

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Letters to the Editor

Will Love Return?

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I have seen so many interesting dis-

Letters to the Editor should be as brief and to the point as possible, avoiding anything that would open denominational or sectarian discus-

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters. Names and addresses must be signed as an evidence of good faith, although names will not be printed if request is made that they be omitted.

The publication of a letter is not to be taken as an endorsement of its views by this paper.

three miles an hour, can a man go whose rate of rowing in still water is seven miles an hour, so that he can go and return in seven hours? JAMES R. FERRELL, JR., Philadelphia, April 14, 1921.

The Idea of March To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—What is meant by the "idea of March" and what was the origin of this word? W. L. WALTERS, Philadelphia, April 7, 1921.

The idea was one of the divisions of the month made in the ancient Roman calendar. The Romans divided the month into the Kalends, the Nones and the Ides. The Kalends always fell upon the first of the month in March, May, July and October; the Nones fell on the 7th and the Ides on the 13th. The Kalends were also named after the Roman goddess Minerva.

Languages and Dialects To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—How many languages are there and how many dialects has the English language? W. L. CHAMBERS, Philadelphia, April 11, 1921.

Poems and Songs Desired "So Sweet and Low" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Can any one locate for me the poem from which this verse is taken: "So sweet and low the voice sang, 'So deep and high the singing swam, 'O, like the bird of heaven, hung in joyous avoens on a brooding wing, Intensely, stilly, hovering.'"

Two Popular Irish Songs To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I am inclosing herewith two songs from which this verse is taken: "So sweet and low the voice sang, 'So deep and high the singing swam, 'O, like the bird of heaven, hung in joyous avoens on a brooding wing, Intensely, stilly, hovering.'"

"A Worn-Out Dogma" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I will appreciate it very much if a reader can give me the poem and the author in which the following lines appear: "A worn-out dogma died, Around its bed its votaries wept, As though its death were a great deed, But truth is an immortal thing."

Two Humorous Selections To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—You kindly print the following poems, if you can: "Paddy Murphy's Wake" and "In the Good Old Steamboat Days."

"Little Giffen" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—In the People's Forum of March 24, "Little Giffen" asks for a poem called "Little Giffen." As none of your correspondents has sent in such a poem, I am confirmed in my first suspicion that the title gives a misprint for "Little Giffen," a favorite poem of Francis Otterly Lickner, a southern

Salaries and Municipal Work To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—We are hearing every day through the papers that the salaries of public officials are to be increased, and just at the time when all classes of citizens are being taxed to the limit, and the public is burdened with taxes.

Questions Answered Army Service and Naturalization To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Does an alien have to become naturalized before he can serve in the United States army? F. F. HORTON, Chester, Pa., April 12, 1921.

Money Division During the War To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—How was the money that was spent for the army divided during the war; that is, how much went to pay the soldiers, to furnish ammunition, etc.? F. G. TURPIN, Philadelphia, April 13, 1921.

Mathematical Puzzle To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—A man who has a square piece of paper, 20 inches on a side, and a line drawn from one corner to the opposite side, dividing it into two triangles. The area of the larger triangle is 100 square inches. What is the length of the line? JAMES R. FERRELL, JR., Philadelphia, April 12, 1921.

Suicides in A. E. F. To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—How many men in the American Expeditionary Force killed themselves? W. L. F., Philadelphia, April 11, 1921.

The Triangle Division To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I wish to submit a solution of a problem published in your paper on Thursday, March 31, 1921.

Men Need Bonus Badly To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—In answer to "W. L. M." regarding the bonus. No one fully realizes how the veterans suffered during this last war. Thousands upon thousands of soldiers and sailors in this state who are unable to pay their bills, as they have done, because they are thrown out of work. Walking the streets with old clothes and toes sticking out of their shoes and nothing to eat, such this bonus would be a great blessing to them.

The Popular Song Writer To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I am herewith setting my typewriter to strike off a few lines in dedication to the multiberated and maligned writer of the words of popular songs.

