SHORE POLICE HOLD five weeks ago. Officials express the belief he was acquainted with the fact that Yon Pickler carried large sums of money about his person. It was no secret at the hotel, as he was referred to as the man who always could change big bills. With the arrest, it is hinted, other developments may be expected at any time. SHORE POLICE HOLD

Friend of Count Von Pickler Arrested With Two Women

ALL GIVEN "THIRD DEGREE"

Atlantic City, April 25 .- James Donavant, a former employes at the St. Charles Hotel, was arrested late yesterday on suspicion in connection with the murder of Count Heinrich von Pickler, whose body was found ten days ago on the outskirts of the city.

The arrest followed an all-night and all-day grueling of two women and two men by Prosecutor Gaskill, of Atlantic County, who is in charge of the case, and his detectives. Each person was questioned separately in different rooms, and then followed a comparison of notes. It is said that Donavant was friendly with one of the women quizzed.

Worked With the Count Donavant worked for several years at the St. Charles, where Count von Pickthe St. Charles, where Count von Pick-ler was also employed under the as-sumed name of Henry Buehler, with which he hid his real identity during the twenty-six years in this country. Donavant was a friend of the dead man and is known to have accompanied him on tours of the northside retreats. Donavant is a Southerner.

Further than to admit that Donavant taken into custody in connection was taken into custody in connection with the murder case Prosecutor Gaskill would say nothing. It is known that he was put through the "third degree" by caunty officials in his cell in the City. Jail, but the prosecutor refuses to state whether he had thrown any light on the stime. No definite charge has been erime. No definite charge has been lodged against him, his ticket at police headquarters merely stacing "investi-eation." He is held, however, without

New Angle to Mystery

The mystery was given a new angle in the information that Von Pickler never accepted mail at the hotel and it was always returned without being claimed. Most of his letters were sent to another address. Detectives believe that fact important in connection with clues tending to show that he had commiss abroads and wished to conversely his enemies abroad and wished to conceal his whereabouts.

George F. Maisch came forward yes-terday and told detectives that friends repeatedly remarked on the fact that Buchler, as he knew him, constantly seemed brooding when alone. He seemed in deep thought when noticed by him-self and his attention could not be at-tracted when in such modes unless one tracted when in such moods unless one spoke loudly or shouted. Maisch worked with Buehler, when he first came to this country, at the Glen Summit Hotel, Glen Summit, Pa.
