

Phils' 'Winning Streak' Continues as the Robins Are Put to Flight With a Pair of Homers

PHILS KNOCK DODGERS FOR ROUND TRIP WITH A PAIR OF HOME RUNS

Mr. Donovan's Clouting Stars Force Last Year's Champions to Accept Wrong End of the Official Figures in First Battle of the Week

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL
Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

MR. DONOVAN'S circuit clouters were on the job yesterday, and as a result Mr. Donovan's ball club won another big game. This happened to be the second of the year, and the victory is fraught with particular significance. Today the Phils are leading the second division, something entirely unlooked for. All of which is further proof that you never can tell.

It was none other than the Brooklyn champions who were on the opposite end of the official figures. The champs, who had been putting up a strenuous struggle, meeting the Robins on their home ground, were defeated by a score of 10 to 4. The Phils have not yet opened the 1921 season. After looking at the won and lost column we are inclined to string along with these guessers.

However and be that as it may, Mr. Donovan's pill pickers socked themselves into the lineup again and gave another demonstration of their hitting prowess. The Phils are hard hitters and probably will be very annoying to the several other clubs before the season is over. There are many clean-up clouters on the roster, and any one of them is likely to bust the ball out of the park at any moment. Whenever the pitching is good the home folks have better than an even chance to cop.

A ball club always looks good when it is winning, but outside of that nobody could knock the playing of the Phils in the last two games. The team looks at least 100 per cent better than in losing. It is a wonderful game or first, and although Parkinson is unsteady, he is in there trying and giving the best he has. The kid deserves credit. Weightstone is much better than last year and has developed into a dangerous hitter. Therefore, if Fletcher comes back and a couple of more pitchers come through, the Phils will not be so bad after all.

All of which leads to the fact that Mr. Donovan's ball club got off to a good start and the future playing will be vastly improved. Starting a season in the mud is very bad stuff, because it gets the athletes too familiar with the cellar. It's a tough job to drive anybody out of cellars these days.

BIT they stepped out and trimmed New York and Brooklyn, two of the four strongest teams in the league, and clearly outplayed their opponents in each game. A team ball club couldn't have done that.

Home Runs Again Figure Prominently

THE Phils continue to pound the ball into the spectators it won't be long before some sort of a home run record is made. Two more were registered yesterday, making a total of six in the last two games.

Cy Williams was the first to connect yesterday. Reuther was pitching, and everybody knows Cy is not at all happy when facing a left hander. He seldom gets a safe hit, and he never was here. Duty tried to sneak over a strike on the first ball, but Williams was watching and—SOCKO. The pellet sailed far, FAR away over the right field wall for the first counter of the contest.

That was the only score until the seventh, when the Phils put on their daily ballion ascension. Bernie Neis lifted a homer into the narrow pocket in center field, and after that a couple of errors placed again athletes on every sack. However, only one more run came in and that gave Mousel a chance to do his act.

The Phils set the stage when they evaded the score on Parkinson's double and Jimmy Ring's thrilling, spectacular, bewildering and lucky single, which hit the end of his bat and caromed over Keney's head. Jimmy deserves much credit for having his bat there in time to meet the ball.

Irish Mousel won the game in the eighth when he knocked one of Cadore's slants into the bleachers. The game ends, two long runs to one, with a couple of other runs thrown in to show the veracity of the players.

JIMMY JOHNSTON was the batting hero of the afternoon, getting three singles and a double out of four trips to the platter. Looks as if he had Jimmy Ring's animal.

A Few Words Concerning Mr. Bruggy

ONE of the pleasing features of the work of the Phils this year is the catching of Frank Bruggy. Frank is a high-class, brainy receiver and the best we have had since Willie Killefer was sold. He has bolstered a department which has been weak for years, and Donovan deserves the honor for getting him last winter. Wilsum, in one of his wisest moments, traded Traggesser to Buffalo for Bruggy, and the deal was just as even as trading a pack of cigarettes for a box of cigars.

Bruggy is big, but remarkably fast. He covers lots of ground and always backs up first base and third base on throws. This work seldom is seen by the spectators, because the actual play occupies their attention, but it is well worth looking at. In case of a foul ball, Bruggy is on the job to get the ball.

The news editor also is a good hitter. Saturday he got a home run and a single and yesterday he had a hit, a sacrifice and a base on balls, finishing the day with a perfect average.

Last year and the year before there wasn't a catcher who could handle the pitchers properly. Many games were lost because of this, but with Bruggy back there it is different. That's hope he keeps up the good work.

WHILE on the subject of catchers, don't forget the Phils are well equipped behind the plate. In addition to Bruggy, there are Peters, Mack Wheat, Witheuse and Cliff Lee, who recently was purchased from Pittsburgh.

