

Large Entry List Expected for Eastern Interscholastic Golf Championships on Merion Links

FRIDAY THOUGHT HE LOST NINE IRON MEN, BUT WAS IN A BUCK

Umpire Gave Groundkeeper Additional Dollar When Diamond Polisher Had Himself Presented With Ten Spot, but Arbitrator Didn't Know It

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

THE only thing a ball player hates worse than an exhibition game is two exhibition games. Managers and club owners, however, have a habit of booking dates in the alfalfa belt on off days, not so much to give the boys needed exercise, but to cut down expenses. Small-town crowds contribute freely, and as long as they are in the mood they will be entertained.

Last Monday was an off day in the big leagues. The eastern teams were traveling westward and it was very much as possible. The Yankees played in Toronto and the Chicago Cubs gave an exhibition in New Castle, Pa. Other clubs did not play because they were traveling and couldn't find the time.

One of the most important persons on the day of an exhibition game is the groundkeeper of the small town park. He takes a special pride in maintaining the diamond and has it half-sold and heeled, to say nothing of cleaned and pressed, for the occasion. He believes it is as good if not better than any other groundkeeper in the world, and if he does not give himself a big boost it is because he has looked.

For more than twenty years the soil expert had been working on the ball field in New Castle, Pa. In that time he became acquainted with every blade of grass, every bump on the infield and knew their past history.

When it became known that the Cubs would play the local club the groundkeeper, who answered to the name of Friday, worked harder than ever before, and when Johnny Evers and his troupe trotted on the field Friday was first to greet them.

"What do you think of our ball grounds?" he asked Evers. "Don't know yet," answered Johnny wearily. "Wait until we play on them." Johnny had been on many diamonds before and refused to commit himself.

After the National Leaguers finished their infield practice Friday again was on the job.

"Now what do you think?" he inquired anxiously. "Ain't it the best you ever saw outside of the big league? I've been working for twenty years to get it in shape and I know you appreciate it. And that is something," he added.

"Well," replied Evers, "the park is not so bad—not so good—but not bad. You might have done good work and those twenty years have not been wasted."

THIS speech made Friday feel much better and he left the field, his face wreathed in smiles, but promised faithfully to return.

Friday Came Back

THE ball game was about to start when Friday came back. He had washed his face, looked ready-made, necktie and all was all dolled up.

"Looka here, Johnny," he said confidentially to Evers, "I want you to do something for me. These guys here don't know how good I am and I want to show them up. I want you to take this," and he dug into a trousers pocket and handed over a ten-dollar bill.

"What's it for?" asked Evers. "To buy the game or something?" "No," said Friday, "I just give it to the umpire."

Evers was puzzled. "Bribe the umpire?" he asked. "Naw," said Friday, "just give it to him, and in the fourth inning have him call me to the home plate, make a speech and present it to me. That's all. Just a present from myself to myself and nobody knows about it but us."

Evers called the umpire, handed him the ten and his ups placed it carefully in his vest pocket. Then the umpire, in order to make himself as inconspicuous as possible, paraded up and down in front of the grand stand. Nobody saw him except the audience and he soon became a landmark. His baggy trousers, worn at half mast, the bright shining face and the new necktie furnished what might be called local color.

At the start of the fourth inning the umpire took off his mask, looked around and batted the parade. Beckoning to Friday he yelled politely: "Hey, you! Come here!"

"Who, me?" inquired Friday innocently. "Do you mean me?" "Yes, you," replied the umpire. "Ain't these some mistakes?" asked the groundkeeper, blushing becomingly.

"Sincerely you don't mean me?" "Come over and quit your kidding," retorted the monarch of all he surveyed, and Friday, hat in hand, walked to the home plate. He was all set to hear his praises sung and retire gracefully amid the plaudits of the multitude.

"Here, take this," cried the umpire as he handed him a bill. "Now beat it and let the game go on!"

Shortly afterward Evers received a visitor on the playing bench. It was Friday, and he had a desperate look in his eyes.

"Say, Johnny," he shouted, "remember what I gave you at the start of the game?"

"Yes," replied Johnny, "it was a ten-spot. As why do you ask?" "Look what I got back," mourned Friday, as he showed a one-dollar bill.

"Get out of here!" yelled Johnny excitedly. "Don't try to work that old jim-dam on me." And Friday made a hasty exit.

WHEN Evers was leaving the park Friday met him at the gate. His face was as white as a sheet.

"My mistake," he said indignantly, "that one-dollar bill was wrapped up in the ten and the umpire gave it to me without knowing it. Haw, HAW!"

Athletes Run Nearly a Mile on Hits

SO MANY bizarre things occurred in that weird and ghastly baseball game up at the Phils' park yesterday that only a few of the most prominent can be selected for meditating purposes.