Rowing Problem To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Here is a problem for your readers: How far down a river, whose current is 1 mile an hour, can a man go whose rate of rowing in still water is seven miles an hour, so that he can go and return in seven hours? JAMES R. FERRELL, JR., Philadelphia, April 14, 1921.

Work-Organizers To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—"Multiple Folders" which lie flat on your desk or in the side drawer. Each fold is a Subject Labelled Pocket for notes and classified your desk work. Just raise the Label Holder—there are your notes and classified your desk work. Out of sight of curious eyes yet instantly accessible with one hand. Full instructions free.

The Trouble in Europe To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—The economic weakness is chiefly in the United States. This section of the world will not recover if the European nations are not helped. Liberty, self-determination and "democratic racket" will not do. As long as the European nations are in a state of economic chaos, the United States will not be able to recover. This part of Europe was disorganized politically by the war and the European nations are still in a state of economic chaos. They have set themselves up as dictators here, and if they now suffer from their mistakes they know whom to blame.

Public Ledger To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—What is meant by the "idea of March" and what was the origin of this word? W. L. WALTERS, Philadelphia, April 7, 1921.

Public Ledger To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—What is meant by the "idea of March" and what was the origin of this word? W. L. WALTERS, Philadelphia, April 7, 1921.

RENE VIVIANI ON WOMEN IN POLITICS The first interview that M. Viviani has given on the subject of women's aims was obtained in New York by Constance Drexel, of the Public Ledger staff, and reported in a special telegram to this morning's PUBLIC LEDGER physician and poet of Civil War times. Even if it should not be the poem desired, it has sufficient merit to recommend it in these days of martial poetry, to the general reader. CALVIN BALDWIN, Philadelphia, April 8, 1921.

LITTLE GIFFEN Out of the focal and foremost fire, Out of the hospital walls an dire, smitten of grape-shot and gaugerie, (Eighteenth battle, and he sixteen) Specter! such as you seldom see, Little Giffen, of Tennessee!

Two Popular Irish Songs To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I am inclosing herewith two songs from which this verse is taken: "So sweet and low the voice sang, 'So deep and high the singing swam, 'O, like the bird of heaven, hung in joyous avoens on a brooding wing, Intensely, stilly, hovering.'"

"A Worn-Out Dogma" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I will appreciate it very much if a reader can give me the poem and the author in which the following lines appear: "A worn-out dogma died, Around its bed its votaries wept, As though its death were a great deed, But truth is an immortal thing."

Two Humorous Selections To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—You kindly print the following poems, if you can: "Paddy Murphy's Wake" and "In the Good Old Steamboat Days."

"Little Giffen" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—In the People's Forum of March 24, "Little Giffen" asks for a poem called "Little Giffen." As none of your correspondents has sent in such a poem, I am confirmed in my first suspicion that the title gives a misprint for "Little Giffen," a favorite poem of Francis Otterly Lickner, a southern

Mathematical Puzzle To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—A man who has a square piece of paper, 20 inches on a side, and a line drawn from one corner to the opposite side, dividing it into two triangles. The area of the larger triangle is 100 square inches. What is the length of the line? JAMES R. FERRELL, JR., Philadelphia, April 12, 1921.

Suicides in A. E. F. To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—How many men in the American Expeditionary Force killed themselves? W. L. F., Philadelphia, April 11, 1921.

The Triangle Division To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I wish to submit a solution of a problem published in your paper on Thursday, March 31, 1921.

Men Need Bonus Badly To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—In answer to "W. L. M." regarding the bonus. No one fully realizes how the veterans suffered during this last war. Thousands upon thousands of soldiers and sailors in this state who are unable to pay their bills, as they have done, because they are thrown out of work. Walking the streets with old clothes and toes sticking out of their shoes and nothing to eat, such this bonus would be a great blessing to them.

The Popular Song Writer To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—I am herewith setting my typewriter to strike off a few lines in dedication to the multiberated and maligned writer of the words of popular songs.

