W.F. JOHNSON BEATS WORLD'S NET CHAMP

Cynwyd Star Trims Bill Tilden, 6-1, 6-2, in Exhibition at McCall Field

WOMEN ALSO ON COURTS

By SPICK HALL. Tilden was way off his game today.

That was what a number of persons thought yesterday afternoon after watching W.F. Johnson, Cynwyd, beat the world's lawn tennis champion, Bill Tilden, 2-1, in an exhibition match at McCall Field.

It is true that Bill Tilden has played a lot of tennis during the past winter, but he has not been at the top of his championship form. The real reason why he was trimmed was because Johnson played a more consistent tennis.

ORGANIZE SOCCER LEAGUE

This City Gets Birth in American League—Has Eight Clubs

New York, May 9.—Eight of the strongest soccer football clubs in the country have pooled their interests and organized what is to be known as the American Soccer League for the purpose of playing professional soccer on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays on a circuit comprising eight different cities, counting Manhattan and Brooklyn as distinct, as a result of the meeting of delegates held at the Hotel Astor, and presided over by William Luther Lewis, of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Volleys and Strokes

After tomorrow's matches on University courts it is likely that Bill Tilden will take a long rest.

Tomorrow the men's and women's inter-collegiate matches are scheduled to be played. This will be the second meeting, but Tilden's matches are postponed on account of rain.

The tennis matches at McCall Field were not the only big noise in that section yesterday.

The other was Miss Walsh's wedding. It was held at the home of her father, which is a beautiful affair.

Judging from the perfect hand of weather Mr. Tilden must be a member of the Philadelphia Electric.

The McCall Field courts are as good as new in the country. They have been rebuilt by the University of Pennsylvania.

Sam Colton, chairman of the tennis committee, has been elected to the position of chairman of the ranking committee of the U. S. T. A.

The matches were inaugurated by Joseph H. McCall, president of the Philadelphia Electric.

Wallace Johnson and Stanley Pearson will play doubles together in most of the matches in this vicinity this week.

Every available seat was taken yesterday at the University grounds, showing the ever-increasing popularity of lawn tennis.

PENN LOOMS BIG AS TITLE WINNER

Coach Robertson's Excellent Judgment Wins Triangular Meet in New York

LEVER STRENGTHENS TEAM

Pennsylvania's chances to again win the intercollegiate track and field championships received another big boost yesterday in New York Saturday afternoon when the Red and Blue won over Dartmouth and Columbia in a triangular meet by two-thirds of a point. The figures read: Pennsylvania, 51 points; Dartmouth, 50.5, and Columbia, 142.3.

Saturday saw the greatest number of dual and triangular meets of the season. Yale scored a triumph over Princeton in a meet that was not decided until the last event, the furlong, which Feldman, of Yale, captured in 22 seconds flat. Duke Landon, who failed to even place in the relay, proved that he had an off day then by winning the high jump Saturday with a leap of 4 feet 3 inches. Stevenson, the Penn quarter-miler, turned the tide in 48.1-5 seconds, breaking the Princeton track record.

The best performances of the day went to Allan Woodring, the Syracuse 200-meter champion. The Syracuse led the century in 9.3-5 seconds, tying the record, and in the furlong he traveled the distance in 21.5-5 seconds, equalling the intercollegiate record. Syracuse won the meet from Pittsburgh and Colgate.

In the other meets Drexel defeated C. C. N. Y., the Navy stopped Virginia Lafayette, humbled Boston, Rutgers tripped Lehigh and Harvard jolted M. T.

Robbie's Judgment

Lawson Robertson, the Penn coach, had to do considerable doping before-hand to win the meet in New York. After the relay Robbie stated that his veterans were in top form and that he was afraid that several of them might go stale. In order to prevent this he decided not to double up Ely in the quarter and the half, to keep Bob Maxam out of the quarter and to keep Larry Brown on the sidelines. After Brown's brilliant performance in the relay Robbie decided to give him a well deserved rest. If he had been started in the mile against Higgins, the Columbia star, his form for the intercollegiate might have been a rule.

Baseball With Nails Gives Landis a Puzzle

Pitchers in the Southern Association, now that they can't put anything on the ball to make it curve, are putting something into it. John D. Logan, president of the Mobile Club, declares that after the game with Little Rock on Friday he found balls with thin wire nails driven into them. He has taken up the matter with the league president and Commissioner Landis.

The nails are driven into the balls close to the stitches and are hard to find. It is declared the added weight of the nails causes the sphere to do all sorts of funny tricks. The Mobile players deny that they put the nails in the game.