By the last half of the 19th inning the Phils were leading the Giants by a total of thirty base hits. And there were nine two-base hits, one triple and two home runs by Wrightstone and Cy Williams, making an extra base total of seventeen and a total base slugging figure of forty-seven.

Hitting the ball for a total of forty-eight bases is a big act for any two ball clubs in an afternoon, but isn't any worse than having to run out those base hits. There are many facts between bats, so that the batters running out their hits yesterday covered 4297 feet of territory, which reduced 1440 yards, just 220 yards short of a mile. Just stop, look, listen and consider. Batters running ahead a mile in one game on base hits alone!

So much for being acquainted with Al Muro Almas.

Next we have with us one Charley Field, third-bagger de luxe if we judge him by yesterday's performance. Charley was out for times, and all he did was to get a single and three doubles. Not a bad afternoon's work for a veteran hitting in seventh place on the club. Four of Charley's club brethren slammed out three hits each, and over as a rule seem, Flack, the Cubs' lead-off artist, was the only member of his tribe who did not register a safe smack during the P. M.

IF THE Phils' game had any redeeming feature yesterday it was the hitting of Cy Williams, who poked out a home run and two singles in four trips up. Cy had just been dropped, too, from the batting order in an effort to give him a shift often helps.

WANT LOCALS IN SCHOLASTIC GOLF

Philadelphia Lads Urged to Enter Eastern Tourney at Merion

By SANDY MENIBLICK

An unusually large entry is expected for the Eastern Interscholastic golf championships to be held on May 23, 24 and 25, over the east course here at Merion. A special effort is being made for the inclusion of local schools.

The Eastern Interscholastic Golf Association, which has a membership of 100 schools from New England and Middle Atlantic States, it was formed to promote golf among school boys, principally through holding its annual championships. It is hoped that a large number of local schoolboys will enter this tourney in competition with the scholastic talent elsewhere and to play over the fine course at Merion.

Max Marston is the local representative of the committee. The team which for the school championship is determined by the medal scores of the four players nominated to represent a school, Penn Charter, Episcopal and others should be able to muster strong quartets.

On Monday a qualifying round is played which decides the team championship. The team which has the lowest score qualifies for the individual championship. Therefore any number of boys may play from one school in the qualifying round, but the lowest scores qualify for match play the next two days. There are medals and cups to the winners.

How to enter

Any boy in local public or preparatory schools, who has attended the school since the beginning of the year, may enter the tourney by sending his name to Murray P. Brush, Jr., Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Md., before Saturday, May 22, or by appearing at Merion before 10:30 Monday morning.

Philadelphia should make a good showing in this tourney and the youngsters hereabouts will send in their names without delay. Henry G. Davis, 63, of the local club, is chairman of the Hill School, also on the team championship last year.

Bucks County Country Club, at Langhorne, is on its way to a big golf year. The schedule is just out. A dinner match and the qualifying round for the President's Cup games will be played Saturday, Saturday the Langhorne golfers tackle Bala, at Bala, and team matches will be rather a feature there.

Pen's team will be played a week from Saturday. Later Bucks County will play Lawrenceville School, Plymouth, Torredale and a return match with Bala at Langhorne.

The Bucks County team plans to create a new record in the Philadelphia area. Charlie Williams, the Ridge brothers, Charlie Lovett and others will lead the team.

The complete schedule:

May 14, Bala Bucks Club, at Bala; 15, Suburban Cup match, at North, 16, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, Suburban Cup match, at Frankford; 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, Memorial Day handicap, 2 P. M.; June 1, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 2, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 3, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 4, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 5, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 6, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 7, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 8, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 9, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 10, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 11, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 12, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 13, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 14, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 15, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 16, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 17, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 18, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 19, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 20, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 21, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 22, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 23, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 24, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 25, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 26, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 27, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 28, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 29, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 30, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.; 31, Suburban Cup match, at Madison County, 2 P. M.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

THE DAYS OF REAL SPORT

HOUCHEY

G. CARPENTIER'S BIG MONEY-GETTER

French Idol Has Accumulated $200,000 Since Signing of the Armistice

HAS HAD 5 K. O.'S IN ROW

There is no doubt that Georges Carpentier is a great money-getter. It hasn't taken the French idol long to recoup some of his losses because of the war. In about two years the July 22 opponent of Champion Jack Dempsey has raked in something like $200,000 and he still is going strong, for his bout with the heavyweight title-holder will bring the Frenchman a small fortune.

Carpentier emerged from the war virtually ruined financially. He was not only penniless, according to reports, but also was in debt to the amount of several thousand dollars. All of Georges' mining property in Lievin, the town of his birth and just outside of Lens, was destroyed during the European turmoil. While in the service Carpentier parted with what savings he had in expenditures for his mother and family.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

Shortly after the Armistice was signed Carpentier knocked out Dick Smith in eight rounds, and his share of the purse for this bout about $200,000. Then came that one-round knockout victory over Joe Beckett in London, and from that time Georges has earned, or about $200,000.

