Administration leaders will move to alghi to have the House committee also charged from further consideration of the welfare foll. I note the rules are amended a few days age at the mistance of the Oliver-Grundy forces, 104 vores a bare majority of the House, will be required for this harpose. Ordinarily sixty votes would be sufficient. Which ever side gets control of these 104 votes must be considered as being in absolute control of the lower chamber. As the Senate is now in control of the Sproul. Crow leadership, and the House machinery is in the hands of the Grundy-Oliver interests, the answer is easy.

Dr. Joseph Steedle, of Allegbary, chairman of the committee on public bealth and sanitation, is opposed to the welfar nessure and has been able.

Administration forces in the House to discharge the committee holding the welfare bill and get the bill on the calendar so it can pass first reading comorrow and come to a final vote Thursday, the last day of the session.

The Harry J. Trainer and I. S. L. Smink, of Philadelphin, who will lead the fight in the House to kill the measure. If the Aron bill is delayed for a day or so in the House committee, it was pointed out, it will have absolutely no chance of passing the lower chamber. As one member remarked, "While the Aron idea was too smart, it may also be too late."

The same action will be necessary the congressional reapportionment bill, which Speaker Spangler is said to have in his pocket and has not referred to committee. Much the same action will be necessary on the legislative reap-portionment which Representative Mi-chael Hoffman, of Lancaster, is sup-posed to be carrying around in his pocket. The ten days' time limit for these apportionment bills to be in comhas not passed and it is doubt-