Rowing Problem To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Here is a problem for your readers: How far down a river, whose current is 1 mile an hour, can a man go whose rate of rowing in still water is seven miles an hour, so that he can go and return in seven hours? JAMES R. FERRELL, JR., Philadelphia, April 14, 1921.

Work-Organizers To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—"Multiple Folders" which lie flat on your desk or in the side drawer. Each fold is a Subject Labelled Pocket for notes and classified your desk work. Just raise the Label Holder—there are your notes and classified your desk work. Out of sight of curious eyes yet instantly accessible with one hand. Full instructions free.

The Trouble in Europe To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—The economic weakness is chiefly in the United States. This section of the world will not recover if the European nations are not helped. Liberty, self-determination and "democratic racket" will not do. As long as the European nations are in a state of economic chaos, the United States will not be able to recover. This part of Europe was disorganized politically by the war and the European nations are still in a state of economic chaos. They have set themselves up as dictators here, and if they now suffer from their mistakes they know whom to blame.

Public Ledger To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—What is meant by the "idea of March" and what was the origin of this word? W. L. WALTERS, Philadelphia, April 7, 1921.

Public Ledger To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—What is meant by the "idea of March" and what was the origin of this word? W. L. WALTERS, Philadelphia, April 7, 1921.

LET THE REST OF THE WORLD GO BY In the struggle and strife we find in the life Really worth while, after all? I've been wishing today I could just run away, Out where the west winds call.

REFRAIN With some one like you, a pal good and true, I'd like to leave it all behind and go and find Some place that's known to God alone; Just a spot to call our own; We'll find perfect peace, Where joys never cease, Out there beneath a kindly sky, We'll build a sweet little nest Somewhere in the West, And let the rest of the world go by.

REFRAIN Oh! I want to go back to that tumble-down shack, Where the wild roses bloom 'round the door, Just to pillow my head in that old trundle bed, Just to see my old mother once more.

REFRAIN There's a bright gleaming light guiding me home tonight, Down the long road of white cobble stone, Down the road that leads back to the tumble-down shack, To that tumble-down shack in Athlone.

REFRAIN There are eyes that are sad as they watch for a lad In the old-fashioned town of Athlone; And I pray for the day when I'm sailing away, To old Ireland and mother, my own.

REFRAIN Mrs. D. L. T.—You can find the lines: "Oh, bed, Oh, bed, delicious bed, That heaven upon earth to the weary head;" in Thomas Hood's poem "Miss Klipspringer and Her Precious Leg," under the heading "Her Dream."

REFRAIN "W. S. A." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

LET THE REST OF THE WORLD GO BY In the struggle and strife we find in the life Really worth while, after all? I've been wishing today I could just run away, Out where the west winds call.

REFRAIN With some one like you, a pal good and true, I'd like to leave it all behind and go and find Some place that's known to God alone; Just a spot to call our own; We'll find perfect peace, Where joys never cease, Out there beneath a kindly sky, We'll build a sweet little nest Somewhere in the West, And let the rest of the world go by.

REFRAIN Oh! I want to go back to that tumble-down shack, Where the wild roses bloom 'round the door, Just to pillow my head in that old trundle bed, Just to see my old mother once more.

REFRAIN There's a bright gleaming light guiding me home tonight, Down the long road of white cobble stone, Down the road that leads back to the tumble-down shack, To that tumble-down shack in Athlone.

REFRAIN There are eyes that are sad as they watch for a lad In the old-fashioned town of Athlone; And I pray for the day when I'm sailing away, To old Ireland and mother, my own.

REFRAIN Mrs. D. L. T.—You can find the lines: "Oh, bed, Oh, bed, delicious bed, That heaven upon earth to the weary head;" in Thomas Hood's poem "Miss Klipspringer and Her Precious Leg," under the heading "Her Dream."

REFRAIN "W. S. A." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

LET THE REST OF THE WORLD GO BY In the struggle and strife we find in the life Really worth while, after all? I've been wishing today I could just run away, Out where the west winds call.

REFRAIN With some one like you, a pal good and true, I'd like to leave it all behind and go and find Some place that's known to God alone; Just a spot to call our own; We'll find perfect peace, Where joys never cease, Out there beneath a kindly sky, We'll build a sweet little nest Somewhere in the West, And let the rest of the world go by.

