BROKER MAY JOIN FIRST WIFE AGAIN

Reconciliation Between Andrews and Older Spouse Reported in Prospect

HE FAILS TO SURRENDER

New York, April 18.-A reconcilia-Hon between Herbert Thornton Andrews and his first wife, Mande Haynes Andrews, who several days ago ordered the broker and his second wife to leave the Jersey City home, where all three had lived together, now seems to be probable "triangle" here of many a

Mr. Andrews, who dropped out of sight Saturday, vowing he would find Eather Tatnall Andrews, his second wife, and effect a reunion, came into wife, and effect a reunion, came into sight again yesterday, announcing that he did not care an insignificant particle sbout Esther Tatnall Andrews. He was feeling friendly toward Maude Haynes Andrews and friends predicted a reconcillation. The senior Mrs. Andrews, it is understood, feels disposed to forgive ber hysband, possibly on her own acher husband, possibly on her own ac-count, but at least because of the two

Meanwhile trouble is brewing for Mr. Andrews in two states. Up in Green-wich, Conn., where the second marriage alleged to have taken place, James is alleged to have taken place, James F. Walsh, prosecuting attorney, is impatient because Mr. Andrews is not apparing, as he promised, to be arrested on a warrant charging bigamy and per-Mr. Walsh is threatening extradition proceedings.

That Mr. Andrews has no present inention of going to Connecticut is indi-cated by his cheerful statement that he would be in his office today at 9 o'clock

Pittsburgh, April 18.—Preparatory to whatever litigation may arise in Pittsburgh affecting Mrs. Eather Marie Tatnail Andrews, wife No. 2 in the matrimonial adventures of Herbert Thornton Andrews, Wall street broker. Mrs. Christine Tatnall, of this city, has retained H. D. Hirsh. He is expected to protect the interests of the Tatnall family, of Esther in her absence from the parental home, and of Andrews himself, toward whom an attitude of trustful confidence is maintained by the broker's Pittsburgh mother-in-law. Esther is said once to have had stage ambitions, and, according to friends, went to a city in Illinois, where she was to have been aided in attaining fame as an actress. An emissary from the Tatnall bome is said to have brought the girl back. A handsome automobile now at the
