NO "L" THIS YEAR IN COUNCIL DELAYS, MAYOR'S WARNING

Dilly-Dallying Hit by Executive on Eve of Transit Meeting

"NO CAMOUFLAGING" IS PLEA TO HURRY ACTION

If Council's dilly-dallying over the issue of the Frankford elevated continues much longer, the line will not be in operation this year, and perhaps for a much longer period, said Mayor Moore today.

"I am sure this statement before leaving for Princeton, where he will address the Nassau Club. This afternoon the Mayor will be in conference with Council members on the transit question as developed in the meeting held last night.

"The Mayor's message transmitted to the Council on March 31. That was six weeks ago and the Mayor stated we have reached the 'forks of the road' when it comes to the transit question.

"The city has been forced to hold up certain of its work because it does not know whether it must deal with the Rapid Transit Co. or operate on its own account.

"This is the question now up to Council and there should be no camouflaging."

"When asked what he meant by 'camouflaging' the Mayor said: 'Side-stepping on such questions as an increase of a clerk's salary from $1000 to $1200 or the fractional disapproval of the police department, or other side issues would seem to have absorbed the attention of the Council members.'

"The Mayor said to the Tacony Manufacturers' Association at the Manufacturers' Club last night, 'he went on, 'and which is not reported in the morning papers, that he has been very busy during the last few days of the week, and that he is going to operate the P. R. T. line as soon as possible. The administration is not going to be unduly influenced in this matter.'

"It is striving to get the work done in order that the people may have the benefit of it as soon as possible. It is favorable legislation or no legislation at all, but it cannot control the Frankford L. which the city owns, except as a lease may inaugurate a supervision of the public service in the matter of fares and rates."

"If the property is to be leased he intends to insist upon that return. The people must now look to their councilmen to determine whether there is to be a lease or not. He has indicated that this matter squarely before the councilman body without prejudice to the views or opinions of any councilman."

"The Mayor is accompanied to Princeton by City Solicitor Smyth and Councilman Hooper."

Gratz Outlines Qualities for Members of Board Education, Character, Business Capacity and Interest in Schools Are Necessary Attributes, Says Resigning Head

Simon Gratz, who resigned yesterday as president of the Board of Education, gave his conceptions today of the qualities which should distinguish a board member, and also defined the relation of the Department of Superintendence and the teaching body to the board, as he saw it.

"If I were a member of the Board of Education," said Mr. Gratz, "I would consider at least three qualities as prime requisites in guiding my choice of a new member of the board, whether it be man or woman."

"First, sufficient education. By that I do not mean a very good education, but a broad one as well. 'Second, a perfectly good character. Every member of the board should have the full esteem of the community in which he lives and serves."

"Third, a good capacity for business, which is a very potent factor. 'Above all, one chosen for the board should have a very positive interest in the school system and a firm purpose and desire to work as a member of the board to accomplish the very best results possible."

WOMAN IS GAGGED; THIEVES GET $400

Two burglars entered the home of Mrs. Josephine Witorski, fifty years old, 3230 North Front street, at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, knocked her down and gagged her, and escaped with $400 which was hidden in the room.

The robbery was reported to the police today. Mrs. Witorski was sleeping in a rear room on the second floor, the opened window of which leads to the roof of a porch.

She was awakened by the noise of the burglars. When she said, 'Who's there?' they struck and gagged her. They then made a systematic search of the room until they found $400, the woman's savings, under a pillow.

Police officers, who were called to the scene, found the woman gagged and the money hidden in a box. The burglars escaped with the money and the woman was taken to the hospital.

GERMANY BOWS TO ALLIES; ACCEPTS TERMS WITHOUT EQUIVOCATION OR EVASION

Demands Fixed by Allied Council Which Germany Agrees to Meet

The allied demands which Germany has decided to accept are: First, Complete disarmament of Germany's military, naval and aerial forces as called for by the Treaty of Versailles. Second, Trial by the high court at Leipzig of the persons accused by the allied powers of having committed acts in violation of the laws and customs of war.

