done," said Hogan. "But it wasn't. Five horses were looking anxiously from him to the box car. You haven't had experience at this sort of thing," said Miller. "I'll put those horses together again."

No. 1500 horses were led out of the yard and Miller began his demonstration. Miller won. He got all twenty horses in the car. "Shall I close the door?" asked Hogan. Miller was about to say yes when he discovered that he was in the car, and that the horses, in milling about, had made him a prisoner.

Business of leading several of the horses out another time followed. Those were finally stowed away, and Hogan and Miller decided that in the future they would have to their engines and roundhouses, let the horses fall where they may.

GIBBONEY'S BODY HERE Remains of Lawyer, Drowned in Mexican Bay, Brought Home

Accompanied by two representatives of a Philadelphia undertaking establishment, the bodies of Dr. Clarence Gibboney and Frank W. Shriver, who were drowned in the bay of Campeche, Mexico, December 28 last, arrived last night in this city.

Arrangements are being made today for their burial, which will take place probably Thursday from the undertaking establishment of Harold H. Mulligan, 2529 North Third street. The body of Mr. Gibboney will be buried in the Arlington Cemetery and that of Mr. Shriver in West Laurel Hill.

Details of their trip and the manner in which they identified the bodies were given last night by the representatives of the undertakers. They made positive identification of the bodies through charts of the teeth of the two men furnished by Dr. William H. Collins, of 992 Spruce street, and Dr. Norman L. Jameson, 1429 Spruce street, dentist of Mr. Shriver.

A pair of eyeglasses that belonged to Mr. Gibboney were still in the pocket of his waistcoat. The bodies were buried in plain boxes and the graves were marked with pieces of paraffin, with the names inscribed.

FRIENDS PROSELYTING Break Old Rule by Meeting in Outside Hall in New York

The Society of Friends departed from its custom of generations yesterday in leaving its meeting house to conduct a mass-meeting in Town Hall in New York to acquaint the public with the principles and motives behind Friends' relief work in Europe.

Nearly 2000 persons attended the meeting and heard Elbert Russell, director of the Woolman School of Swarthmore, speak on "The Quaker Challenge to a World of Peace." Rufus M. Jones, chairman of the American Friends' service committee, presided.

Similar meetings, outside of the society's meeting houses, probably will be held in other cities as the precedent has been established.

Mr. Jones expressed the belief that spiritual forces would succeed where physical force, hate and national selfishness failed.

"We believe that the solutions of the problems which confront us in Japan and Mexico are not in recourse to arms or the show of force, but in the service of the missionary and educator," Mr. Jones declared.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

200 LEAVE PHILA. TO GREET CARDINAL

Prelate Scheduled to Arrive Wednesday in New York

VAUCLAIN MAKES TRIP

One hundred laymen, representing all denominations, and 100 priests will leave Philadelphia this afternoon for New York to attend a meeting at the Hotel Pennsylvania tonight, when arrangements will be made to meet Cardinal Dougherty.

The cardinal and the clergyman, who accompanied him from Rome, are expected to arrive on the steamship Olympic Wednesday. There is a possibility the ship will reach New York late Tuesday night. The greeting committee will make arrangements tonight, after the first wireless is received that the ship is nearing the harbor, the committee will speed down the harbor on the tugboat John P. Helan.

There will be no interference with the plans made for the cardinal's reception in this city Thursday night. On his arrival in New York, Cardinal Dougherty and escort from Rome will be guests of Archbishop Hayes. They will remain there until late Thursday afternoon, leaving in time to greet the cardinal on Broad street.

General William G. Price will be grand marshal and Director Curtis will be assistant marshal.

Among the laymen who will leave for New York this afternoon are Stunned M. Vauclein, Judge John Monaghan, A. L. Fitzpatrick, William J. Shields, James J. Ryan, Ignatius A. Horstmann, Joseph F. Trainer, Herman G. Vetterlein, Edward J. Dunce, Peter F.

LUCKY STRIKE Cigarette To seal in the delicious Burley tobacco flavor. It's Toasted

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Philadelphia's Bureau of Health has participated the state health department's campaign against the house-fly. Today starts "the week that makes the summer safe," which is a state-wide campaign to eliminate the house-fly by the coming of summer's myriads of flies.

For the last two weeks, Director of Health Furusho said today, his inspectors have been on the job preparing for the coming of summer's myriads of flies. Dr. Furusho's idea is to eliminate the fly by abolishing its breeding places.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH PACT Mrs. Dora Kinsey, This City, One of Pair Who Took Poison

Two women, Mrs. Dora Kinsey, twenty-three years old, of this city, who refused to give her street address, and Miss Jessie Fields, seventeen years old, of Blue Diamond, Ky., are in Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Ky., suffering from poison, which, they say, they had taken in a suicide pact. Mrs. Kinsey said she swallowed a tablet. Miss Fields said she took a drug in liquid form. Antidotes were administered, but the condition of both is identified. The poisons have not been identified.

Mrs. Kinsey told nurses she took the poison when dependent because she was separated from her friends. She was arrested Friday with two women and a man at a soft-drink stand. Miss Fields had been arrested on a charge of her parents to juvenile court authorities.

Truck Damaged in Garage Fire A leaking gasoline tube, which fell on the engine of the machine, set fire to a motortruck in the garage of Edward Fox, 1920 North Franklin street, and severely damaged it. A number of other machines in the place were saved by the quick work of the employees. The burned truck, owned by Geiner Brothers, produce merchant at 129 North Delaware avenue, was damaged to the extent of $300.

ANTI-FLY WAR IS ON Preparation Week Starts With All Health Agents Active

Korinn, Dr. Ernest La Place, City Solicitor Smyth, James F. Boylan, Joseph F. Donovan, John A. Gallagher, M. A. Killek, of Girardville; John Farren, Thomas O'Neill, D. F. Durkin, Jr., Joseph L. Durkin, John F. Gallagher, Thomas F. Slattery, John J. Sullivan, John B. Comber, John Lomagan and Charles P. Donnelly. Among the clergymen who will leave this afternoon are Monsignor James P. Smoot, E. J. Fitzgibbon, Eugene Murphy, Joseph L. J. Kiffin, the Rev. Dr. Joseph M. Corrigan, of Overbrook Seminary; the Rev. Thomas J. McNally, Catholic High School; the Rev. Francis Driscoll, president Villanova

College; the Rev. Dr. John E. Flood, superintendent of Catholic schools, and the Rev. F. N. Wastl, director of diocesan charities. Longshore Street Homes Robbed During the absence of the families, thieves entered the homes of George W. Gebhardt, 3162 Longshore street, and Joseph W. Powell, 3163 Longshore street, last night, and stole jewelry valued at $150. Each house was ransacked from top to bottom and everything not desired by the visitors was scattered about the rooms. Entrance to each place was gained through a rear window.

For a Few Days More! A Sweeping Clearaway of Medium-Weight Suits

Fine quality Suits, just right to wear three-quarters of the year 'round, in a Sweeping Clearaway Sale at Prices that don't cover the initial cost of Production!

Three Special Prices!

$29 for fine $50 and $55 Suits!

$33 for fine $60 and $65 Suits!

$42 for finest $75 and $80 Suits!

Sold them fast and plentifully all last