ETHEL HUBB BAILEY, YOUNG DIVORCEE, IS HURT IN TAXI CRASH

Banker's Daughter, Former Wife of Ex-Senator's Son, Has Fractured Skull

ROMANTIC WAR MARRIAGE WAS SHATTERED BY TIME

Mrs. Ethel Hubb Bailey, youthful divorcee and daughter of George A. Hubb, the banker, of 1706 Locust street, was hurt critically today when her taxicab was wrecked by a trolley car at Nineteenth and Jefferson streets. Her skull is fractured and she has concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Bailey, who is twenty-two years old, obtained a divorce recently in this city from Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., a son of Joseph W. Bailey, former United States Senator from Texas.

The young society woman, who was going to North Philadelphia Station, was found unconscious on the floor of the wrecked cab after a trolley car, eastbound on Jefferson street, had hurled the machine to the sidewalk.

Arm Severely Cut

She was taken to the Lankenau Hospital, where an arm had a deep gash, a neck made by shattered ribs. After a preliminary examination physicians believed she might have internal injuries.

Mrs. Bailey was riding north on Nineteenth street, in a taxicab driven by a chauffeur named Becker. As the machine started rapidly across Jefferson street it was struck near the hood by the trolley car and thrown to the sidewalk on the southeast corner.

All the glass in the cab was broken and a pile of the fragments was found on the floor of the machine. The door and berths on one side were torn away. Patrolman McGarvey, of the Twentieth and Berks streets station, who heard the crash, found the chauffeur lying across one of the mudguards. One hand was cut severely.

Father Still Uninformed

The chauffeur was dazed and at first the patrolman thought he had been hurrying to answer a call. Then McGarvey glanced into the cab and saw Mrs. Bailey lying on the floor, her clothing blood-stained.

Mr. Hubb, the young woman's father, is in Washington. Employees at his banking house tried several times this morning to reach him so he could return at once. He was not due to return until Monday. The banker was devoted to Mrs. Bailey and his employees are confident that she will recover.

Marriage War Romance

When Mrs. Bailey's identity had been established at the hospital word was telephoned to her father, Mr. Hubb. Mrs. Bailey's maid left at once with fresh clothing for her.

The young woman's marriage was a wartime romance and attracted society in this city and New York. She was married May 23, 1918, on her nineteenth birthday, at her father's home by the Rev. John Thompson, of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

As Ethel Hubb the young woman promised to wed Mr. Bailey a short time after they met for the first time. The engagement was announced about three weeks ago, and the wedding was scheduled for June of 1918.

Mr. Bailey, a lawyer by profession, had a commission in the army. When it became evident he would be ordered overseas the wedding plans were changed hastily. The young couple had a honeymoon in Europe, and Mrs. Bailey was to have a honeymoon in Europe with her father's friends.

Active In War Work

The lieutenant's bride accompanied him to the embarkation camp and there was a tearful parting. When he sailed Mrs. Bailey went to his home and flung into war work. When the young husband returned it soon was evident that their devotion to each other was unshaken.

Society next hearing that the couple had separated, Mrs. Bailey later accompanied her father on extended trips to Europe, China, and other resorts. Rumors of divorce proceedings were current and they were verified on January 30 of this year, when Mrs. Bailey filed her suit for divorce in the Court of Common Pleas here.

DIVORCEE INJURED IN CRASH

The portrait is of Mrs. Ethel Hubb Bailey, daughter of George A. Hubb, Philadelphia banker, and divorced wife of Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., son of the former Senator from Texas. She was severely injured today when a trolley car hit her taxicab at Nineteenth and Jefferson streets. The wrecked taxicab is shown below.

'DAY OFF' A WEEK SAYS SERGT. O'HARE

NEW PRISON PLAN HINTED AT SUICIDE

Policy Applies to Well-Behaved First Offenders Sent to House of Correction

One day off a week for "first-offense" prisoners whose conduct warrants it is part of a new plan to be established at the House of Correction.

First offenders convicted of misdemeanors will be sentenced for a year, during which time they will be assigned to work for the city. It is predicted that this plan will benefit the men morally and physically, and also save the city many thousands of dollars annually.

The new policy was conceived by Director of Public Welfare Tustin.

Passage by the Legislature of the Edmonds bill authorizing judges of Philadelphia Courts to sentence for one period to the House of Correction for first offenders convicted of misdemeanors opened the way for the proposed constructive program.

Prisoners will not be permitted to interfere in any way with the new plan, as it is provided in the act that no such prisoner can be released except by order of the judge who committed him.

Director Tustin, in explaining the new policy today, said he planned to get a good working force. When two or three hundred men are available they will be assigned to work which will directly benefit the city. Some will be sent to work removing stones in the quarries, others will be assigned to cut sloping in the city works and others will do the repairs required on the buildings from time to time.

The first offenders will also have separate quarters in order that there will be no opportunity to become demoralized through contact with older criminals.

DR. HILL DECLINES

Won't Be Ambassador to Japan. May Eventually Go to Germany

Washington, May 13.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Theobald H. Hill, of New York, is understood to have definitely declined to be considered for Ambassador to Japan, and it is believed that his foremost desire is to go to Germany under diplomatic relations with that country are resumed.

