Nancy Wynne Talks of Many Out-of-Doors Affairs Which Will Follow the Indoor Horse Show. A Meeting at the Acorn

WITH the opening of the Indoor Horse Show the spring doings have really started. Next week we'll have the Pony Show and then there'll be the Flower Market at Rittenhouse Square and the May Market at Devon...

So we might just as well get our summer sports suits and our white shoes and light parasols ready, for in less than a week we will be tripping the light fantastic in just those garments and accessories, though I grant you it does not look much like it with the kind of weather we are having these days.

AND talking of out-of-door affairs, Mrs. Richard Norris tells me they are going to have their annual party for the benefit of the Presbyterian Orphanage at Fifty-eighth and Kingsessing phanage at Fifty-eighth and Kingsessing...

THAT was a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the Acorn Club. Four clubs or associations—the Acorn Club, Philomusian and Philadelphia Chapter No. 2, Colonial Dames of America—met to hear Mrs. Trowbridge...

I HEAR the Stacy Lloris has closed their house at 1623 Spruce street and will spend this month with Mrs. Lloris's parents, the Effinghams, at Ardmore. Later they will open their house at Saranac Inn, Saranac Lake, in the Adirondacks...

I WOULD not mind being in Sarah Penrose's shoes today as far as climate is concerned, for it must be warmer down in New Orleans than here, even if it is raining there too.

DAVE was all dressed up in a stiff, starched blouse and walked into the drawing room carrying his wife's hat of wood, which had been given him for his third birthday. He sat down on the floor and played a while, and then holding his hammer in his right hand proceeded for tacking down the carpet...

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES Mrs. Gilbert Mather, of Wister road, Ardmore, will entertain at luncheon on Sunday next, at her home, in honor of Miss Eleanor L. McCawley, daughter of Mrs. William Morris McCawley, of Avon Court, Ardmore, whose marriage to Commander George Pignen, U. S. N., of Washington, but who was formerly stationed here, Sarah is a dear, she is so pretty and full of fun and is attractive. I just love to see her with her brother Billy. She and he are quite inseparable, and it seems so nice that they are, for they met both times, their mother, who was devoted to them. Dr. Penrose, their father, is awfully popular, too, and the three of them are most united.

THE guests who attended the bridge luncheon given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Alice Family, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D.