Dodgers' Pitchers Not Yet in Shape

BROOKLYN has won only one game this year, which is more or less of a surprise. Ordinarily the Dodgers are very effective in the spring because Robinson had his pitchers in shape and made the heavy hitters roll over and play down. The heroes did not respond to treatment this year because of the poor weather conditions in the training camp.

I'm not handing out any pills," said Tom Wilbert this morning. "But those games we lost in Boston were tough ones. Boston has a fast, aggressive ball club and I am not taking any credit away from them, but they had most of the breaks, and you know what that means. They got at least half a dozen hits which were fair by only a couple of inches and usually drove the ball between the outfielders. You can do that once in a while, but not all of the time and that's what the Braves got the breaks."

"Another thing was the late reporting of some of the men. Gilman's not yet in shape and Myers isn't ready to play yet. That set us back a trifling amount and we were supposed to open Kidflap spring a charity house and had to stop out of the lineup."

"But speaking of the Boston club it looks better than last year. Nicholson, Southworth and Barbee have joined the club and given it the usual punch. Fred Mitchell should do something this year."

BROOKLYN played the final game of the series here this afternoon, and today the Phils will be playing an afternoon. The Athletics will open the local American League season at Shibe Park against Robt. Hawk and his strong supporting cast.

Other Clubs Are Busting the Ball

YESTERDAY'S games brought out a lot of heavy hitting. The A's stopped one and two in Washington, losing by the score of 11 to 6. Ed Reamer was caught out of the box early in the game, his handball ball being too hot for the catcher.

Cleveland gave Detroit a service training, scoring six runs after the sixth inning. The White Sox lost again, which was to be expected.

In the National League, Pittsburgh scored fourteen runs against Chicago, which is enough to win three out of four games. The Giants outplayed the Braves and St. Louis won its first game of the year, taking advantage of Cincinnati of the score of 4 to 1.

Kid Williams Is in Great Form

KID WILLIAMS, former National League champion, has been hitting in great form of late and has been seen in action again on Monday night at a special show at the National. The Kid himself has a chance to win back the crowd and excitement in a game against Joe Louis, the present titleholder. It was the manager's plan to give Williams a couple of years ago and started him on the money game.

Williams takes on a very tough person in Joe Bernard Monday night, one has been having three days of late, but the Kid will make him extend himself to the limit.

Downtowners Win City Catholic Championship on Kilpatrick's Toss

A field goal by Percy Kilpatrick ten seconds before the game was over turned a defeat for Aquinas into a 27-26 victory and gave the downtowners the Catholic championship of the city over Nativity. Each team had won one game and lost one previous to last night's contest.

Nativity was in the lead at the time of the unexpected turn in the game. The score was 25-27 and the players were trying their hardest to "freeze" the ball when Kilpatrick came out of a scrimmage and getting down made the deciding point.

The contest was hard fought from start to finish. The opponents outplayed their opponents and outscored

PHILA. CLAIMS SIX 'INVADING GOLFERS'

Platt, Mrs. Barlow, French, Loos, Hoffner and Hackney, Connected Here. Play Abroad IS NOTABLE ADVENTURE

By SANDY McNIBLICK

The books are virtually closed on the selections for each of the three American golf teams to be sent abroad to compete for the British championships this year and Philadelphia in particular has reason to be proud of its choices.

For six players, either born and bred here or playing from clubs in the Philadelphia district, are included.

On the professional team of twelve, just announced, we have Emmett French, formerly of Philadelphia and a home-bred, as captain, Charlie Hoffner, a Philadelphia club choice, and Clarence Hackney, Scotchman pro at Atlantic City, both have berths at district clubs. Besides these Eddie Loos originated in Philadelphia, which gives this club a direct claim on 25 per cent of the prize team.

If you want more facts, Jim Barnes, now at Pelham, N. Y., achieved most of his fame while a pro at Whitmarsh, is a Briton by birth.

Mrs. Barlow's Chance
On the women's team Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, Merion, Eastern champion, rates over her husband, despite the absence of the champion and stellar light of the invading American team. Miss Hollins, who went to the fourth round over there last year, is expected to go up to the time he injured his shoulder in the last hockey match of the season at the Ice Palace. It did not bother him till he tried to swing a golf club, coming later and found he could not use his shoulder at all, being obliged to play around one-handed. Greatly disappointed, he had to decide to stay at home.

Platt, Hackney and Mrs. Barlow should all have close to the chance of our prime favorites on the teams. Hoffner, French and Loos will probably have a hand in the proceedings, especially if they get going in their best strokes.