Dr. Hill, a former Ambassador to Berlin, called at the White House today and discussed foreign affairs with President Harding preparatory to an extended visit to Europe. It is understood that during the trip he will make inquiries regarding conditions, particularly in Germany, where he has a wide acquaintance, and that although the State Department will be given the benefit of his observations.

Until today the general impression here has been that Dr. Hill would take the ambassadorship to Tokio. He expects to sail for Europe within two weeks.

Fireman Injured, Two Overcome in Fifteenth and Market Streets Blaze

Four firemen were injured and two were overcome by ammonia fumes today in fighting a fire in Thommen's Restaurant, Market street between Fifteenth and Market streets, which was extinguished in which it was necessary for the firemen to put on gas masks to get at the flames.

The fire at its height involved five houses on South Mole street, at the rear of the restaurant, 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9. The occupants of all five were aided to the street by firemen, who helped them remove their household goods from the sweep of the flames. A steady light rain added to the discomfort of the victims of the fire.

A steady light rain added to the discomfort of the victims of the fire.

Ammonia Pipes Burst

At the rear of the restaurant is a large tank of ammonia, used in the refrigerating system. Fumes from burst pipes spread quickly throughout the place. When the firemen dashed in with their lines and hoses, and high-pressure hose, they were driven back by the rush of ammonia gas, which set them to gasping and sneezing.

The men were ready for this emergency, however, and though they were forced to give ground at first, returned to the fight in a few minutes with gas masks adjusted. In spite of the gas masks two of the firemen, McNally and Sherry, who had been in the lead, fell in the thick fumes and smoke, and their comrades carried them to the street, where they were revived by ambulance surgeons.

Waiting for Federal Troops

News that Governor Morgan of West Virginia, had called on President Harding for Federal troops, and that a similar request had been made by Governor Morrow, of Kentucky, was hailed with relief by the State police, co-operation of the State officials and residents of the embattled towns.

The combined force of State police and deputies available to cover the twenty miles of rugged mountainous country where industrial hostilities have centered for a year, is scarcely more than sixty men. Of this number it is necessary to maintain reserves on credit and confidence that can be called upon at a moment's notice.

Will Succeed General March on July 1. With Harbord as Assistant—To Lead Armies in Case of War

By the Associated Press

Washington, May 13.—Selection of General John J. Pershing to be chief of staff of the army was announced today by Secretary Weeks.

General Pershing will direct training details heretofore assigned to the head of the field staff, and in process of organization, and General Harbord would take charge of the War Department General Staff and be entirely familiar with all the duties of the post, having performed them in time of peace.

General Harbord, as assistant chief of staff, will take over all of the administrative details heretofore handled by the chief of staff, Mr. Weeks announced, leaving General Pershing free to direct the organization and training of the army of the United States as a whole, including the National Guard and the organized reserves.

SCIENTISTS CLASH ON PEACE TREATY

Hamilton Holt, N. Y. Editor, Asails "Bitter-Enders" in Senate at Meeting Here

HARDING IS CHALLENGED

Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, New York, drew hot fire from Samuel McCormick, Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, with his arraignment of the Republican "bitter-enders" at the opening session this morning of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Mr. Holt assailed the partisan provincialism of those who oppose American's going into the League of Nations. Chancellor McCormick, who is registered as representing the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, as well as the University, declared that "the majority of those members of the Senate who opposed entering the European organization were just as lofty and patriotic as those who advocated it."

Alarmed at Situation

"I am alarmed," an frightened that unless some confidence is restored to the world the consequences may be of the most terrible character, because the whole industrial world is so built up on credit and confidence that one that is shaken I do not see how it can be rebuilt. It, therefore, is essential in the interests of the nation that whatever Federal aid and accommodations, whether we like this or not, or whether the other, we should recognize that justice has nothing to do with likes or dislikes, and that we must decide fairly and sternly according to the fact we ourselves have signed."

POLES DENOUNCED BY LLOYD GEORGE

Action of Insurrectionists in Silesia Defies Versailles Treaty, Premier Declares

By the Associated Press

London, May 13.—Prime Minister Lloyd George, in a dramatic speech in the House of Commons today concerning the Upper Silesian imbroglio, characterized the action of the Polish insurrectionists as a complete defiance of the Treaty of Versailles.

"I think it is right I should speak quite plainly," Mr. Lloyd George declared, "because if these things can happen and we take no notice and do not deal with them with that stern justice which has characterized the attitude of this country in all its dealings abroad, it is going to be fatal to the peace of Europe. If that is disturbed I do not see what is going to happen to Europe."

Alarmed at Situation

"I am alarmed," an frightened that unless some confidence is restored to the world the consequences may be of the most terrible character, because the whole industrial world is so built up on credit and confidence that one that is shaken I do not see how it can be rebuilt. Treaty Charter of Freedom

Mr. Lloyd George declared the Treaty of Versailles is the charter of Polish freedom, and that she was the last country of Europe who had the right to complain about the treaty. Poland did not win her liberty, the Prime Minister asserted. Her liberty was due to Italy, Great Britain and France.

"There is not a better or a truer country that does not mean a young British Empire that does not mean nearly two French millions in response to demands from the shippers."
