

TAX BILLS' DELAY ELECTION FACTOR

Collingswood Wants to Know Amount of Impost Before Going to Polls

NO RESPONSE FROM MAYOR

Collingswood, N. J., May 6.—The political fight here between organization and independent forces is becoming intense. Failure of tax bills to reach taxpayers is being used by the independents in their contest against Mayor Thomas W. Jack, who is conducting a strenuous campaign for reelection, with Commissioner Alfred K. Roberts as his running mate. The election will take place next Tuesday. The tax bills should have been sent out on May 1, and residents are wondering why they are being held back. Many voters wish to know what their taxes are going to be before the election. The size of the tax bills, it is believed, would be a determining factor in the casting of many ballots. The demand, "Let us have our tax bills before election day," has thus far provoked no response from present officials. While the independents were taking advantage of this situation and making political capital out of it, they received somewhat of a surprise yesterday, when Commissioner Joseph W. Wescott, whom both factions had endorsed, issued an open letter calling for the reelection of his fellow Commissioners Jack and Roberts.
