

RUSH BROWN BILLS FOR MORE POWER

Measures Increasing Pay and Jurisdiction and Adding Judge on Final Passage

MAY GO TO HOUSE TONIGHT

Harrisburg, April 11.—President Wagon's "fall crew" legislative committee has nothing to report to getting action on bills. The judge's bill, or rather the bill offered by Senator Davis, providing for the immediate possibility of an increase of salary for Municipal Court judges and for the addition of another judge, is on the final passage calendar for the Senate tonight. It was offered only last Tuesday. It would make another office for the Vice Mayor-Cumingham combination.

This Municipal Court bill is accompanied on its passage through the Legislature by another increasing the jurisdiction of Judge Brown's court in civil cases from $100 to $1500.

Nothing more is done with the Municipal Court bills, as the election bills which President Wagon's committee—the one that appointed Governor DeWitt's committee out of office—sent out of committee last week in such a fashion. These proposals of the final passage calendar for the Senate. Both sets of measures will probably be sent to the House tonight, where Mr. Wagon's committee will again get busy. Wagon's legislative committee will be expected to see that the House does its duty.

BILL WOULD AID LIGHT CO.

Senator Dalk's Measure Would Grant Eminent Domain Right

Harrisburg, April 11.—Senator Dalk has an interesting bill on final passage in the Senate tonight, which will grant the right of eminent domain to electric light, heat and power companies, including the Philadelphia Electric Co. The bill sets forth that such companies shall have the right to appropriate property outside the limits of public streets necessary for its construction or operation or maintenance of its buildings, machinery, plants, etc., for generating electric light, heat or power.

It is possible, however, that before such powers shall be exercised the Public Service Commission shall pass on the questions involved.

Further provision is made for the payment of damages arising from the exercise of these rights. This is one of the bills to come out of the "holding" committee of the Senate.

HOSPITAL BILLS SLASHED

State Aid Measures Heavily Cut by Senate Committee

Harrisburg, April 11.—An idea of how the slashing of appropriations will affect individual members and Philadelphia institutions was obtained today when the Senate committee on appropriations bills, on the second reading calendar for tonight, became available.

Senator Patton's bill for an appropriation to the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, originally for a total of $500,000. This was reduced to $300,000.

Patton's bill for an appropriation of $100,000 to the West Philadelphia Hospital for Women was cut to $25,000.

GOVERNOR'S BILLS FACE FATE TONIGHT

Sproul's Revenue Measures and Constructive Program Caught in Legislative Jam

BOSSSES RULE THE SITUATION

Harrisburg, April 11.—The big jam in the Senate legislation of the Governor's bills is still about here and very shortly the fate of the really big bills will be decided. That was the opinion today of experienced legislators, supported by statements of several leaders. It will soon be decided whether any of the widely advertised revenue raises are to be passed to the Governor and which of the Governor's big projects are to be adopted by the Legislature.

With only three more weeks of play, including the present, before the Assembly finally adjourns on April 28, the situation is really critical. These three weeks represent about twelve legislative days.

The situation, which has been created by the so-called "master minds," is this: Three of the revenue-raising bills, which the Governor would like to see passed, are now in the Senate after having passed the House. The special projects of the Governor, the bills for the constitutional convention and for the establishment of a new state department of public welfare, are now in the House after having passed the Senate. Therefore, it will be possible for those who can pull the strings in the House to get the revenue-raising bills passed by the House and for the establishment of a new state department of public welfare, which are beginning to emerge from the appropriation committee.

For example, a group of 100 bill introduction appropriation bills appear on the Senate calendar for tonight. In a few days, the House will have a similar list of bills. The bills, which are being carried to the kind in which individual members are most vitally interested for the sake of their home districts. In all this jam, it was pointed out, it will be a question of the "survival of the fittest."

Legislators on all sides, it may be remarked, are discussing the revenue raises and in their talk give currency to all sorts of gossip.

The three revenue raises which have passed the House are: Gasoline, one cent a gallon; billboards, 5 per cent of gross; and movies, 1 per cent of gross receipts.

With reference to these, a powerful House leader said: "There is lots of opposition to the movie amendment tax bill." This was regarded as significant as indicative of the possible fate in store for this measure.

The bill for the constitutional convention, sponsored by Representative Wagon, of Butler, will be on second reading in the House tonight.

SALARY ADVANCES CUT IN SCHOOL BILL

Amendments Give Superintendents Less—Teachers' Maximum Reduced

TO AID FIREWORKS BILL

Two Hundred Women Will Carry Fight for Measure to Capital

Harrisburg, April 11.—Proposed salaries of county superintendents of schools are reduced and numerous changes are made in the Eginer program for teachers' salary increases and general reorganization of the public school system by the amended Edmonds bill, which is on the first reading calendar of the House for tonight's sitting.