REFRAIN Oh! I want to go back to that tumble-down shack, Where the wild roses bloom 'round the door, Just to pillow my head in that old trundle bed, Just to see my old mother once more.

REFRAIN There's a bright gleaming light guiding me home tonight, Down the long road of white cobble stone, Down the road that leads back to the tumble-down shack, To that tumble-down shack in Athlone.

REFRAIN There are eyes that are sad as they watch for a lad In the old-fashioned town of Athlone; And I pray for the day when I'm sailing away, To old Ireland and mother, my own.

REFRAIN Mrs. D. L. T.—You can find the lines: "Oh, bed, Oh, bed, delicious bed, That heaven upon earth to the weary head;" in Thomas Hood's poem "Miss Klipspringer and Her Precious Leg," under the heading "Her Dream."

REFRAIN "W. S. A." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

LET THE REST OF THE WORLD GO BY In the struggle and strife we find in the life Really worth while, after all? I've been wishing today I could just run away, Out where the west winds call.

REFRAIN With some one like you, a pal good and true, I'd like to leave it all behind and go and find Some place that's known to God alone; Just a spot to call our own; We'll find perfect peace, Where joys never cease, Out there beneath a kindly sky, We'll build a sweet little nest Somewhere in the West, And let the rest of the world go by.

REFRAIN Oh! I want to go back to that tumble-down shack, Where the wild roses bloom 'round the door, Just to pillow my head in that old trundle bed, Just to see my old mother once more.

REFRAIN There's a bright gleaming light guiding me home tonight, Down the long road of white cobble stone, Down the road that leads back to the tumble-down shack, To that tumble-down shack in Athlone.

REFRAIN There are eyes that are sad as they watch for a lad In the old-fashioned town of Athlone; And I pray for the day when I'm sailing away, To old Ireland and mother, my own.

REFRAIN Mrs. D. L. T.—You can find the lines: "Oh, bed, Oh, bed, delicious bed, That heaven upon earth to the weary head;" in Thomas Hood's poem "Miss Klipspringer and Her Precious Leg," under the heading "Her Dream."

REFRAIN "W. S. A." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

REFRAIN "Mrs. D. L. T." wishes to know where in the writings of Sir Walter Raleigh this fragment may be found: "Give me my cockle shell of quiet—my scrip of joy—my staff of life to walk upon."

REFRAIN E. Van asks for two selections, "Pines Go Away" and "Let Me Sleep," and one by Fred Harrison containing the lines: "Child, come to me and sit down on my knees; I'll tell you the story of your life," etc. Can a reader supply them?

Let MUNSING WEAR COVER YOU WITH SATISFACTION MUNSINGWEAR SATISFACTION LASTS

SNELLENBURG'S ENTIRE BLOCK—MARKET 11TH TO 12TH STREETS

Continuing Our Unrivaled Reduction - Clearance of Women's & Misses' Smart New Spring Suits, Coats and Dresses In Our Economy Basement Tomorrow

Marvelous Assortments of the Season's Newest and Smartest Models—Styles and Qualities That Appeal—Values That Convince—Savings That Simply Cannot Be Duplicated Elsewhere Women's & Misses' $15.00 Tweed & Jersey Sports Suits at $8.95

Women's & Misses' $15.00 Polo Coats at $9.45

Women's & Misses' $15.00 Silk Frocks at $6.75

Women's & Misses' $16.50 Cloth Dresses at $7.45

USE CONCRETE FOR PERMANENCE Concrete Roads double the load, save time and shorten the route. Any day, any season, you can drive with safety on Concrete.

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION The Service Behind the Car There is not a service that could be required for a Dodge Brothers car that our service station could not handle.

EVERSHARP carries a whole year's writing up its sleeve Eversharp pens and pencils

Oldsmobile 23rd YEAR The "Popular Six" The all-season utility and many other obvious advantages of this coupe have won for it a host of friends.