

LEGION PREPARES FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Parade of Veterans and Special Post Activities to Mark Holiday

PLAN "FATHERS' NIGHT"

With next November 11, Armistice Day, a legal holiday by recent enactment of the state Legislature, the American Legion, which inaugurated the national observance, already is planning suitable ceremonies for the day and for the commemoration of the service of Pennsylvania's war veterans.

David H. Simpson, department commander of Pennsylvania and commander of Walter M. Gearty Post, has outlined a program of activities for the day, and his recommendations were approved at the last meeting of the executive committee.

The program provides for the day to be opened by the ringing of the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall in a national salute. The Mayor will be requested to have 11 o'clock in the morning designated as "zero hour," marked by the ringing of bells and the blowing of whistles throughout the city. Every citizen will be asked to display the national ensign, and troops from Camp Dix, as well as sailors from the Navy Yard will be asked to participate in a parade which will be the chief event of the day. The 4 A. R., the state National Guard and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Spanish War Veterans will be asked to take part in parades, mass-meetings, or other public gatherings. It is suggested that all Legion posts celebrate the day with post lectures, dances and other appropriate activities.

David W. Johnson Post 183 will hold a "fathers' night" tonight at post headquarters, 25 South Van Ness street. The usual business meeting will be held to give parents of the legionaries an idea of the parliamentary methods used in carrying on the affairs of posts and an entertainment including moving pictures, will follow.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fourth Naval District Post 195 will be held tonight at the Bellevue-Stratford. Plans for reading the post's quota for the state membership drive taking place this month will be discussed.

William P. Roche Post 21 at the last meeting had as guests Captain De Leiza and the French track team that participated in the Penn relay games. The next meeting, May 10, will be for all members of the Seventy-ninth Division who wish to attend. Major J. A. McKenna, of the 315th Infantry; Colonel Barber, of the 204th Engineers; Major

POOR RICHARDS HAVE ANNUAL OUTING TODAY

Ball Game, Races, Tennis and Banquet Are on the Schedule

Members of the Poor Richard Club and their families are enjoying the annual spring holiday at the Philadelphia Country Club today.

There were lots of things to do. Bill Martin's Cannon Alexs. crossed bats with Frank Goldner's Poor Richards. There were prizes for the men making the longest hit, for the man reaching first base the most times and for the man catching the highest fly.

Prizes were offered in the tennis matches, three-legged races, 50-yard dashes and hop-skip-and-jump races. For golfers there was the Bartley Club challenge cup with a variety of minor prizes.

The prizes will be awarded at the dinner at the Philadelphia Country Club at 4:30 o'clock.

Six Gloucester Teachers Are to Be Married Soon

The Gloucester City Board of Education today re-elected thirty-nine teachers for the next term and accepted the resignations of three teachers who will be married. They are Miss Jean Yorkes, principal of the High School, and Miss Anna L. Harrison and Miss Marion Green. The teachers' committee reported that three other teachers would also be married.

The board referred to the teachers' committee the question of an increase in the salaries of some teachers. Ten applications were received from teachers who would fill the vacancies caused by the three resignations.

In spite of objections made by Superintendent of Schools Milmer E. Burns, the Board of Education changed the hours of the sessions of the Junior High School, making them the same as the High School hours.

SLAYER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Tells Police of Dover, Del., He Fired in Self-Defense

Dover, Del., May 3. Lawrence Smith, a Negro, twenty-three years old, surrendered himself here late last night to Sheriff Graham, paying a man to bring him to Dover after he had shot and killed Harry Burris, Negro, whom he had ordered from his house on the Cottage farm near Viola.

Burris had been warned to keep away from the Smith home, according to Smith's story, and when Burris grabbed for a shotgun in the corner of the room, Smith shot, aiming his revolver at Burris' arm, he says. The bullet struck Burris in the stomach.

ROBBER GANG RAIDS MAPLE SHADE, N. J.

Bandits Fail to Open Safes. Get Two Suitcases Containing Laundry

GENERAL STORE RANSACKED

The railroad station, and a store in Maple Shade, N. J., and the station at Pensauken, a mile distant, were entered by robbers last night.

Little of value was taken from any of the places as the robbers failed in their efforts to open two safes. Their loot amounted to two suitcases containing laundry and tools from the store.

The bandit gang evidently entered the general store of J. S. Collins & Sons, in Maple Shade, first. A Jimmy, hatcher and chisel were stolen from this shop and found in the ticket agent's office in the station. They used them, it is thought, to force their way into the station.

The stationmaster discovered the attempt to open the safe this morning. Efforts had been made to drill through the thick steel door. The two suitcases were found a half mile up the railroad tracks, where they had been opened and discarded.

Put Stowaways to Work on Ship

There were four stowaways on the Spanish steamship Snehatten, which arrived at Marcus Hook yesterday. They are Rosendo Bonzales, Manuel Ponte, Alfredo Bruna and Fernando Cento. They lived in the bunkers on bread and water for four days and then made their way out on deck. They were put to work and were permitted to continue to use the coal as a bed, they said.

THE OCEAN

1
The ocean extends from shore to shore and fills up the spaces between. It is made up entirely of different size waves. With keep each other clean.

2
On top of the ocean are all kinds of boats.

3
In the middle of the ocean are fishes. With few fins but many scales. Some are inconspicuous, like minnies. While some are the opposite, like whales.

4
On the bottom of the ocean are mermaids. Half ladies and the other half fishes. They lean back on seaweed and comb out their hair. And look like they felt delicious.

5
O beware of the ocean in a storm. If you chance to be bathing night, And beware of it also when the tide is low, For the best way it gets is high.

On with the Dance!

On with the dance! Blood warms in young and old and flows the faster for it.

On with the dance! Thoughts go flying with butterfly wings, and every bodily fiber is a-tingle with new life.

As surely as the dance goes on, thirst comes to the forefront, dominant among the senses through which we get enjoyment.

It was just for such happy moments as these that Coca-Cola was created and is made the delicious and refreshing, pure and wholesome beverage that it is.

At the refreshment stand under the same roof, carried by the boy with the Coca-

Cola cap to the members of the band, at the soda fountain down the street for those who are wont to take a stroll under the stars—that's how Coca-Cola fits into the good old ways of American life—always and everywhere the readiest and surest means of delicious and refreshing thirst-quenching.

Sweet with the natural, nutritious sweetness of pure cane sugar—

Its distinct flavor a perfect blend of choicest savors—

That's Coca-Cola—established in the public favor in the old days when the soda fountain was but a novelty—a beverage which has multiplied its friends by the years of its life.