Don Head continued his great running by winning the two-mile event from Young and Scholares, of Dartmouth. Everett Smalley pushed Thompson, of Dartmouth, right to the tape in the 220 hurdles in 25.4-5 seconds, which means that the former Central High School led in top form for the intercollegiate.

DEMPESEY TAKES LIGHT WORKOUT

Champion Also on Long Board-walk Stroll—He Dreads Roller Chairs TO RETURN TO SUMMIT

Atlantic City, May 9.—Training by Jack Dempsey for his July 2 two-round, no-decision contest at Jersey City with Georges Carpentier, officially started today, when the world's title-holding heavyweight went through a light work this afternoon. The big boy did no boxing nor even sparring at the airport, where his camp is pitched, but was satisfied with a short lumbering up in skipping the rope, shadow boxing and punching the bag.

Dempsey started his first day of preparing for his coming contest with Carpentier by taking quite a stroll on the boardwalk. He wended his way as far east as the Hotel, where he stopped a half hour yesterday afternoon, and when asked by a companion how he felt, Jack's answer was, "Well, let's see, on back; yes, walk; I dread those roller chairs; I'm off them throughout my stay here."

It is probable that Dempsey will return to Free Welsh's farm at Summit, N. J., before his fight with Carpentier, to head the finishing touches on his training there. Dempsey is prepared to tell the world that he will place an emphasis on Welsh's health farm in the hills near Summit, as a place for recuperation. Of course, Jack doesn't profess to say that he was an invalid when he went to Summit, two weeks ago, for "a complete rest," but he emerged from the hills Thursday fit as a fiddle and right on edge for a bout with any man living.

Welsh was the champion's "doctor-in-chief" while Jack was sojourning at the farm and if Freedy ever finds himself in need of a recommendation as a health-promoter he need go no further than Dempsey himself and Jack Kearns will be ready to attest his O. K. to anything his protégé may say.

Incidentally when the former lightweight camp begins to harvest his crop of early vegetables about July 1 he will have none other than Jack Dempsey to thank for the success or failure of the yield. Jack literally stumped up and raked over every patch of open ground on the Englishman's hill-top farm. In fact, an hour or two of farmwork was a part of the daily routine of each "day of rest" the adversary of Carpentier put in under Welsh's tutelage.

When Jack departed Thursday from the Welsh farm he left word that he would continue to regard the hilltop as his secondary quarters and would visit there frequently before July 2, the date he is engaged to box Carpentier.

His personal gymnasium effects were left in charge of Welsh along with most of his clothing and whenever he tires of performing for crowds at the seaside he expects to beat it to the health farm, this interesting "day of rest" with strenuous exhibitions with sparring partners at the seaside.

Park Eden would like to arrange games for May 14 and 15 with one foot-day on Sunday. James J. Perry, 4928 Washington Avenue.

Robins Retain Cup by Defeating Fore River

Harrison, N. J., May 9.—The Robins soccer team, of Brooklyn, which won the National Challenge Cup recently, successfully defended the American Football Association trophy in the final hour against the Fore River Field Club of Quincy, Mass., winning by 5 goals to 2.

Ratigan and Sweeney each scored twice for the Robins and Hsieh once. Page and Black tallied for the Fore River eleven, Black negotiating a penalty kick.

Weather conditions were ideal and a large crowd witnessed the contest. George Young, of Philadelphia, refereed.

"Outsider" Wins Cross-Country. New York, May 9.—An absolute outsider for the honor, Frank Tetterton, of the Mohawk A. C., won the senior intercollegiate cross-country championship at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, beating the leaders by more than 100 yards at the three-mile mark. Tetterton, who is a former member of the Van Cortlandt club, was a defending champion.

CHILD'S CUP RACE ON NEXT SATURDAY

Penn, Princeton and Columbia Crews Meet on Harlem: Tigers' Victory Over Navy Surprise

JUNIOR BOAT ALSO WINS

Next Saturday afternoon the annual Childs cup race will be held on the Harlem river with Columbia as the host of Princeton and Penn. There is a lot of speculation on Boat House Row concerning the chances of the Red and Blue after Saturday's events on Lake Carnegie, where the Tigers pulled away from the champion Navy eight.

Pennsylvania and Columbia both have beaten Yale and up to Saturday both were figured to be stronger than Princeton, but since the Orange and Black's great victory over the Middies their hope is badly shot to pieces and the ex-
