HIGHER PAY PLEAS IN COUNCIL TODAY

Requests Total $1,500,000, but Members May Refuse Most of Them

CAUTION MASKS ATTITUDE

Council will meet today to consider requests for salary increases which have come from nearly every city department. It has been estimated that nearly $1,500,000 would be required to meet the new demands made on the city treasury, and therefore the question will be viewed very seriously, it is said, regardless of political aspects. Today's session was called especially for this purpose.

When the city budget was prepared last winter Council promised something would be done toward ending underpaid city employes. It appears that since that time hundreds of employes, already receiving substantial salaries, decided they, too, were in the underpaid class and joined in requests for more money.

Many Councilmen Oppose

Many members of Council have declared that in view of the present industrial and business conditions in the country and the tendency to return to normal conditions, in the way of salaries, it would be very unwise to make wholesale increases in the pay of city employes now.

For that reason members of Council generally have decided to raise the "Stop, Look and Listen" warning to the army of employes who are reaching out for higher salaries.

So great has been the deluge of requests that the clerks of Council have been unable to arrive at an estimate of the amount of money that will be required to meet the total sum of the increases. It has been variously estimated that anywhere from $500,000 to $1,500,000 would have to be appropriated to grant all the requests, and to provide for scores of new positions that are asked by the various departments.

It has been impossible, up to the present, for the councilmanic clerks to fix with any degree of definiteness the number of employes on the public payrolls who are affected by the requests.

Requests in Varied Forms

The requests themselves are presented in varied forms. Many are asking that their new salaries include their present regular salary and the bonus with an additional 10 per cent increase. Others are seeking an increase that will be equivalent to the present salary and the bonus, and there are still others who merely ask for an increase, leaving it to Council to determine the amount.

Councilmen who admit they are alive to the danger of the situation from all its viewpoints say it will be impossible to meet all those requests.

There is a general belief among the Councilmen that the entire question will have to be met from another angle than that of "increase of salaries."

Council, it is said, can only approach the subject on a basis of considering employes who are admittedly "underpaid" or where "injustices were committed during the annual budget consideration," or where there is evidence presented that salaries should be "equalized."

Standardization Report Studied

It is understood that some members of Council have been giving consideration to the report of the firm of experts that submitted a report to the Civil Service Commission last winter on the classification and standardization of city employes. That report, it was said, may be used as a basis for determining some of the questions which may be raised at today's session.

Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Civil Service Commissioner, it is understood, will be at today's session to Council to confer with any information it may desire relative to the report. So far as could be learned yesterday there has been only one city department which has presented its salary increase request based entirely on the recommendations of the experts. That is the Bureau of Taxes Department.

JUDGMENT REVERSED

Man Loses Life's Savings by Supreme Court Ruling

Justice Kephart, of the State Supreme Court, today filed an opinion reversing the judgment obtained in Court of Common Pleas No. 4, by Andrew Bulakowski, a worker at the Franklin Sugar Refinery, against the Philadelphia Savings Fund Society, for the loss of his savings, which were drawn out by a forger and impostor.

In 1917 Bulakowski was making war-time wages and opened an account with the society, making regular weekly deposits.

November 15, 1919, while he was living at 229 Bainbridge street, he went to his bureau drawer to get his bankbook. He discovered it was missing.

It was then revealed that November 13 a man representing himself as Bulakowski and signing his name to the necessary cards and blanks, withdrew the entire account, which, with interest, amounted to nearly $2900, and departed. The society refused to make the loss good to Bulakowski and he brought suit, claiming the bank was negligent in paying out the money to the impostor. Two trials of the case were held in the lower court, and at both the jury returned verdicts for the plaintiff, the last being for $2917, the amount claimed with legal interest. The bank appealed the case to the Supreme Court.

WOOD'S SHIP IN TOW

Steamer Carrying General to Manila Suffers Engine Trouble

Yokohama, April 25.—(By A. The Edmore, which was ordered to proceed to the assistance of the Wenatchee, reported by wireless at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon that she was 165 miles south of Yokohama and following the Wenatchee. The latter vessel was then making eight knots an hour. At 11 o'clock last night the Edmore wirelessed that she was 115 miles from Yokohama.

Fiume, April 25.—The elections yesterday for the choice of the new Fiume administration proceeded without disturbances of any moment, only one incident marring the day. Order was speedily restored by the carabineers, who made one arrest, that of a youth, who said he was a supporter of the nationalists faction.