As for the amateurs, it is now pretty definite that if Mrs. Platt, city champion, will be the lone Quaker City member of a band of eight simon-pures going over next week, Miss Marston, Merion, had expected to go up to the time he injured his shoulder in the last hockey match of the season at the Ice Palace. It did not bother him till he tried to swing a golf club, coming later and found he could not use his shoulder at all, being obliged to play around one-handed. Greatly disappointed, he had to decide to stay at home.

After the Athletics had been buried under a 14-6 score at Washington yesterday, the startling news was sent broadcast that Connie Mack was a bum guesser. The tall notionist looked over his staff of hurriers prior to the start of the game and nominated Eddie Rommel to humble George McBride's toilers.

Ed was a huge success from a Washington standpoint and all that he accomplished during his short stay on the mound was to present Griffith's team with four runs on as many hits. The A's had garnered a rally in the first and in the half of the percentage column, another, making the count 4 to 3.

Then Connie concluded that Rolfe Naylor was due to step into the picture as a hero, but again the sage of Twenty-first and Lehigh was off. Naylor stayed on the mound for one and two-thirds innings during which time Washington added eight runs on six hits and with two down in the third three-fingered Keefe was hurled into the breach and put a stop to the rush of the Senators.

A's Hammer Schuch
In the five and one-third innings that he tolled his delivery was nipped for only three hits and a pair of runs. The Athletics in the meantime were making good use of the mound. Schuch and had Connie picked Keefe to start the wise ones on the A's would be tied with Boston for fifth place instead of jumping the scenery into the hands of the Yankees.

Of the nine hits made by the St. Louis Browns in their 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox, one was a circuit smash by George Sisler, while Harry Sawyer and Jacobson contributed two-sackers. It was the second straight defeat administered by the Browns of the White Sox.

Carl Holling made his big league debut before Detroit fans yesterday and hit for five times. In the seventh he blew and nine hits, with three Tiger foul balls and Tris Speaker's triple tallies. The final score was 12 to 5.

The game scheduled at New York today for the Yankees and Red Sox was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Busy Day for George Burns
The New York Giants drew up on even terms with the Chicago Cubs in the victory of the Pirates, the victims of McGraw's outfit on Paterson's Day by a count of 9 to 1. George Burns, who had a busy time in left field and all he did during the afternoon was to spear nine hits.

Burns went batting crazy against the Cubs and turned in a count of 11 to 2. Nineteen hits were garnered during the carnage by Burns, including two-baggers by Maravalle, and a single by Burns. Hamilton cranked out a triple and Carey added a home run to his collection.

Max Baer's Babe Marquand at Cincinnati and the St. Louis Cardinals had a soft time in trimming the Reds, 6 to 1. The batting of Milton Stock was a feature. He speared a single, double and triple.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
Germantown High, 6; Centerville High, 5.

Northwest High, 15; Philadelphia Normal, 4.

Germantown High continued its winning streak and still leads the Public High School League as the result of its close victory over Central High School on the latter's field yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 5. This makes the fifth consecutive game which the Clivedens have captured in the league race.

Going into the eighth inning with the score standing 5-4 against them, the league leaders scored the game up by pushing two tallies across the platter.

The other league game, between Frankford High and Catholic High, resulted in a shut-out victory for the former, 5 to 0. Gransbach hurled for Frankford and held the Purple and Gold slingers to one lone hit, a single by Pitcher Cella, in the fifth inning.

Gransbach's work with the bat also figured prominently in the Frankford victory. He made three hits and lugged in two runs himself.

Girard College's victory over St. Joseph's Prep came as a surprise to the Crimson and Gray line. Previous to this game the Seventeenth and Stiles streets players had scored three comparatively easy wins.

Northeast opposed Philadelphia Normal School and easily defeated their opponents. The final score does not show the game that was played. Northeast scored fifteen runs to Normal's four, and could have made many more.

Penn Charter added another victory to their total by defeating the Germantown Friends, 8 to 3.

Horses in good condition in other races are: First, Duke, Frier's Rush, Athgarav; second, Esquimaux, Whis II, Tredick (stepchild); Old Rosebud, Pickwick, Panaman; sixth, Soldat de Verdun, King John, Star Head; seventh, Jack Reeves, Indolence, Arbitrator.

John Sanford is an arrival from Amsterdam, N. Y., to look over the string of horses owned by Birch in training for him at Havre de Grace.

Mike Lynch, who has acted as assistant to several prominent starters, has signed to do the starting at the following places: Pennsylvania: Whitmarsh, Reading, Lancaster, Harrisburg, and York. He will also start at the Altona Fair with feature running races this year.