Besides Smith and Beckett, Carpentier has scored three other knockouts in a total of five matches since the Armistice. In other words, Georges has put his opponents to sleep an average of 1,000. Bink Mack, of London, and Frank Brown, of London, were felled for the count of ten.

Most of Carpentier's new fortune has been made through his attraction in the boxing ring. He has been a boxing champion since 1914, and has won the French title and the European title. He has also won the world title in 1914, and has been a world champion since then.

What May Happen In Baseball Today

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Club	Won	Lost	P.C.	Who	Loss
Pittsburgh	10	7	.788	139
Washington	10	8	.558	122
Boston	10	8	.558	122
Chicago	11	9	.550	124
St. Louis	10	10	.500	120
Cincinnati	10	10	.500	120
Philadelphia	10	10	.500	120
St. Louis	10	10	.500	120

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Club	Won	Lost	P.C.	Who	Loss
Cleveland	10	7	.588	126
St. Louis	10	7	.588	126
Detroit	10	8	.558	122
Chicago	10	9	.526	120
New York	10	10	.500	120
St. Louis	10	10	.500	120
Chicago	10	10	.500	120

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Chicago, 10; Phillies, 6.
New York, 4; St. Louis, 1.
Boston, 7; Toronto, 0.
St. Louis, 11; Athletics, 0.
Detroit, 3; New York, 1.
Boston, 3; Chicago, 2.

SCHEDULE FOR TODAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at New York.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
Boston at Chicago.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Athletics at St. Louis.
Detroit at New York.
Boston at Detroit.
Chicago at Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Baltimore, 6; Toronto, 4.
Buffalo, 10; St. Louis, 9.
New York, 11; Boston, 10.
St. Louis, 10; Philadelphia, 6.
Chicago, 10; Philadelphia, 6.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Reading at Syracuse.
New York at Rochester.
Detroit at Detroit.
Boston at Boston.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

Club	Won	Lost	P.C.	Who	Loss
Baltimore	10	7	.588	126
Buffalo	10	7	.588	126
New York	10	8	.558	122
St. Louis	10	9	.526	120

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—Mr. McGillicuddy and his band of near tail-enders were all set today to give the Browns a facing this afternoon. Judging from the brand of ball they put up yesterday it wouldn't be surprising either to see them come through, for those men looked like the real stuff and it is the opinion here that as soon as the boys find themselves they will make some of the other more expensive casts. Their work made a big bit with the St. Louis fans yesterday when the home club had a tough battle beat to visitors one to nothing.

Roy Moore, Mack's star left-hander, hurled brilliant ball and allowed only three hits in five innings. He was regular, the other being scratches. But at that the Browns managed to put over a run in the second inning. Hits by Williams and Jacobson came successively, putting the former on third. The infield pulled back for a double play and made it. Williams being allowed to score without a play being made for him.

The Mackmen made only four hits of their own, but they were more than usually effective with men on the bases.

Bingles and Bungles

The best the Phils can now do is break even with the Cubs. The third game of the series is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. on Friday at the Polo Grounds. The A's are battling the Browns in St. Louis.

A'S MAKE BIG HIT WITH ST. LOUIS FANS

Moore Holds Browns to Three Hits, Yet Mackmen Lose

Game, 1 to 0

SHOCKER IN GOOD FORM

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—Mr. McGillicuddy and his band of near tail-enders were all set today to give the Browns a facing this afternoon. Judging from the brand of ball they put up yesterday it wouldn't be surprising either to see them come through, for those men looked like the real stuff and it is the opinion here that as soon as the boys find themselves they will make some of the other more expensive casts. Their work made a big bit with the St. Louis fans yesterday when the home club had a tough battle beat to visitors one to nothing.

Roy Moore, Mack's star left-hander, hurled brilliant ball and allowed only three hits in five innings. He was regular, the other being scratches. But at that the Browns managed to put over a run in the second inning. Hits by Williams and Jacobson came successively, putting the former on third. The infield pulled back for a double play and made it. Williams being allowed to score without a play being made for him.

The Mackmen made only four hits of their own, but they were more than usually effective with men on the bases.

Del Pratt Day Next Thursday

Del Pratt Day, at Next Thursday will be the University of Michigan basketball team's first game. The team has been named for the former Wolverine coach when he comes here with the Boston Red Sox.

Women in Track Meet

Cambridge, May 12.—Women will compete in a track and field meet at the University of Michigan on Saturday, May 14. The meet will be the first of the season for the new National Young Women's Christian Association champions.

There's something about them you'll like

Herbert Tareyton London Cigarettes

Get in the Swim

Men's and women's Expert model swimming suits

Worsted $2.50 1-piece suit

Marshall E. Smith & Bro. 724 Chestnut Street

TRAYLOR

Wells Hats Wear Well

Geo. B.