

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of Clothes and Fetes and Various Other Matters—She Makes a Plea for Chaperones at the Parties

DON'T you wonder what on earth is the matter with the weather? The sun comes out and you say, Hurray! it's cleared up! And you put on your silk frock and your best new hat with the ostrich umbrella home in the car, leaving a friend to take you to the door of the closet, far from the madding crowd. And lo and behold! suddenly the skies cloud over and you pour brother rain in a most unpleasant manner. To be sure, it really has cleared a bit more of late, but as the old farmer said, "It's still darn unsteady."

Youngsters among themselves call it a "petting party." I have heard of these petting parties from four different sources of late, so you know it's not a remote case I speak of. So when the older women are asked to be chaperones let us hope they will do it. Be jolly with the boys and girls, let them have all the fun and nonsense that they want, but let's keep them from being so common.

NANCY WYNNE.

AND while on the subject of clothes, I have you heard that out at the June Fete in Abington (and, by the way, it's to be called that hereafter) the girls who are going to have a model gown which has been voted upon as coming up to the proper moral standards, which depicts the essential qualities, which are charm and style? Elizabeth Sewell, the Bob Sewells' daughter, is to wear it. And if she begins to look as well as her mother, I'm here to state that every one of us will want a model gown. I went home last year from the June Fete and made me a frock just like the one Mrs. Sewell was wearing, and it was admired.

THE June Fete is for the Abington Hospital, and all the women out of that part of the country work like everything to make it a phenomenon to which it usually is.

I HAVE been thinking quite a lot of things I have heard recently and wondering if by next season we really cannot go back to the days of chaperones. To be sure it seems a pity that we older ones should think it necessary, and there are lots and lots of boys and girls who are going to the country clubs in auto with seven or eight boys and girls. One of the boys suggested that they ride and they all consented. They went gaily out along the roads and at various spots different two would get off to walk along alone. When all but this girl and the boy with her, and the boy and girl who were in the front seat had alighted, the others would stop for her to get out. She refused, for by this time through the conversation she had discovered that it was a regular thing for these youngsters to do this way and another would not even engage or even thinking of it, just silly thoughtless boys and girls! The girls letting themselves be kissed and made love to, and thinking nothing of it.
