PHILA. PUPILS LEAD

Grades Shows Average Grades Shows Average of 86 Per Cent

Pupils in the public schools of Philadelphia set the pace for good spelling in the schools of the United States. This was shown by results announced yester-

A very large percentage of the children do not put their 'e's' before. The outstanding developments of their "is" when they belong behind. Most of them also know when a y inatend of an i should be used.

The test was made among approximately 54,900 children of the lower grades, and showed that they spelled average of 84 per cent was made by children who entered the test in schools in other parts of the country.

Twenty words of ordinary usage were given to each class. About 15,000 passed a perfect test.

The best spelling was in the sight grade, where the average mark was 01.5 does not be seen in the construction of build.

The cent was made among approximately. This is the opinion of the Rev Dr. Robert Johnston, rector of the Church of the Church of the Saviour, who spoke before the American Guild of Organists in St. Stephen's Church last night. The meeting celebrated the twenty-fifth anniput of the guild.

The best spelling was in the sight grade, where the average mark was 91.5 per cent. The lowest average class was the eighth grade. That fact is explained by Dr. Armand V Gerson, associate superintendent, as being caused by two factors.

Spelling, he said, his not faught as a beparate subject in the highest grade. Also the present course in English has only been used for three years. Its effects have not reached the present eighth grade. When the children of that grade learned shelling they were were little Chestnat St.

When you buy a piano, you enter into a lifetime association, and the instrument remains both a mark of your musical taste and a measure of your business acumen. The purchase of a grand accents this liability to such an extent that you really cannot afford to buy anything but the best-a Steinway. Especially is it necessary to get the best when a small grand is chosen, for only the recognized leader among pianomakers can build into the small case the qualities of the large piano. Let us show you the Steinway Style M Grand (5 ft. 7 in. length), in mahogany case, at $1375-a small grand, but a real Steinway, at a most moderate price. Five larger Steinway grands for music rooms, schools, recitals. We have some Steinways in unfinished wood that we can color to your order without extra charge. N.