All the hotels and restaurants were closed. The voters poured in from the outlying districts, many of them coming in motortrucks. The vote cast was a large one.

BRITISH MINE OWNERS ASK TEMPORARY AGREEMENT

Offer Compromise Between National and District Wage Boards

London, April 25.—(By A. P.)—Renewed efforts to find a basis for the settlement of the dispute between the coal miners and mine owners were made today, when representatives of the owners and the executive officers of the Miners' Federation met here in joint conference with representatives of the government.

The miners submitted proposals for a temporary agreement for a period of three months, after which a permanent settlement would become operative, this embracing a standard wage and a standard profit. The temporary agreement would be in the nature of a compromise between the national wage basis desired by the miners and the district basis desired by the owners.

The miners proposed that the government make necessary contributions to any district to meet the maximum wages, and that the temporary period of the owners' proposals should extend to July 31, after which wages would depend on the financial ability of the industry to pay under the durable scheme. The wages to be paid in August, under the latter plan, would be calculated by reference to the June results in each area. No loss in surplus or standard profits would be carried forward, but the net loss would.

TROLLEY FARE RISE DENIED

Pennsylvania and Ohio Company Prohibited From Charging 10 Cents

Harrisburg, April 25.—(By A. P.)—Declaring that it would be a "fundamental mistake" to put into effect a straight 10-cent trolley fare in a community like New Castle, where there are many "school fare riders," the Public Service Commission has refused the application of the Pennsylvania Ohio Electric Co. and ordered it to continue a zone-cent fare with six tickets for forty cents and twenty school tickets for a dollar, with free transfers.

The commission, in issuing the decision, said that in event of an advance in the cash fare, the short riders would be forced to refrain from using the cars and that the company, in order to secure the maximum amount of revenue and render the public service it is under obligation to perform, should make every effort to retain its short riders. It also said "the policy of seeking to obtain a given amount of revenue by the imposition of service to a reduced number of patrons at a higher rate is not in harmony with proper public service regulation, and is also unjust to the accommodation and convenience of the public."

Clericals lost much ground in their former strongholds in Flanders, while the Socialists, for whom predictions of a large majority in Antwerp had been made, polled only about one-third of the votes cast there, on all sides much splitting of tickets was reported.

OUSTED PIEMAN PROTESTS

"Ikey Pinwheel" Tells Mayor His Rival Gets Business

Leon Reidelsbinger, pronounced by city officials, "Ikey Pinwheel," waited upon the Mayor this morning to protest against his ejection as pieman from the corridors of City Hall last week.

He was a familiar figure about the hall, where he sold pies, sandwiches, apples and cigars to court spectators, but he was expelled after a fight with a janitor.

He declared today that since he left the Hall by request of Negro pieman has doubled his sales. Chief Baxter, of the Bureau of City Property, said the other pieman will have to go, too.

Reidelsbinger had sold wares around the Hall for twelve years. He threatened today to transfer his political allegiance as well as his pie stand.

"VAMP" IN COURT STIRS WOMEN'S IRE

"Give Her a Punch," They Cry, as Female and Cripple Are Held in Vineland

ROBBERY IS THE CHARGE

"Give her a punch," yelled a woman in Vineland City Hall Justice Court today where Jack and Helen Gordon, who waived extradition from Washington Saturday, faced charges of robbery, burglary, carrying concealed deadly weapons and forcible entry.

Helen Gordon's vamping tactics are what brought on the wrath of scores of women who viewed the arraignment of the couple, who posed as married. They lived in a Vineland hotel for several weeks before they finally burglarized, it is charged, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ashton Thursday night, after binding and gagging them.

The couple have aliases of Lacey, Drew, Grant and Brown. They admit having a record. Gordon admitted yesterday, police declare, he and his wife had been working the same system for eight years.

But it was not their record which caused the hubbub in Justice De Witt's court today. It was the fact that both had acquired flashy new clothes while in Washington, and Helen was brazen throughout the hearing. "You couldn't put all my past in one book," she boasted. This, coupled with the story by the couple they had robbed, was too much for several matrons.

"Give her a punch," yelled one Italian woman. "Fix that vamp," said another. Justice De Witt held the pair without bail for court.

The couple got to Washington by attempting to double back on their tracks, after buying tickets for Atlantic City. Instead, they got off at Broadway, Camden, took a taxi to Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, and there bought tickets for Washington. The ticket agents at Broad street and the taxi driver remembered the couple and the arrest in their hotel at Washington followed.

