Passing the half-century mark, mile-Passing the half-century mark, mile-stonically speaking, means nothing in the game of golf, as a large field of reterans will endeavor to prove today in the eighteen holes of medal play for the Shanley Cup at Lakewood, N. J. The competition today is limited to those tufted linksman who are fifty-five

This particular event has been revived Only Upset on Opening Day of this year. Always very popular, it languished during the war, as did Lakewood for a time, but with the strong comebatk of golf, play for the Shanley Cup promises to come back equally strong today. Many local players are entered there. The course is also open today for actice rounds on the eve of the annual practice rounds on the eve of the annual Lakewood spring tournament, an event open to all amateur members of the U. S. G. A., the qualifying round for which will be held tomorrow. Match play will be held Friday and Saturday. Frank Barton, chairman of the Jersey fournament committee, announces that there will be as many sixteens as the committee deems advisable on the qualifying showing and all of the usual cups. A goodly delegation of locals will enter he play, with stars or other, and it looks as though it would be as hard to win the cups as to pronoun the names of the trophies.

Have a look at the titles : First six-teen, Lakewood ; second sixteen, Metethird, Carasaljo; fourth. fifth, Wxychisfalgiopkl, or Manetia: something like that.
