WOMAN FIGHTS FIRE LEAVES HOSPITAL AND DIES

cues Two Small Sons, Then Battles Flames

FIREMEN COME TO HER AID station.

Awakened by the almost suffocating fumes of smoke that filled her bedroom shortly after midnight, Mrs. John W. Williamson, of Ardmore, groped her way to the beds of her two sons, rescued both, telephoned for the Ardmore fire department and then fought the blaze single-handed until the arrival of the

Then the woman, overcome by the smoke and excitement, collapsed. A physician was summoned but no serious results are expected from her ex-

The fire started in the kitchen of Mrs. Williamson's home, supposedly from crossed wires. When Mrs. Williamson was awakened she forced her way through the smoke that filled the way through the smoke that filled the hallway to the room occupied by her sons, John, Jr., twelve years old, and Frank, eight. The children were nearly sufficented when their mother reached

Throwing blankets about them, Mrs. Williamson carried the younger boy and led the other downstairs and out of

After she had used the telephone to send in the slarm, Mrs. Williamson cudeavored to fight the flames in the kitchen by throwing pitchers of water on what she supposed was the source of the blaze.

By the time the firemen arrived Mrs. Williamsen had been forced back by the tiames toward the dining-room, but was pluckily throwing water on the flames as they crept forward.

Firemen had little trouble in putting out the fire. The loss from smoke, tire and water is estimated at about

Mrs. Williamson, a widow, owns a hardware store in Ardmore and is re puted to be wealthy.

To Sell the Good FURNITURE Made by the M. L. Nelson Furniture Company, in Bankruptcy

The M. L. Nelson Furniture Company owned and operated one factory in Indiana and two factories at good producing points in Ohio.

Under business stress, last December, when the Company was flooded with countermands of orders, it succumbed and its affairs were placed in the hands of a creditors' committee and application for bankruptcy was made.

It is thoroughly good furniture, in its variety, meeting very general need, and in its good styles offering that satisfaction a person seeks in furniture that has to be lived with for a very long time.

FACTORY NO. 1, IN OHIO

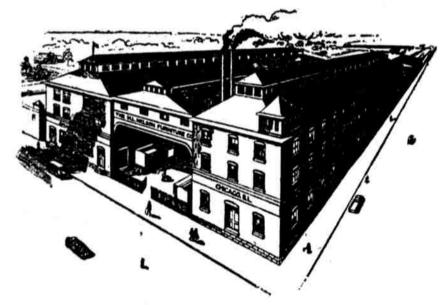

It is furniture of Gimbel standard and we have Philadelphia's share of the very extensive stocks to sell

At Half and Less Than Half the Expected Prices

Chiefly bedroom and dining-room furniture, the effects of the crash were to hasten the sale to us by other concerns of living-room furniture. Therefore—

The Sale Will Embrace Furniture for the Whole House

Business swings like the pendulum of a clock. pendulum at rest represents normal values and usual selling. Under war and post-war conditions producing costs, both for labor and materials, started the pendulum swinging toward higher prices. To make matters worse, cabinet makers found other work than usual furniture making, and production was lessened, while the millions with full purses improved their home equipment. Then came a partial return of workers to furniture production and the M. L. Nelson Company secured good orders, only to have many of them revoked by cancellation, when retailers faced, early last winter, a shrinkage in volume of sales that really never materialized. But the harm was done. And the good furniture made, and in process of making, has, by the calamity of the company's collapse, swung this pendulum the other way, and from high prices the sweep has been to-

Prices Far Under Profitable Production Value

The furniture at command bulks a very large total, but individual lots are in many cases limited. It is possible that a suite advertised the second day of the sale may be sold before many customers arrive. But that happens in any such movement and last as lots may-

THE SALE WILL OPEN MONDAY MORNING, 16th

Many men are busied in getting the furniture ready and-

You Are Invited to Come in Before Monday to Examine and to Select, if That Serves Your Purpose

In fairness, the furniture must be available to all until actually sold; hence, every sale must be final. Exchanges, credits and refunds cannot be allowed.

Payments for furniture may be extended over a long period, with full advantage of the sale's economies.

Monday—the sale opens. · Right Now-the furniture can be seen and selections made.
