

FINISHED SECOND. Despite this nasty fall, Eileen Arson was far enough ahead and lucky in escaping serious injury, so that after remounting the jockey rode his horse in close to the winner. It all happened at an English steeplechase. Wide World Photo.

WRECKED PENN'S HOPES. Dewey Marshall, the star twirler of the William and Mary team of Lynchburg, Va., has just sent the ball far enough to make third base. He was in rare form yesterday. Three big league clubs have offered him a contract. Ledger Photo Service.

THE RIGHT REV. THOMAS J. GARLAND, Bishop Suffragan of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, narrowly averted a collision with a messenger boy on Broad street. Ledger Photo Service.

LONDON WILL LIKE HER. Miss Dorothy Thompson, granddaughter of Colonel George Harvey, will accompany him when he starts his duties as the Ambassador to Great Britain. Harris & Ewing.

TO SELL THE GOAT TODAY. Part of the plan to raise $100,000 for Wellesley College. The sale will be held at Germantown avenue and Cayuga street. Mrs. Harold Schloss is the goat's guardian.

WILSON COLLEGE "WIRELESS." A message of encouragement will be sent by this pigeon to the Philadelphia campaign committee. Miss Marion Hunt, representing "Aunt Sally" Wilson, founder of the college, will release the carrier.

THE CANARY GIRL. Mrs. Beth Harrel Collins, who took part in the event held by the Delaware county women at Lansdowne, yesterday. Ledger Photo Service.

THIS IS "MAYOR SAM." By such is Sam Rudolph, twenty-two years old, mayor of Upper Darby township, known. Because of his age some folks want him to quit, but "Mayor Sam" says "No." Ledger Photo Service.

MISS MARION MASLAND (left) is the captain of the ladies' fencing team of Penn, just because she outpointed Miss Marion Harvey in a fencing contest. This scheme was decided on after a tie vote resulted between the two fencers. Ledger Photo Service.

CENTRAL Y. M. C. A. OFFICE WORKERS select last of winning limerick lines. Left to right they are: Front row, Lena Hackenberg, Florence Hutchison, A. I. Doherty, Harriet B. Davies, Ethel H. Gibson; middle row, Florence Karg, Mae Miller, Jessie De Shetter, Lillian Coyle, Estella Brenahan, Mary Ralph; back row, Elizabeth C. Fox, Lillian Doherty, Betty W. Coyle. Ledger Photo Service.

WALTER P. MILLER talks on Americanization in an interview on the Editorial Page. Ledger Photo Service.

TOM THUMB WEDDING. Given by children of the Bethany Temple Presbyterian Church, Fifty-third and Spruce streets. Helen Moss, as bride; Charles H. Robinson, as the groom and Wilson Herring, the minister, are shown. Ledger Photo Service.

GETS FREIGHT TRUCK EXCURSION. Miss Dorothy Griffith, employed by the Merchants Warehouse Company, Twenty-first street and Washington avenue, confided to a girl friend at the office that she was leaving to be married. Ledger Photo Service.

SWALLOW PERCHES ON PIPE. Mr. G. Mills McKay was snapped aboard the Aquitania, the bird rested peacefully. Central News Photo.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

HENRY TALLEY, 4221 North Franklin street, working a twist rail for a colonial stairway at the wood working plant of Frank C. Snedaker & Co., Ninth and Tioga streets. Ledger Photo Service.

JUMPING ROPE. She was met by a cameraman in West Philadelphia! Said she was Eleanor Evans, of Fairmont, West Virginia, and was visiting here. Ledger Photo Service.

J. WARREN KEIFER, Ohio, speaker of the House when Arthur was President, snapped after calling on President Harding. Harris & Ewing.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

ON A RAINY DAY. Reserve Patrolman Patrick Horan, of Second and Chestnut streets. He lives at 891 North Forty-seventh street, has four children and for eleven years has been a patrolman. Ledger Photo Service.

WILL SKATE TO CHICAGO. On roller skates, Eddie Kelly (left) and John McHale, two Philadelphia school boys, will leave Independence Hall, Monday morning, to travel over the automobile route to the Illinois city. Ledger Photo Service.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS THELMA REISBORD 8414 Eastwick avenue Philadelphia