CAMDEN JUDGE SITS HERE

Joline Takes Jurisdiction in Philadelphia—Frees Accused Woman

For the purpose of hearing testimony of Lieutenant Montgomery, of the Fifty-fifth and Pine streets police station, in the case of Marie Johnson, of Camden, Judge Joline, of the Camden County Court, sat as a magistrate at the station house today. By taking such action a great deal of legal red tape was cut.

Mrs. Johnson was arrested on charges made by her husband which reflected on her character. Incidentally it was brought out that Johnson is suing for divorce.

Lieutenant Montgomery proved a valuable witness for Mrs. Johnson. He testified that the woman brought him several letters, supposedly written by friends of her husband, saying that unless she agreed to meet them they would help Johnson to obtain a divorce.

Mrs. Johnson was discharged.

TRIGG TELLS LABOR IT IS AUTOCRATIC

Says Federation's Policy Is Antagonistic to Principles of U. S. Government

REPLIES TO MORRISON

Autocracy and responsibility for increased unemployment are two of the charges made against the American Federation of Labor by Ernest T. Trigg, chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

In reply to a recently published letter written by Frank Morrison, secretary of the labor organization, Mr. Trigg says:

"Not only do you advocate policies which include granting class privileges and freedom from restriction of the law for a part of the people to the injury of others, but the last quotation from the announcement, in particular, by calling upon a great body of the people of this country to disobey the law, as interpreted by the courts, is distinctly antagonistic to the fundamental principles of our Government.

"You bring in the subject of autocracy in a way which seems to indicate that you intend to convey the impression that this is a part of an autocracy, though you do not say so directly. If you have any such thought, kindly disabuse yourself of it. The committee is unalterably opposed to autocratic control of this Government or the activities or freedom of our people by any class.

"Great injury has at times come to our people through selfish or thoughtless activities by classes or groups of the people, who, by organization, or otherwise, have obtained power wherewith to impress their will upon and control the mass of the people.

"You yourself can doubtless name wrongs committed in this country, based upon misuse of autocratic power, and as one of the influential heads of a powerful organization, you are under a great responsibility to see to it that your own group stands for equal rights and justice for all of the people and does not permit selfish purposes and the ambitions of the unscrupulous to cause it to be autocratic and demand and take special privileges to the injury of others.

"We should add that the practice of certain labor unions, some of which, we understand, are subsidiaries of your organization, in requiring men to join a labor union in order to work in certain establishments, is both un-American and autocratic, and should have your earnest opposition."

Various employers in Philadelphia have called the attention of the Industrial Relations Committee, the committee announced last night, to the fact that unemployment would not be so general if it were not for the picketers at plants where strikes are in progress who prevent men getting work.

SAYS CONVICT 'FRAMED' HIM

Murder Suspect Leaped From Fourth Floor to Evade Arrest

Omaha, April 25.—(By A. P.)—Frank Seward, wanted in Toledo, O., in connection with the murder of two detectives, remained in a serious condition at a local hospital today, suffering from bullet wounds self-inflicted yesterday after he had leaped from the fourth floor of a hotel in an attempt to evade arrest.

Two women, one of whom says she is Seward's wife, and a man, are being held at the request of Toledo authorities.

Seward has two bullet wounds in the chest and his right leg is broken in three places. Seward denied he was guilty, declaring that Arthur Foley, who is serving a sentence in an Ohio penitentiary for the killing of the detective, had "framed" him.

BUT HIS CHECKS CAME BACK

Media Men Say Paper Given by Engineer Proved Worthless

W. A. Stalheber, a civil engineer, was sent to jail in Media today in default of $3000 bail on three charges of passing worthless checks.

Until February Stalheber lived on a farm rented from Patrick McPhillips, in Marple township. Stalheber, McPhillips says, gave him a worthless check for $60 on the First National Bank of Clifton Heights. Harry Burnley, a director of the Media Title and Trust Co., declares he gave Stalheber $600 cash in return for a note secured by a check for $1250 on the Pacific Bank of New York. The check also was returned it is said.

It was charged also that Stalheber had drawn about $600 from the First National Bank of Clifton Heights, after depositing checks for an aggregate of $1200 drawn to his order by "E. A. Turpin," on the Continental Bank of Chicago.

Six Buttons

YOU find six buttons down the box-plait center of an Eagle Shirt this spring—six buttons drawn up in close front formation to prevent gapping of even the lightest fabrics—six buttons, each one sewn on with twenty per cent more stitches than manufacturers consider "necessary."