U. S. IS GLAD RUHR ENTENTE ARRANGES TRUCE IN SILESIA

Coercion of Germany Would Agree to Polish Occupation of Industrial Region Pending Final Settlement

TREATY OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

By CLINTON W. GILBERT Staff Correspondent, Evening Ledger Co. Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co. Washington, May 11.—Administration officials express relief and satisfaction over Germany's acceptance of the allied terms.

It is clear that since Germany has accepted the allied terms, the aim of the administration was to contribute to the economic recovery of Europe. To do this it wished to avert the issue of military force against Germany and the consequent prostration of Germany economically.

It was in starting the flow of reparations the recovery not only of Germany, but of France, England and the United States. What President Harding and Secretary Hughes had fostered expect from the settlement of reparations is a prompt response of business, in this country and throughout the world, to the more favorable industrial conditions.

Business elements the world over have contributed to the result which seems now at hand. They saw clearly the consequences of a French occupation of the Ruhr as disastrous to the restoration of credit and industry.

Even German business took a long view of the prospects, which made Germany assume the results of German rather than face the prospects of immediate disruption through the seizure of the Ruhr. The settlement that approaches is a victory for business intelligence.

The steps which the administration has taken to bring about the result are these: First, A clear intimation to Germany through the note to M. Drosel that this government would take a pro-Ally position, but that it wishes to see reparations settled.

Second, A refusal to separate itself from the Allies by acting as arbitrator. It again with an intimation of its desire to see reparations settled contained in the note to M. Drosel.

Unconditional Reply Confined to Repetition of Entente Decisions

LLOYD GEORGE TOLD OF SUBMISSION

Reichstag Votes 221 to 175 to Sign Ultimatum as Advised by New Cabinet

French Leaders Discuss Measures Necessary for Execution of Versailles Treaty

By the Associated Press
London, May 11.—Germany's unconditional acceptance of the Entente reparations terms was delivered to Prime Minister Lloyd George by Dr. Stummer, German minister to Great Britain, here today.

Mr. Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons this afternoon Germany's complete acceptance of all the allied demands. His announcement was greeted with prolonged cheering.

Dr. Stummer handed the German reply to the prime minister at 11 o'clock this morning, and Mr. Lloyd George immediately telegraphed the news to all the governments concerned.

Berlin, May 11.—(By A. P.)—Germany's reply to the allied ultimatum, accepting the terms laid down by the Allied Supreme Council in London, is confined to a repetition of the exact terms of the decisions of the Allies with regard to guarantees, disarmament, the trial of war criminals and financial conditions. The reply states that Germany adheres unconditionally to these decisions.

This reply was sent to the allied capitals, for transmission to the heads of the allied governments, after the cabinet headed by Dr. Julius Wirth, the new chancellor, had received what amounted to a vote of confidence in the Reichstag last night, that body approving of the ministry's decision to accept the allied ultimatum. The vote stood 221 to 175, giving the Reichstag a margin of forty-six.

The votes cast for acceptance of the Entente terms were from the Centrist, Democratic, Independent Socialist and Majority Social-Democratic parties. The Nationalists, German People's party, Communists and the Bavarian People's party were opposed to the plans of the ministry as announced by the new chancellor.

In his address Dr. Wirth emphasized the tremendous burden Germany would bear in agreeing to meet the Entente terms, but insisted on an alternative of French occupation of the Ruhr valley would completely cripple Germany's industrial life and demoralize the country.

Demands Payment by June 1
The allied demand, in brief, was payment by June 1 of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks due under the terms of the reparations agreement. The allied ultimatum demanded that Germany pay the balance of 8,500,000,000 marks in reparations, in installments of approximately 1,000,000,000 marks, in addition to 25 per cent of the value of Germany's exports.

Since the announcement of the new German ministry there has been some speculation as to its stability. The impression of French invasion of the Ruhr district, which is regarded as popular with members of the German People's party and even prominent Democrats.

Erzberger May Come Back
Dr. Wirth has been often considered an understudy of Matthias Erzberger, former minister of finance, and is believed to be determined to carry out the terms of the reparations agreement. It was said that Erzberger was popular with members of the German People's party and even prominent Democrats.
