EDDIE STYLES IN FINAL GOLF TILT

Philadelphian Meets Dyer for Title This Afternoon at Trenton Country Club

LONG MORNING MATCH

Trenton, N. J., April 30.—Edward T. Styles, the famous Philadelphia Dyer of Upper Merion, in this afternoon in the final of the first invitational tournament ever held by the Trenton Country Club. Styles was his usual self in the final, defeating A. J. Carruth, of Princeton, 3 and 2. Dyer came through his semifinal match, tripping R. E. Knepper, a western state champion, in a closely played match, one up, nineteen holes.

Styles played a consistent game against Carruth and won on the sixteenth green. He went out in 27 and his opponent had a 38. Here are their cards:

Styles	4	4	4	5	5	5	6	4	4	37
Carruth	7	4	4	5	5	5	6	4	4	47

After Dyer and Knepper had finished the afternoon hole they were all squares. The nineteenth is a par five which Dyer made in a birdie four, with a fine drive and a beautiful approach shot. His opponent put in a bogey on the hole, but he lost because his caddy picked up. Their cards:

Dyer	4	4	4	5	5	5	6	4	4	37
Knepper	5	4	4	5	5	5	6	4	4	43

On this day the entrants had difficulty in getting the short approach greens, which were also exceptionally fast. Some good scoring was done, since the low mark for the course as a whole was lowered yesterday by Frank Dyer, though it was made in match play and is, therefore, not official.

Dyer had a 73 yesterday afternoon, 29 out and 34 home, to make a stroke better than Dean's 74 to qualify.

There were two rounds between Philadelphians. In the first round Fred Knight beat Edward Clary, Bala, on the extra hole when he laid his stick on the green and the hole at the putt as you please and sank the putt for a birdie.

In the afternoon Eddie Styles surprised the department by using Norman Maxwell, of Westchester. Styles got a lead of three holes and became dormie. Maxwell then started back to the wall and won on the morning and was on the hole at the two-foot putt on the eighteenth for that hole, too, which would have squared the match, but the Whitmarsh player, blanking the hole, which meant a waggle on past the hole. It cost Maxwell his chance to even things up after a great finish.

Surviving Styles is showing good golf at Trenton for his first start of a slack golf spring, and many predict he will be in the finals this afternoon. It is unusual in an invitation tournament that one or more of the home talent does not survive to see semifinals at least, but all were eliminated, so fast was the field. And Trenton had some real players in the running at that. Horace Cook, the Maxwell and others.

L. R. Adams, Lu Lu, had a sweet day of it yesterday. He took a look at the public prints after the qualifying round and failed to see his name to play in the final. So he bethought himself to run down to the Jersey course. He look on and return with his clubs. He arrived late in the morning and was immediately surrounded by an angry mob, which stated that he had been due to start off "two hours ago."

"No, no, I'm out of it. I didn't qualify," he replied. "You've got the wrong culprit."

They finally convinced him that his name was waiting on the sticks and saluted forth. He won, the count being 7 and 6.

This is fine—who's next? And he won again in the p. m., 5 and 1. Today he played Charlie Williams, formerly an Aroniminker and one of the best. The result was not so close. Boniface, the Philadelphia Cricket Club second team continues to win in the Suburban Team Cup race. Yesterday they won their fifth straight match, blanking the champions, Whitmarsh, Overbrook and Bala are tied for second place, having won four and lost one match.

In the Wallingford races there are three winners, Huntingdon Valley, Fortresdale and Cedarbrook, with three victories out of four. The matinee yesterday was played in the rain, but in today of this none of them was defeated.

The Cricket Club team had an easy time of it with West Chester, winning all five, none of them being close.

Boots and Saddle

The Philadelphia Handicap is the big feature for the closing day of the race meeting at Havre de Grace. The J. K. L. Ross entry, coming out of Bonifay, Wilmington and Star Votter, looks the winner in easy fashion. Bonifay should be benefited by the last race. Jennings Park and Paul Jones should be the other contenders. The Philadelphia is at a mile and a sixteenth, with $5000 added.

The Final Purse, another feature, will furnish a surprise in Master Jack, who is now back in good condition. This is fair entitled to be close up.

There is a world of speed in the Quikstep Handicap, third race. The Ross entry, if Motor Cop starts, should be the choice, with His Choice, recently claimed from Ross by Sam Louis, as the contender. Kinnoul appears next best.

Horses in other races in good form are: First—Lancelot, Midian, Jean Bullant, Second—Shandon, Amekas, In, Enrico Caruso, Third—Fruit Cake, Generalship, Star Healer, Fourth—Dr. Jim, Padua, Lady Emeline.

The Blue Grass Stakes at Lexington today finish the final Derby test, with a small field, dominated by Leonard H. Muskallong and Black Scorpion are the favorites. The horses favorably placed in other races are: First—Marvin May, Jack Hart, Jr., Grand Second—Commander McMeekin, Topmost Colossus, Third—Tom, Corrie, Link Boy, Iwinwin, Fourth—Cotton, General, Haig, Ethel Gray, Sixth—Clifton, Blossom, Brig of War, Gloria France, Seventh—Sewell, W. Captain Ross, Bond.

The race meeting terminating at Havre de Grace today is perhaps the most successful in the history of the course, although the official figures will not be known for several days. The records have been large and the sand baths at Pimlico on May 3.

PLATT SAILS TODAY
Local Golf Champion Ships to Compete in British Amateur
New York, April 30.—J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia golf champion, is among those here with the American golf team which is sailing today on the good ship Chronin for foreign ports. Platt will compete with the rest in the British amateur golf championship on May 23 at Hoylake.

Platt is figured to have as good a chance as Chick Frazier of France. Platt is expected to lift the British title before, and Bobby Jones, the three Yankees who are expected to hear the brunt of the American attack. This is the first time that Platt is playing the best game of his career, is feared to extreme almost, and has not the same responsibility of the three leaders. Platt is Platt has not the same reputation to lose as his three more famous conferees.