Under the provisions of the bill as presented county superintendents in second, third and fourth-class counties were to have received an annual salary of not less than $2000; superintendents in fifth, sixth and seventh-class counties, $3000; and superintendents in eight-class counties, $3500. By the amendments the minimum salary for superintendents in counties with less than 20,000 inhabitants is fixed at $2500; in counties of from 20,000 to 45,000 persons, at $3000; in counties of from 45,000 to 150,000 persons, at $3500; and in counties with more than 150,000 inhabitants at $4000.

No changes are made in the minimum salaries for teachers as specified, but the yearly increases which were carried for eight years under the original bill have been changed so that in third-class districts the increase are to be made for only a four-year period.

An entirely new clause is inserted to cover taxation for school purposes. Boards of school directors are authorized and directed to levy a tax on the total assessment of all property to meet the minimum salary and increment requirements. Such tax is not to be invalidated or affected by reason that it may increase the total annual school tax levy beyond the millage fixed or limited by law.

For fourth-class school districts a limitation of not more than thirty-five mills for school purposes is specifically made.

Know the Water You Give Your Battery

You wouldn't buy lubricating oil that contained sand. Then why use impure water in your batteries?

Ordinary water contains harmful matter. Insist upon HYDRO-PUROCK—made expressly, recommended by battery manufacturers. In half-gallon bottles, at all good dealers, or direct from THE CHARLES E. HIRSH CO., 210 S. 24th St., Philadelphia.

Look for the diamond trade mark and the name HYDRO-PUROCK THE BATTERY WATER. Never sold in bulk.

What It Costs To Advertise

The cost of successful advertising on a national scale is amazingly small.

If you were to spend one cent per family per year for advertising, your expenditure for the year would be about $220,000.

The average total expenditure for advertising space (in fifty-six leading magazines) is less than one-quarter of this sum.

In other words, the average national advertiser buys less than $50,000 worth of space per year, or less than one-quarter of a cent per family in the United States.

The largest user of space spends about a million per year in national publications—five cents per family or one cent per person in that family.

This advertiser does a business of about $120,000,000 per year—or a sale per family of $5—one dollar per person.

Of course an advertising appropriation includes expenditures in addition to the cost of space that are most necessary but relatively small in amount.

Good Advertising pays.

Advertising space in the Butterick publications is for sale through accredited advertising agencies.

Seen in the Chestnut St. Shops

The store of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, which is shown in the above illustration, needs no introduction to Philadelphians. Long before the Civil War it was patronized, just as it is today, by men and women of refinement and culture, who want the best, the most exclusive things in jewelry, silver, stationery.

Delora Squan

There is a delightful little town in a small town in Connecticut where a well-known author lives and writes, and as you enter its halfway a tall grandfather clock bids you welcome. It is dignified and stately, its grandfather clock, as he tells the years, for it has told the hours now for high to one hundred years. But dignity is a prerogative of grandfather clocks, whether they be old or new. Even the finest of longwinded takes on an air of stateliness when a hall clock is given a place on its stately landing in its entrance hall. Bailey, Bank & Biddle Company have a number of such clocks made especially for apartments and bungalows. They are the larger clock of Bailey's have the following choices, whose actual prices are prominently on the card.

HOUSE-CLEANING time is with us again. It is the time for repulsing our store of brushes, dust cloths, etc., and it is a very good time, too, to invest in a Hoover Vacuum Cleaner. Hoovers cleaning half the task it used to be before the vacuum appeared on the scene, and if you're going to buy one, it pays to buy a Hoover. Its motor-driven brush and powerful suction insure thorough cleaning. At The House-Cleaning Store of Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut Street, where I saw the Hoover Vacuum Cleaner, you will find brushes of all sizes and for all purposes—radiators, brushes, wall brushes, floor mops and Old English brushes for cleaning your shoes and boots. NO MATTER what sport a man engages in, the first requisite is that he makes of the clothes that he wears is that they be comfortable. A comfortable riding habit—comfortable in the main because it is correct—he must have if he enjoys horseback riding. I'm convinced that the right place to find it is at the store of MacDonald & Campbell, 1521-23 Chestnut Street. They have a very interesting and varied line of riding suits and breeches—all materials of excellent quality and they are tailored to perfection. Riding suits of the material mentioned are $18 and English riding breeches of best material are $12.50.
