Letters to the Editor

A Word of Thanks Whe Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Bir—The Philadelphia newspapers were more than kind to us in giving such the reoris of the death of the Rev. Dr. William sayton Roberts, of the Temple Presbyterian tharch. So in lehalf of the congregation we desire to acknowledge our thanks and parectation to the Evening Printe Larging,
M. F. DITTMANN, Clerk of the Session.

An Old Man's Predicament An Old Man's Predicament
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir-I am an old man who is still compelled to work to earn a living, and yet I am about at the end of my being able to do so through the very poer car service that the Falladelphia Rapid Transit Co. Is siving us. I live one-half hour's ride from the place I am employed. I don't need to start much before 8:20, and there was a time when the transit company was honest with the people and I was able eight out of ten times to secure a seat, but now, since so many cars are eliminated. I must always stand, and the consequence is that when I reach my place of employment I am so exhausted that it unfix me for my work.

This may seem very ridiculous to a reader.

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir-Isn't this Bergdoli mess becoming rather nauseating? It seems to me that these people have been receiving guite too much consideration both at the hands of the Government and at the hands of the naways sers.

of the Government and at the same of the Government and at the same into fall and kept there until they have been severely purished for the trouble they have given the Government. Grover Claveland Bergdoil has proved himself an ignorant coward in more ways than one, and instead of trying to find him and bring him back the Government should be giad they are rid him and should be giad they are rid him and should confiscate all the property that remains here belonging to him to pay the expenses to which he has placed the Government and the city authorities.

But, at any rate, it is my opinion that these notoricty scakers are being afforded ontirely too much pleasure by seeing their names in print in long articles daily, in which their escapades are related and their insults to the country in which they made their money, magnified through asnastion.

Tell the Truth Always

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Bir-"Mrs. W. S. W." wishes to know if a wife should have the same privilege as a husband in knowing his various movements, friends, etc. This seems only fair, on the face of it, but when you look into the matter it seems that there is something

the matter it seems that there is something fundamentally wrons.

Some people never seem to grasp the truth that to have a felend you must be one. If your husband is narrow-minded, you will never help him to be broad and generous by meeting him on the same level; to use "Mrs. W. S. W.'s" expression, by retaliating. You must set the example of big hearten-

There is some subtle transference of feeling or thought which makes us sense out our triends and those with whom we are en rapport. You will never bring about a serene, happy condition in married life while you hold unfriendly thoughts.

Be brave enough to face the truth and tell the truth to a person who has offended will respect you for it. They will respect you for it.

Would Help Addicts

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—According to official reports there are 1.500,000 drug addicts in the United States. As it seems to be correctly reported that Engiand shipped 560,000 pounds of optium into the United States during 1919.

I want to ask some one in authority to take up the matter. Why permit a foreign country to ship poison here to destroy our native to ship poison to ship poison to ship poison tor tion? There are human wrecks enough from all walks of life right in this city, all from drugs, and no place to care for them or cure them. I know what I am talking about, having been an addlet myself.

I am intensely interested in this particu-

I am intensely interested in this particular class of people, and I come in contact with many sad cases. I really believe that if the people of this city only resilized tour crying need of a place where these poor addicts could so and get cured, they would come to the front and establish such a place. Will you do it?

Savings Fund Interest

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger; Bir—In connection with "I. S. C.'s" ar-ticle on savings fund in your issue of May 15, 1921. I might add that the argument to pay interest semi-annually is a good one. They have large sums invested, and the interest on such investments are paid every six months, so the depositors should nave the same fair treatment. Many plans are now being devised throughout the United States and Europe in the establishment of more navings places. Many banks have started up here in Philadelphia in the last five years, with their doors open almost all day and night to receive deposits from the wagefund banks be wise and give their depositor Many things in finance today are not what they should be, and methods used thirty or forty years ago don't work out so well today, when the artisan and wage-carner is awake to all that is going on around him. Questions Answered

First Armed Vessel to Leave Here To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir-Which was the first armed merchant versel to leave for Europe after the United States entered the war?
HENRY T. FLEMING.

Philadelphia, May 12, 1921.
The first arined merchaniman to sail for the danger zone was the Manchurla, sailing from New York. Her battery consisted of one 6-inch, 45-caliber gun and two 8-inch, 50-caliber guns.

Our Oldest Military Organization To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir-What is the oldest military organization in the United States?

Philadelphia, May 12, 1921.
The First Corps of Cadets of Boston claims the honor of being the oldest military organization in the United States. It was organized in 1728.

The "What Number" Problem To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger. Sir—In today's People's Forum 'J. M.

P. asks, "What number is that which when subtracted from 3 gives the same result as when divided by 3?" Let us see if the two can find it:

"That Little Thatched Cabin"
To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—Would you kindly oblise me by publishing the words of the songs entitled "Paddy's Green Irish Shore' and "The Little Thatched Cabin," the chorus of the latter being:
"I care not wherever in life I may wander.
I never can find it in palace or hall:
A place half so dear to my heart as my home was:
That little thatched cabin was the best home of all."
