Time to Get Ready for the Warmer Days So Soon to Come

Business Doing Has Its Delights and It Is a Mistake

when it becomes mere drudgery or skinflintism.

There are inherent, intense and abiding pleasures if it is organized for mutual helpfulness as well as for private returns, and actual service to the public.

Chesterfield did well when he faithfully advised his son that "no man tastes pleasures truly who does not earn them by previous business," and few people do business well who do nothing else.

The mere jingle of money in the merchant's till will never satisfy a real man.

[Signed] John Wanamaker

May 6, 1921.
